Three Killed as Brother Rushes To Aid Brother

Auto Bearing Men to Aid Mine Accident Victim Plunges Over Cliff Between Princeton and Blakeburn—Injured and Dead Removed From Bank on Ropes—Two in Hospital

PRINCETON, Oct. 25. — Four Blakeburn miners were killed in two separate accidents, Monday, one in a fall of rock at the Blakeburn colliery and the other three in an automobile crash when on the way to the scene of the mine tragedy. Two others were injured in the automobile accident and are in hospital here. The accidents claimed two brothers among the victims. Victor Marochi, thirty, was struck by a fall or rock in a mine tunnel, receiving internal injuries which resulted in his death today. His brother, Rudolph, thirty-five, was killed yesterday as he was speeding to the mine in hope he could be of assistance.

The others killed in the automobile accident were Stephen Chapron, thirty-eight, and Charles Cornfield, twenty-six. John Popevich received a fractured collar bone and back injuries, and Louis Liberatore is suffering from shock and minor injuries.

PLUNGED DOWN BANK

Cornfield was driving the car carrying Rudolph Marochi and other friends to the colliery. About three and one-half miles from here the car left the Coalmont Road and plunged down a four-hundred-foot bank. A thick fog, after several days of rain and snow, is said to have obscured the driver's vision and caused the accident.

Cornfield and Marochi were killed instantly and Chapron died in hospital here early today.

Occupants of a ranch house on the flat at the bottom of the bank heard the crash and hurriedly started rescue work.

HAULED UP BY ROPES

Liberatore, Chapron and Marochi were nearer to the bottom of the bank than the top and were more easily reached. The others were about half-way down and were hauled up to the road by ropes. The living and the bodies of the dead were brought here, the first three by special train and the latter two by car.

Rudolph Marochi is survived by his widow and two children.

Popevich is a widower with five children.

REGRETS EXPRESSED

Keen regret was voiced by officials of the Provincial Department of Mines yesterday at the multiple accidents which took the lives of two brothers and two other miners, their friends. According to telegraphic report made by Inspector J. G. Biggs, at Princeton, to the Government yesterday, Victor Marochi was caught in a cave-in while working at the face of a coal seam on Monday. He died in Princeton hospital during the night.

Victor Marochi's brother, Rudolph Marochi, notified of the cave-in at Coalmont, was hurrying with four other miners by car from Blakeburn, when their car left the road at Petersen's Hill, with results that proved fatal for three of the five occupants of the car, and injured the remaining passengers.

Critically Burned In Braving Flames To Save Her Child

CARDSTON, Alta., Oct. 25 (CP). — Undaunted by flames and smoke, Mrs. Earl Peterson rushed into her flaming apartment here yesterday and saved the life of her child. Mrs. Peterson suffered critical burns as a result of her heroic act but the infant was uninjured.

The fire started from gasoline, used in cleaning clothes, but it was extinguished before spreading to other sections of the apartment block.

LOCK UP STAFF IN BANK VAULT

Three Bandits Make Six Prisoners and Lift Ready Cash

MONTREAL, Oct. 25 (CP).—A swiftly executed holdup today secured for three unmasked men the sum of $12,000 in cash and bonds valued at $1,500 when they swooped down on a branch of La Banque Canadienne Nationale, Cherrier Street, locked the manager and five employees in the vault, scooped up the money and escaped.

Detectives armed with descriptions of the trio tonight were scouring the city in an effort to arrest the men, who had about an hour's start before the robbery was reported to the police. It took the bank staff that long to release themselves from the vault.

GAVE THE SIGNAL

Only the staff was in the bank when a man entered, walked over to the teller and presented a cheque. He glanced about, saw there were no customers and made an unobtrusive motion to his companions outside. They entered.

One drew a sawed-off shotgun from under his topcoat and commanded the staff to put their hands up and keep quiet.

The staff was then herded into the strong box, the door of which was locked. All the money in the teller's till and two bonds of the city of Three Rivers were picked up.

Using a 25c piece as a screw driver, the manager, L. M. Diorme, succeeded in removing the screws from the back of the vault door, thus undoing the combination and releasing the prisoners.

QUESNEL MILL BURNED

QUESNEL, Oct. 25.—Fire of unknown origin early Sunday morning destroyed the sawmill of E. E. Gray, of Kersley, and several thousand feet of lumber on the loading platform on order for the Cariboo gold quarts mine at Barkerville. This is the second time in two years that Gray's mill has burned. No insurance was carried.

DROWNS IN WASH TUB

Mrs. E. Kruse Found Leaning Over Scrubbing Board by Fuel Man

Mrs. Elizabeth Kruse, aged thirty-five, of 1144 Yates Street, met her death at the family washtub yesterday while doing the week's washing, a task she usually performed on Monday, but which she apparently had postponed until Tuesday owing to the rainy weather.

According to the police report, Mrs. Kruse was found by a fuel dealer at dinner hour with her face submerged in a tub of suds and clothing, apparently the victim of a fit.

The scrubbing board was still tilted against the edge of the galvanized iron tub, which had been placed on two chairs, drawn closely together. To one side had been piled washing that had been finished and awaited rinsing in clean water, while on the sink was a pile of white clothes waiting to be blued.

HAD COLLAPSE

Mrs. Kruse, while scrubbing the laundry apparently fell into a fit and collapsed over the tub. Her face was covered to the ears in water when discovered by Thomas Kellington, of 1118 Yates Street. The water was cold, giving rise to the belief that the woman had been dead for some hours.

The discovery was made when Mr. Kellington called to deliver wood. When he obtained no response to his raps on the door, he peered into one of the back windows and saw Mrs. Kruse leaning over the tub with her face in the water. He hastily summoned the police, who notified Coroner Dr. E. C. Hart, who ordered the body removed to Sands Funeral Parlor.

BARRELS OF CIDER EXTINGUISH FIRE

GRAZ, Austria, Oct. 25 (AP). — Firemen were not balked when they rushed to a blazing inn at Dornleiten and found all the wells dry. They found many barrels of cider in the barn and saved the inn by pouring it on the flames. The innkeeper didn't know whether to smile or cry.

FLOGGING BAND REMAINS ACTIVE

Authorities in Florida Still Searching, and Members of Gang Still Whipping

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 25.—(AP).—With three additional reports today of floggings, authorities pushed their search for members of a whipping band reputed to have beaten at least nineteen persons here recently.

Officers said they believed the floggers are members of one gang, "self-appointed guardians of the public morals."

When the first reports came in from two women who were beaten last Tuesday night by a mob of eight men, no previous reports had been received by the police.

To date, records in the police department and the sheriff's office showed nineteen persons had fallen victim to the lash, including five white women.

One of the men who reported today told police he was beaten so badly he had to lie on his face for a week

Defeats Former Followers

RT. Hon. Ramsay MacDonald and his Nationalist Government last night defeated the Labor party's motion to censure on the ground of failure to alleviate the unemployment situation by a majority of 407. Labor Motion of Censure Fails to Win Many Votes

Defeated in British House of Commons by 462 to 55—Similar Fate Predicted for Resolution, to Be Presented Today, to Reject Ottawa Agreements

LONDON, Oct. 25 (CP).—The Labor party's motion of censure against the National Government on the ground that it had failed to alleviate the unemployment situation was defeated tonight in the House of Commons by a majority of 407. The vote was 462 to 55.

Immediately after adjournment of the House the Laborites decided to move rejection of the Government Ottawa Agreements Bill, which would give effect to trade agreements concluded between the United Kingdom and the Dominions.

TODAY'S RESOLUTION

Its draft of a resolution which will be presented tomorrow read:

"That this house declines assent to second reading of a bill which continues a policy of tariff preference, further increases the excessive burden of indirect taxation, and, even if it succeeds in diverting trade into fresh channels, will do nothing to solve the problem of rising unemployment common to free trade and tariff countries which is a social problem relating to the constitution of society itself, and incapable of solution either by a policy of tariffs or free trade."

Government circles showed little concern at the prospect of a Labor attempt to secure rejection of the agreements bill and prophesied it would share a fate very much like that of tonight's motion of censure.

BIG GUNS BOOM

Big guns boomed in the historic House throughout the afternoon and evening as the Labor motion of censure was debated.

ATLIN AFFRAY ENDS FATALLY

Companions Say Man Fired on Them and Then Ended His Own Life

Headquarters of the Provincial Police yesterday said an immediate investigation would be held into circumstances surrounding the death of Carl Tebeck, of Atlin, who, according to companions, is alleged to have opened fire with a revolver on five men closeted with him in a cabin in the northern town, and to have later turned the gun on himself, with fatal effect.

By wireless relayed from Prince Rupert, officers of the force were informed that Tebeck and five men had been gathered in Tebeck's cabin Monday. Tebeck is said to have excused himself with the purpose of getting some pictures out of his grip. His companions say he returned with a revolver and opened fire on the five other men in the room. Four shots were fired, none apparently taking effect.

Tebeck is said to have then turned the six-shooter on himself, sending one bullet into his own breast, and another through his head, dying almost instantly. This, at least, is the account given to the police at the scene by some of the men who say they were in the room.

The Atlin post of the Provincial Police is at work on the case, and will be joined by Sergeant MacBrayne from the C.I.D. branch here. Inquest may be delayed pending further investigation.

Airman on Patrol Has Close Call

NANAIMO, Oct. 25.—Pilot A. C. Upham, of the fishery patrol seaplane stationed here, returned to the city by stage last evening, from Comox, after being forced to leave his plane in charge of Mechanic H. McDonald, there, for repairs.

Leaving here yesterday the two airmen, on a patrol flight, while flying over Comox, were forced down when the head of one of the cylinders blew off, killing the engine. Luckily the plane was flying at a high altitude, which enabled Upham to make a safe landing.

Passed Up Real Stone for Glass

SASKATOON, Oct. 25.—A few days ago a local woman bought a "sparkler" in a local five-and-ten-cent store to match the real diamond ring hubby had given her in the days of veranda sessions and father's cigars. Inadvertently she left the real stone in a tray of fifteen-cent diamonds and rubies. Today she discovered her mistake. The lost ring was discovered, sifted to the bottom of the tray by curious hands seeking the best "sparkler."

LONE BANDIT ROBS STORE IN DAYTIME

BEAUFIELD, Sask., Oct. 25.—With a group of frightened children huddled in a corner, a lone bandit took $900 from the safe in J. S. Gaylord's general store here on Monday afternoon after he had knocked the merchant and his wife out with the butt of a revolver. Gaylord had withdrawn the money from a bank as paying agent for an elevator company. Beaufield is near Dodsland, Sask.

Scottish Conservatives Not Favoring Home Rule

House of Commons Members Decide Separate Parliament Would Bring No Benefit—Will Not Support Sir Herbert Samuel

LONDON, Oct. 25 (CP).—Scottish Conservative members of the House of Commons decided tonight not to support any move for Home Rule in the northern half of the United Kingdom. At a meeting held under the chairmanship of Sir Robert Horne, a former Chancellor of the Exchequer, they reached the conclusion no benefit could be obtained by setting up a Scottish Parliament.

Home Rule for Scotland was first lent support by a Parliamentary party a few weeks ago, when the Free Trade Liberal group, led by Sir Herbert Samuel, reached unanimous decision to support such a move. For many years a political group known as the Scottish Nationalist party has sought support for a separate Parliament for Scotland. This group, however, despite repeated efforts, has never gained representation in the House of Commons.

Col. Bruce to Be Ontario Governor

TORONTO, Oct. 25 (CP). — Colonel Herbert Alexander Bruce, well-known Canadian physician and surgeon, will be appointed Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Ontario, it was learned on good authority by the Canadian Press. The office has been vacant since the retirement of Hon. W. E. Ross last year.

ACCORD NEAR IN RAIL DEAL

B.C. Cabinet Sets Out Express Requirements It Would Consider

While official confirmation was lacking, agents representing New York and other capital making overtures to the British Columbia Government as to the purchase of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, are believed to be nearing an accord with the Cabinet, after discussions extending over the past several months.

The Cabinet yesterday consulted law officers of the Crown, and is believed to have reached agreement on what the Government would require in any deal for the road. Premier Tolmie and other members of the ministry decline to discuss the matter at this stage.

It is recalled, however, that Premier Tolmie in a recent address in Victoria said it was possible a P.G.E. bill would be laid before the Legislature at its January sitting. At various times the Government has let it be known that it will not consider a guarantee in any form of the bonds of any concern that takes over the road, and will, on the contrary, require express assurances of due performance of contract to build and continue operation of the road.

DEFINITE AIMS

Extension of the line ultimately into the Peace River block is believed to be another basic requirement of any Provincial deal, with the object of securing an outlet for the rich Peace area to Coast points.

Recent discussions are believed to have turned on the principle of an outright purchase of the railway at a fair valuation, and also to have canvassed the question of a land grant in respect to certain sections of the road.

As a result of yesterday's conference, it is believed that the Government has set out what will be its definite requirements on any deal; the terms of which in the final analysis must be laid before the Provincial Legislature for approval.

Without confining the terms or even the basis of discussion, Premier Tolmie has said that these requirements will be such that any acceptance of them by a purchasing syndicate would constitute a deal the Government would have no hesitation in laying before the Legislature and the people of the province.

NO PENALTY FOR SLEEPING ON WALK

CHICAGO, Oct. 25 (AP).—As a sleeper, John Killian seems to be losing his reputation. Known as Chicago's champion sleeper because he has been found snoozing in such places as an undertaker's coffin, railroad tracks, and the scaffolding of a new building, he was arraigned for sleeping on a sidewalk.

"Such a place, such a place," said the judge. "It's much too prosaic. Case dismissed."

SAYS CONVICTS UNFAIRLY TRIED

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (CP).—The conclusion that Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings were tried unfairly when they were convicted of murder and that their prosecution included instances of "flagrant violations of the statutory law of California," is contained in what has come to be known as the "suppressed Mooney-Billings report of the Wickersham Commission."

It also is asserted no scientific attempt ever was made, either by the police or prosecution, to find the perpetrators of the crime for which Mooney and Billings are serving life terms of imprisonment.

The report was written by a committee attached to the section on lawless enforcement of law of the Wickersham Commission, appointed by the United States Government.

Says All Europe Will Go Fascist Within a Decade

MILAN, Italy, Oct. 25 (AP). —Premier Benito Mussolini predicted today that within a decade all Europe would go Fascist.

Before the end of the century, he told 500,000 persons gathered in Cathedral Square, Italy is destined once again to be the leader of civilization.

His speech was part of this week's programme in celebration of the completion of the first decade of the Fascist Government.

NEILL URGES RECIPROCITY

Comox-Alberni Member Suggests Tariff Agreements With U.S.

OTTAWA, Oct. 25 (CP).—Limited reciprocity with United States was advocated in the House of Commons today by A. W. Neill, Independent member from Comox-Alberni, British Columbia, lumber and fish were products, he said, that might form the nucleus of reciprocal tariff agreements between the two countries.

Canada has a potential lumber market in the United Kingdom of over 1,000,000,000 board feet, said George B. Nicholson, Conservative, East Algoma, who represented Canadian lumber men at the Ottawa Imperial Conference. "It would be three or five years before the Canadian trade accumulated sufficient stock to meet demands," he said, in stressing the value of the five-year term of the Canadian-United Kingdom treaty.

Government supporters pounded their desks in approbation when the Algoma member painted in rosy hues the future of the Canadian lumber trade and praised the British Government for agreeing to curb Russian importations.

A few minutes later Opposition members signified their agreement when the British Columbia Independent said the 10 per cent lumber preferences would be of no benefit to Canada because Scandinavian countries would undersell Canadians through their depreciated currency.

"Why not a little reciprocity with United States?" asked Mr. Neill.

RESIGNS FROM PARLEY GROUP

Sir Walter Layton Quits Preparatory Committee of Economic Conference

LONDON, Oct. 25 (AP).—Sir Walter Layton, noted economist and closely connected with the intellectual leadership of the Liberal party in Great Britain, announced his resignation today from the preparatory committee of the World Economic Conference, because of a "serious difference of opinion" between himself and the British Government.

He said he had differed with Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, on "what further action is required in order to restore reasonable freedom to the movement of international trade."

In a letter to Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, Sir Walter wrote: "The Government view is that the desired result can be obtained through individual negotiations with foreign countries within limits set by the Ottawa agreements and subject to strict insistence on our 'most favored nation' rights.

SEES UNIQUE OPPORTUNITY

"Judging from past experience, however, I fear the method of bilateral negotiation will make very little impression on the protectionist system of the world, as a whole, as it has grown up since the war. In my opinion the financial situation in which Great Britain finds herself at this moment, taken in conjunction with the immense importance of the British market to the whole world, gives us the unique opportunity—in collaboration with countries already on a low tariff basis and those to whom restoration of foreign trade is a vital necessity—to propound and press forward plans conceived on much bolder and broader lines."

BETTY GOW RETURNS

ENGLEWOOD, N.J., Oct. 25 (AP). —Betty Gow, nurse to the slain Lindbergh baby, returned from Great Britain today to the home of Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, where Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh are staying with their infant son.

Ends Convalescence at Nursing Home

RT. HON. WINSTON CHURCHILL
distinguished British statesman and former Chancellor of the Exchequer, is shown puffing at his beloved cigar as he left the nursing home in London where he had been convalescing from an attack of paratyphoid. Churchill is not greatly interested in politics these days, paying strict attention to his health.

NOW SEARCHING FOR TWO BOYS

Police of Two Nations Hunt for Son of Manitoban Minister

WINNIPEG, Oct. 25 (CP).—While the search for Ross McDiarmid, teen-aged son of Hon. J. S. McDiarmid, Provincial Minister of Mines, assumed international proportions tonight, word reached the authorities of the disappearance of a second boy.

Ross McDiarmid disappeared shortly after leaving home to attend art classes last Saturday. The trail of a boy answering his description has been followed to within three miles of Emerson, sixty miles south of here and on the international border. A second search party seeks Robert Cook, aged fifteen, missing from his home here for the past five days.

Search for young McDiarmid took an international turn with reports from four persons who gave lifts to a boy answering McDiarmid's description. This boy was given short rides from a point just outside Winnipeg to within six miles of Emerson.

In the belief that the two boys had crossed the border into the United States, immigration border patrols and state police in Minnesota and North Dakota have joined forces with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in an effort to locate them.

THREE HURT IN CRASH AT MOYIE

Car Plunges Off Road When Steering Gear Locks on Sharp Curve

MOYIE, Oct. 25. — Three men were injured at 1 a.m. today, three miles from here, when a car owned and driven by G. V. Cady, of Nelson, plunged off the road and overturned.

Cady suffered cuts and bruises; William A. Cranner, of Creston, suffered a fractured leg, and C. Moore, also of Creston, had both legs broken.

Cady was able to walk into Moyie and secured assistance from R. A. Smith; his son, Nelson, and B. J. Desaulniers. Cranner was taken to St. Eugene Hospital. Meanwhile, Moore was still imprisoned in the wrecked car. Garage men with chain and blocks were summoned and the top of the car had to be lifted off before Moore could be freed. He was then taken to Cranbrook hospital, accompanied by Dr. McKinnon, of Cranbrook.

The accident was caused by the steering gear locking on a sharp curve in the road.

Details Being Kept Closely Guarded Secret—Plan Drafted by Naval Ministry and Approved by Cabinet to Be Submitted to Geneva Conference in February

TOKIO, Oct. 25 (AP).—A new disarmament plan, distinctly Japanese and differing from the British and United States suggestions for naval reduction, is to be advanced by the Japanese representative when the Disarmament Conferece resumes next February at Geneva, it was learned today.

Its details are a closely guarded secret, and not even an idea of its general character was offered. A high official said, however, the plan will embrace all naval categories and will be sufficiently complete to stand alongside the proposals by Stanley Baldwin, of Great Britain, and President Hoover, of the United States.

APPROVED BY CABINET

The naval ministry already has drafted the plan and the Cabinet approved it today. Immediately afterward it was cabled to the Japanese delegation at Geneva.

On the basis of statements in the past by Japanese naval authorities, Japan would confine reductions to such vessels as are considered to be offensive warcraft. These include aircraft carriers and capital ships.

Partly because Japan is so deeply involved in Manchuria, the Government is represented as disinclined to agree to sweeping reductions in land armaments, and therefore the new proposals, it is understood, are confined to naval limitations.

FULLY EMPOWERED

Japan's representatives at Geneva are fully empowered, the Foreign Office said, to deal with the suggestions for an extension until next March of the present naval building holiday, and it is believed the delegation will accept without referring the matter back to Tokio.

TO GRANT NO WHEAT BONUS

Canada's Financial Position Will Not Permit Renewal of Plan

OTTAWA, Oct. 25 (CP). — Canada's financial position will not permit the Government to grant a bonus on wheat for the 1932 crop. This was announced by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett in the House of Commons today.

The announcement definitely settled the speculation that had developed following the request of the United Farmers of Alberta executive that the Progressive members of Parliament urge upon the Government the desirability of continuing the bonus to this year's crop. Renewal of the bonus was also urged by other Western members.

LARGE SUM PAID

Payments made to Western farmers last crop year under the bonus scheme amounted to over $11,000,000.

Instituted in July, 1931, the 5c-a-bushel bonus was made applicable to the crop year 1931-32, and provided that this amount be paid on Western wheat sold to "any licensed elevator in the Western inspection division, commission merchant, track buyer or grain dealer as defined by the Canada Grain Act." Administration of the subsidy was placed under the Board of Grain Commissioners.

Originally applicable up to June 15 of this year, the bonus period was extended to July 1 of this year.

The operation of the bonus was received variously by Western members of Parliament during last session. Most of them regarded it as a great help to the wheat growers in their distress, but others asserted it to be of little value in districts where crops had been burned up or otherwise destroyed. Those who needed the most received the least.

Bill Implements Duty Agreement

OTTAWA, Oct. 25 (CP).—The undertaking of Canada not to impose dumping duty against British goods provided for in the Imperial Conference agreements will be implemented by a bill introduced in the commons today by Hon. E. B. Ryckman, Minister of National Revenue, and given first reading.

The bill amends the Customs Act by taking away the authority of the Government to fix the fair market value for goods coming in under the preference for duty purposes. However, it does not prevent the continuance of the special duty to counteract the difference in exchange between the Canadian dollar and the pound sterling.

LINDBERGH BABY NAMED

NEW YORK, Oct. 25. — The World-Telegram said today that the second son of Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh has been named Jon Morrow Lindbergh. It said the Jon was chosen for a Scandinavian forbear of Colonel Lindbergh's; Morrow is Mrs. Lindbergh's maiden name.

B.C. Agent-General Makes Earnest Plea For British Funds

F. P. Burden, Writing in London Journal, Holds Out Fine Opportunities for Investment to Develop Natural Resources of Province

ILLUSTRATED with photographs of Vancouver's waterfront, a two-page article by F. P. Burden, British Columbia Agent-General in London, appearing in the October issue of The Chamber of Commerce Journal, London, draws attention to the ripe opportunities for investment of British capital in British Columbia. Mr. Burden says, in part:

"The Empire was not built by leaving sovereigns on deposit at one-half of 1 per cent, or our sons to kick their heels and wait for something to turn up in a world where they were not wanted. When I think of my Province with its hundreds of thousands of square miles rich in resources waiting to be developed, waiting for British capital and British enterprise to come along and turn all its vast expanse of natural wealth to account, and see here in the Old Country the men and the money hungering to be put to use, frankly I am bewildered.

HAS MUCH TO OFFER

"British Columbia has so much to offer. It is a young country, and essentially a young man's country. It cries aloud for capital, and it calls no less clearly for a stout heart, the daring, and the energies which are of youth. In less than sixty years its people have transformed a forest clearing into a world city, driven great highways through forests and mountains, turned lake benches into orchards, wild prairies into farm land, and built up hundreds of prosperous communities and thousands of minor undertakings. Yet all these things are as nothing compared to what can be, and some day will be done."

Opening of the Panama Canal placed British Columbia midway between trade routes East and West, facing the Far East with its teeming millions of peoples slowly but steadily becoming westernized; and also with an easy sea route to Europe, for the exchange of goods of two hemispheres, Mr. Burden continues. The world's future commercial development will centre on the Pacific Coast, he predicts.

FIND NEW BASE

With conditions in Europe as they are today, Britain must find a new base, for its commercial developments, and should not overlook British Columbia, with its geographical and other advantages, at the door of a hinterland rich in raw products that the world needs, Mr. Burden continues.

He cites a vast market in the Orient for brass and copper sheets, plates, rods, tubes, etc., and suggests that this market can be reached most economically from British Columbia, where all materials are on hand, save tin, which can be imported from the Straits Settlements by water haul. A big opportunity for mineral production and British capital lies fallow in this direction, Mr. Burden states, agreeing with a prominent resident of the Far East who drew this phase of the issue to his attention.

HAVE RAW MATERIAL

In closing, the British Columbia Agent-General cites a quotation from a recent address by Premier Tolmie, when he said:

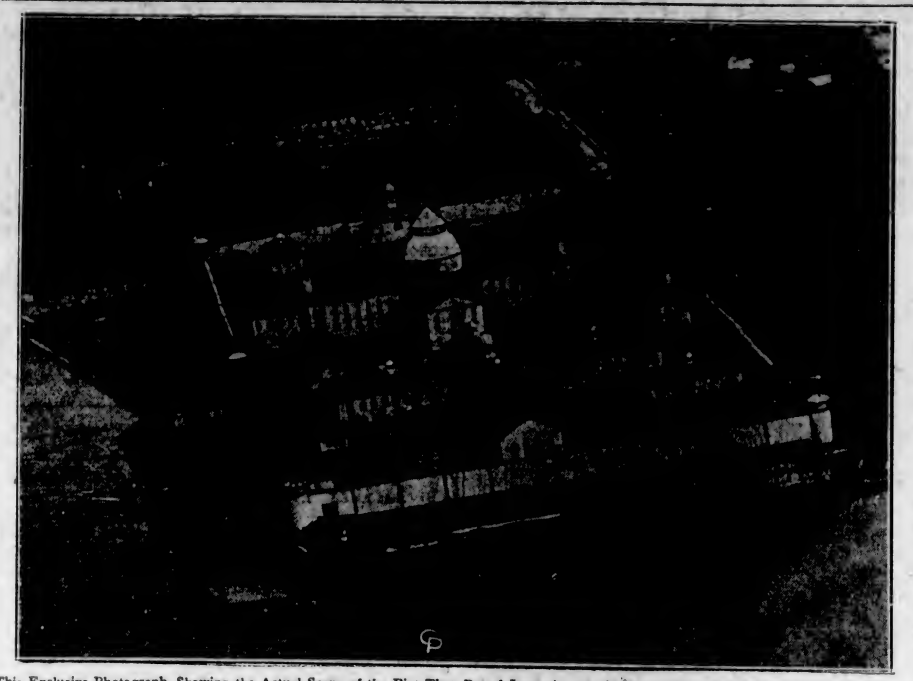

"We have, as a Province, the raw materials that build nations, in man power, brains, and a superabundance of natural resources. We have also, I believe, the patience and courage to see depression through, with confidence that prosperity and progress undreamed of in the past will become our accepted heritage in the future. To that end we should all work unwaveringly."

The article was displayed with prominence in the October issue of The Journal, which is the official organ of the London Chamber of Commerce.

A gift amounting to $139.61 was presented at the United Church General Council from the poverty-stricken Chinese of Honan, who had heard of the harsh conditions in Southern Saskatchewan. The missionary who brought it stated that it was equivalent to 5,000 meals.

At the service commemorative of Sir Walter Scott that was held at Dryburgh Abbey, near his grave, the address was given by the Moderator of the Church of Scotland and the Episcopal Bishop of Edinburgh read the lessons. Scott's favorite psalms were sung to the tunes he liked.

LABOR MOTION OF CENSURE FAILS TO WIN MANY VOTES

And in the midst of the fray David Lloyd George, his old brilliant self, cast shafts of irony on all quarters of the House, none more piercing than those directed at his old colleagues of the Liberal party—whether that section supporting the Government or the remnants of the free trade section under Sir Herbert Samuel, who led his followers out of the National Government a few weeks ago.

George Lansbury, veteran parliamentarian, who had just been elected to succeed Arthur Henderson as leader of the Labor party, started the battle when he moved the censure motion with a bitter attack on the Government's record, aimed particularly at its handling of unemployment.

LANSBURY VEHEMENT

Mr. Lansbury in a vehement speech declared: "People are starving, and masses of young people are growing up without any hope." He said the Labor party, when it returned to office, would take over the country's industries and nationalize and reorganize them.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald heatedly defended his National administration against the attacks of his former colleague. He charged the Labor party had ceased to be evolutionary and had become revolutionary. He reminded the House the old Labor Government through its anomalies bill had brought the first cuts in payments to unemployed, and declared that for this Mr. Lansbury had to take his share of responsibility.

Amid interruptions from the Conservatives, Mr. Lansbury shouted, "I am not such a contemptible skunk as to want to get out of it."

He charged the Government had forfeited the confidence of the country "by failure to deal effectively with the economic situation and by imposition of the 'means test' on unemployed receiving the dole, and by pursuit of an Empire policy opposed to restoration of world trade."

BASELESS CHARGES

The Prime Minister continued by declaring baseless charges that the National Government had increased the cost of living by its actions. He quoted figures purporting to show that under the Labor administration the average annual increase in unemployment amounted to 810,000, while under the National Government it had been reduced to 234,000.

"This vote of censure is sheer humbug," he exclaimed.

"And it was moved by a past master of humbug," Jack Jones, Glasgow left wing Laborite, interjected loudly.

While he had sharp criticism for the Government, he directed most of his remarks to his old Liberal colleagues.

Sir Herbert Samuel, leader of the free trade Liberal group, had previously twitted Mr. Lloyd George with being a successful farmer largely engaged in production of fatted calves which did not always find consumers.

"SYNTHETIC HUMOR"

The white-haired little Welshman, amid roars of laughter from the House, thanked Sir Herbert for his "synthetic humor" and proceeded with the declaration free trade was doomed from the moment Sir Herbert agreed to the last general election without sufficient guarantees.

One of the main difficulties of the Parliamentary Liberal party, he continued, was that it could not escape responsibility for what was done in the last fifteen months.

It was entangled by commitments, he said, and a hobbled horse could not make much progress, especially if it had only one leg free.

Sir Herbert, he declared, had fallen flat in a "no man's land" and was caught in barbed wire he himself had helped erect.

Then, with the crowded benches still laughing, Mr. Lloyd George divided the two Liberal wings in categories he called Pharisees and Sadducees.

NO WORLDLY VIEW

The Sadducees, he said, looking across at the Simon Liberal supporters of the Government, took a broad, not a worldly, view of the doctrines of the day and had not the slightest belief in the resurrection.

The Pharisees—and he looked at the Samuel group—were the narrow self-righteous, straining at such gnats as constitutional points but swallowing "huge camels." And the Pharisees, he said, professed a working belief in the resurrection.

He ended by suggesting the Government should meet the unemployment situation by embarking on a scheme of slum clearance, dock renovation, settlement on home land and similar public works.

HUNGER MARCH NEARS LONDON

County Council Promises Accommodation for 2,000 —Hyde Park Tomorrow

LONDON, Oct. 25 (AP).—Accommodation for 2,000 "hunger marchers" nearing London tonight were promised by London County Council authorities in event organizers of the march failed to make adequate preparations.

Council officials made it plain they expected leaders of the demonstrators to obtain accommodations for the dozen or so parties of the jobless army who were to camp tonight at such nearby places as Croydon and St. Albans.

PLANNING WELCOME

When the marchers converge Thursday morning at Hyde Park, London's unemployed plan a great demonstration of welcome.

A nation-wide demonstration in their behalf has been organized by the National Unemployed Workers' Movement, which a Government spokesman in Parliament has branded as a Communist organization. Many of the marchers were reported wearing red rosettes and the charge was made in several London newspapers that the march was fostered by funds from Moscow.

The leader of the march is W. A. L. Hannington, who led a similar "hunger march" to London in 1930.

Among demands of the marchers will be abolition of the "means test" which limits unemployed insurance benefits.

WOMEN'S CONTINGENT

A contingent of women numbering forty—including a woman of sixty-two and a girl of sixteen—was marching toward London from Luton.

Plans called for only short marches tomorrow, with a general assembly at Hyde Park Thursday morning.

Fire recently destroyed all the principal buildings in Blitingen, Switzerland.

APPEAL COURT GIVES RELEASE

Prospectors Sentenced for Stealing Bullion Seek Quashing of Conviction

VANCOUVER, Oct. 25.—With the only evidence against them that they had traversed a trail between Goldstream ferry and old Goldstream on August 31, when $3,300 in gold, belonging to French Creek Development Company, Limited, was lost, Charles Henry Wood and Roy Diechok, prospectors, appealed to the Court of Appeal today to set aside a conviction against them of stealing the bullion.

They had been sentenced by Judge Nisbet, in County Court at Revelstoke on September 9, to two and a half years' imprisonment in New Westminster Penitentiary.

The Court of Appeal reserved judgment until October 31.

Their Lordships intimated that it was not necessary for counsel for the appellants, C. W. Craig, K.C., to reply to the brief argument put forward on behalf of the Crown by A. M. Johnson, K.C.

At the conclusion of the hearing Mr. Craig stated to the court that the two men had been in jail since their conviction.

The court directed that they should be released on their own recognizance for the few days remaining until judgment.

The bullion, in a sack, was lost while being taken to Revelstoke. Later the sack was discovered on the trail near a bridge with its contents missing. The gold was never recovered.

STORE CHANGES ARE EFFECTED

Diggon's Limited Remodel Premises and Build Addition at Cost of $10,000

At an approximate cost of $10,000, Diggon's, Limited, is remodeling and enlarging its store on Government Street, which backs onto Langley Street.

For some considerable time past the firm has felt the necessity for increased efficiency in handling its stock of stationery and office supplies, and also the book and stationery stock of T. N. Hibben & Company, which business it controls and manages. Recently, in order to accomplish this purpose, the firm purchased from the English owners the building occupied by its store and printing business and started remodeling this building, which is two stories in height and runs from Government Street through to Langley Street. A building on an adjoining lot on Langley Street, which was acquired some time ago, also is being erected.

When these operations are completed, Diggon's, Limited, will have a large store equipped with every modern device for displaying and selling the stock carried by both stores, a floor for its stock of office furniture; a large, light room for its office staff, and much improved accommodation for its printing plant, all under one roof. This work, carried out by Parfitt Bros. from plans prepared by Architect C. Elwood Watkins, has given employment to a large number of men, and the job is expected to be completed in a month's time.

"Canada could supply the United States with soft woods in exchange for hard woods. Fish was another product in which a profitable cross-border treaty might be fostered through lowered tariff barriers."

VOTE TOMORROW

At the end of another long day of debate on the Imperial Conference treaties it was reported in the corridors a vote might be held Thursday night. That would be only on the formal ratification motion and it would be necessary afterward to review all tariff changes individually.

H. E. Spencer, whip for the United Farmer group, said the 6 cent wheat preference would not benefit Canadian farmers. They would continue to receive only the world price and there was danger of foreign countries, excluded from Great Britain, dumping their wheat in other markets and forcing down the price.

Canada must inflate its currency before the producers of this country could compete on world markets, said Mr. Spencer. He criticized the Imperial Conference for taking no action on this question, believing it to be the most important on the agenda.

TIME FOR VISIT NOT OPPORTUNE

Communists Wishing to See Relatives in Jail Referred to Ottawa

OTTAWA, Oct. 25 (CP).—Communists making application to visit relatives at Portsmouth Penitentiary will be given a hearing on reaching Ottawa. Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, made this announcement tonight.

Fifteen adherents of Communism—wives and children of "Tim" Buck and the seven other jailed Toronto Communists—were on their way to the capital tonight. Kingston dispatches said they had left there this afternoon.

At the big doors of the penal institution lying beside Portsmouth Bay on Lake Ontario, they had their request turned down this afternoon. Traveling in three automobiles, they then turned their eyes towards Ottawa.

"I want to see my husband; it is past visiting day," Mrs. Buck, wife of the leader of the Communists, suspected of having played a leading part in the two riots, told General Ormond.

"You saw my statement," replied the superintendent of penitentiaries, "that if anyone was hurt, his relatives would be notified?"

"I did," answered Mrs. Buck. "But I am anxious to know about my husband, and I want to see him."

"The time is very inopportune," General Ormond replied, "and you will have to apply to the Minister of Justice for such permission."

Big Y.M.C.A. Established In Jerusalem

Built at a cost of more than $2,000,000, the new Y.M.C.A. centre on Julian's Way, one of the finest new thoroughfares in New Jerusalem, will be ready for occupation by November 1 and formally dedicated, with Field-Marshal Viscount Allenby as the chief guest, at Eastertide, 1933.

The tall tower commands the most wonderful historic view in the world—the Dead Sea, Jordan River, Judean Wilderness, Moab Mountains to the east, and the whole panorama of the Judean Hills to the west.

A carillon of thirty-five bells, cast at Croydon, has been installed, and will give the best peals and chimes ever heard in this part of the world. An organ, costing several thousand dollars, has been placed in the large auditorium.

The centre consists of a hostel with seventy rooms and 100 beds, gymnasium unit, athletic field, reading-rooms, trade and technical schools, and the only swimming pool in the country. The whole area covered is about five acres.

TELLS OF EARLY DAYS IN B.C.

Judge Howay Gives Lecture on Road and Railroad Pioneering in the Province

VANCOUVER, Oct. 25.—Events surrounding construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway through British Columbia were discussed with an intimate, humorous touch by Judge F. W. Howay in addressing the transportation and customs bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade today. "Road and Railroad Pioneering in British Columbia" was his subject.

Himself a noted pioneer of this province, Judge Howay gave a vivid outline of the railroad's construction from the time it was first discussed to the day the last spike was driven.

DELAYS AND COMPLAINTS

He told of the delays which caused complaints throughout British Columbia from 1873 until 1880, when construction of the railway actually commenced at Emory's Bar, on the Fraser River, near Yale.

Agitations of "Peg Leg" Smith, who in 1886 advocated appeals to the Dominion Government and the British Government to hasten the railroad, were recalled by the speaker. He declared Smith urged British Columbia to leave the Dominion and sue for $30,000,000 damages if her demands were ignored.

BUTE VS. FRASER

Differences between Vancouver Island interests, which hoped the steel would come in by Bute Inlet, and those of the Lower Mainland, which wished the road through the Fraser Valley, were also commented on.

"It was as if a magic hand had touched the province when construction of the railway commenced at Emory's Bar," Judge Howay declared. "There was a market for everything. Navvies were brought here from San Francisco and the country was combed for more men to work on the project. Approximately seven thousand Chinese were put to work."

FARMER LEADS IN ALBERTA CONTEST

Election of C. A. Ronning Expected in Camrose By-Election—Liberal in Second Place

CAMROSE, Alta., Oct. 25 (CP).—With the first choice count completed, Chester A. Ronning, U.F.A., and Government candidate in the by-election for the Camrose provincial constituency tonight led his nearest opponent, Silvert M. Westvick, Liberal, by 567 votes. A second choice count, to be made tomorrow, will be necessary to decide the election.

With all of the forty-nine polls reported, the standing on first choices of the candidates was:

Chester A. Ronning, U.F.A. ... 2,507
Silvert M. Westvick, Liberal ... 1,947
Frank P. Layton, Conservative 1,114

Second choices of the Layton ballots hold the secret of who will succeed Hon. Vernor W. Smith, Alberta Minister of Railways and Telephones, who died recently, in the Alberta Legislature.

"There's a difference in time, you know, between America and Europe," said a man in New York to a newly arrived Irishman. "For instance, your friends in Cork are in bed and fast asleep by this time, while we are enjoying ourselves in the early evening."

"That's always the way!" exclaimed Pat. "Ireland can niver get justice!"

Percy (beaming): "Oh, I have the most glorious news!"

Esther (his cousin): "What is it?"

Percy: "Peggy has promised to be my wife!"

Esther: "So that's what you call news! A month ago she asked me to be her bridesmaid."

LEADS FIGHT AGAINST WAR

Rev. Gerald B. Switzer Speaks on World Peace at Kiwanis Luncheon

"Anyone who calls war glorious is stark mad. War is not the rhythm of music. Take out of it the swagger, glamor and strut and paint it as it is. Awaken public conscience in the name of all humanity and rid the world of this horrifying spectacle," declared Rev. Dr. Gerald B. Switzer, of Oak Bay United Church, in an address to the members of the Victoria Kiwanis Club at luncheon at the Empress Hotel yesterday noon.

The subject of Dr. Switzer's address was "World Peace," and it was a dramatic presentation of the other side of the picture. He gave a vivid summary of the cost of war, in money and in human sacrifice. He pictured the horrors and brutalities that accompanied that last world catastrophe and the misery, suffering and moral degradation that followed in its wake.

HEROIC SACRIFICE

Although he attacked war as inexcusable and an element of destruction, he did not, in any way, belittle the men who had served their country. In fact, he said: "Anyone would be a coward and a cad who would attempt to disparage the heroism of the men who gave their all in the Great War." His argument was with the principle of war.

Dr. Switzer quoted statistics showing the fearful losses sustained by the powers in men. War costs, and costs stupendously. He gave figures of the cost in money to the nations engaged in the titanic struggle, and presented shocking examples of what the results of the war had been. He also peered into the future and noted the possibility of the invasion of London, or any other centre of Europe, with airplanes and poison gas bombs. By these agents of war, millions could be wiped out in but a few hours, innocents of the causes of war, but, nevertheless, its victims.

AVERSION TO WAR

The children in the nurseries are taught the glamor of war as they play with toy soldiers, Dr. Switzer said. He also mentioned the aversion to the sacrifice of life which was being exhibited in the United States, and he remarked: "The time is coming to an end when a nation can send its marines to foreign countries to protect private investment." He discussed the Oriental problems briefly and intimated there must be some other outlet for surplus population to settle its difficulties without resorting to war.

He closed his very interesting address with an eloquent recital of his experiences at Verdun at Christmas, his visit to the war torn areas of France and the silent message given to the world by the sight of the rows upon rows of white crosses that marked the last resting place of thousands who had fought, suffered and died for their country. "War costs, and costs stupendous," he concluded.

W. Ellis Brown, president of the club, thanked Dr. Switzer on behalf of the members for his stirring message.

WATER CHARGES TO BE CHANGED

Members of Government Reach Understanding on Irrigation Loans

After conference between the Ministries of Finance and Lands this week, the Government believes it has arrived at a settlement of the question of irrigation charges, at least for the present. In place of levying both interest and sinking fund collections, on new loans advanced since the Sanford Evans report three years ago, the Province is contemplating making a straight interest charge of 6 per cent on such loans, and the Sanford Evans scale as heretofor on former loans.

The effect of this would be to cut 2.72 per cent. off the new charges recently announced by the Government, leaving the question of sinking fund collections on new loans open to be settled by a definite policy on this phase of the issue, which would later be worked out.

Cabinet action to rectify the passage of the original order calling for collection of both interest and sinking fund levies is expected immediately.

Loans to the extent of $685,000 have been advanced for irrigation projects in the last three years. The new plan would collect 6 per cent interest on these loans, and defer settlement of the sinking funds collection until a uniform policy can be worked out in that regard.

MAYOR LEEMING VISITS WORKSHOP

His Worship and Colleagues Inspect Home of Poppy Day Decorations Here

Mayor David Leeming and Aldermen W. T. Straith and W. D. Todd were recent visitors at the Red Cross Workshop, where they spent a considerable time watching the poppy makers at work. The following letter from the mayor to Col. H. T. Goodland, C.B., chairman of the Remembrance Day committee, conveys his approval and support of the Poppy Day campaign:

"I wish to thank you for the opportunity given me to look over the Red Cross Workshop and inspect the work being done at this establishment. I was interested to learn that the manufacture of poppies and wreaths utilizes the services of twelve men the year round. The magnitude of the work carried on is rather surprising. Major Okell informing me that 200,000 poppies and more than 1,300 wreaths of various sizes have been made in the local shops.

"I quite realize that the continuity of the work depends entirely on the ability of the public to purchase your product. I feel sure when it is known that the employment of a number of disabled veterans is dependent upon a generous response from the public when your poppies and wreaths are placed on sale, added to the fact that receipts are used for the benefit of ex-service men in need, your campaign will receive the strongest possible support from all citizens.

"I am deeply impressed with the splendid work being carried on and I trust your efforts will meet with every success."

TRYING TO FORCE DEBATE ON DEBT

French Nationalists Unwilling to Abide by Vote to Consider Domestic Issues First

PARIS, Oct. 25 (AP). — Louis Marin, leader of the Extreme Right Nationalists, said tonight he would seek to bring the question of the United States debt again before the Chamber of Deputies in an effort to open immediate debate on the issue, although the Chamber voted 500 to 78 to give prior consideration to domestic matters.

There are numerous interpellations, mostly on domestic issues, but some on such world problems as that of disarmament.

When a debate on farm relief got under way, one deputy, asserting that the price of wheat had dropped 50 per cent since July, asserted that the Government should buy wheat stocks in harvest time to prevent speculation.

Another member said Government assistance should be extended also to the meat importers. He declared import quotas on foreign meats are too high and should be reduced.

The British Columbia Osteopathic Association held a convention recently in the Hotel Vancouver. A large number representing the Washington Osteopathic Association were the special guests of the local association at the gathering.

The parley was devoted to scientific papers and discussion. Dr. S. M. Pugh, of Everett, spoke on "Lobar Pneumonia"; Dr. Vernon B. Taylor, of Victoria, "Psychotherapy in General Practice"; Dr. J. M. Ogle, of Tacoma, "Common Rectal Diseases"; Dr. W. J. Siemens, Seattle, "The Significance of Earache," and Dr. Vernon K. Hall, Vancouver, "Diabetes Mellitus." A dinner followed by a pleasant evening of entertainment completed the programme.

NOT DELAYING INVESTIGATION

Seattle Council's Efficiency Committee Starts Inquiry Into Mayor's Sayings

SEATTLE, Oct. 25.—The chairman of the City Council's efficiency department committee, Frank F. Fitts, announced here today immediate steps will be taken to carry out the council's mandate for an investigation to determine whether impeachment proceedings shall be invoked against Mayor John F. Dore.

"In fact, the inquiry is under way," Fitts said. "Members of the committee are receiving offers of testimony from citizens and are themselves making a quiet investigation. As soon as the committee is ready to act, public hearings will be started."

The council yesterday directed the committee to proceed because of recent radio political speeches and at the same time adopted a resolution calling upon the Mayor to cease making speeches "injurious to the city's good name and credit."

Mayor Dore in a letter to the council branded the council's action as "horseplay," and demanded that he be furnished with specific information as to which of two counts, under the charter, it was proposed to invoke to remove him from office.

Bon Ton Tea Rooms Open Today

Attractive Decoration Marks New Addition to Well-Known Establishment

For many years the Bon Ton Pastry and Confectionery Shop, 1213 Douglas Street, has stood as a standard of comparative quality in Victoria. Today the manager, Mr. O. Notte, announces new service and complete reorganization throughout the establishment.

One of the most striking changes wrought is the opening of an attractive tearoom in conjunction with the shop. The premises next door have been acquired and the two stores thrown into one. The rear portion of the new section has been attractively decorated to form a tearoom of considerable capacity. In the front is the new delicatessen department, with refrigerated showcases displaying choice cooked meats and dishes of all kinds. In the tearoom the installation of the tables is a special feature, the Bon Ton being the only place in Victoria with tables of this particular type.

In the kitchen department a change has been made, Angelo Borello taking charge in the capacity of chef. Mr. Borello has had many years' experience, being in charge of the kitchens in many of Montreal's leading hotels prior to coming to Victoria, direct to the Bon Ton.

Today, in addition to the tearoom, the Bon Ton is in a position to offer the very best of service, bringing to the public the finest quality in cakes, pastry, confectionery, ice creams, and all classes delicatessen. In addition to this, a specialty is made of catering to all kinds of dinners and parties.

NEEDY FEAST OFF HERRING

Thousands of Silvery Fish Donated to City Friendly Help Association

Herrings were served on hundreds of tables in the city yesterday as a result of a donation made to the Friendly Help Association by the Sooke Harbor Fishing & Packing Company.

Thousands of silvery fish were stacked in boxes, barrels and sacks in the Public Market Building for distribution, and the city relief office got in touch with those on the relief list and other needy people to inform them of the harvest of the sea awaiting disposal.

Although there were hundreds of people to eat them, the pile was lowered slowly as there were literally thousands upon thousands of herring.

DEATH CALLS T. W. EDWARDS

Former Watchmaker and Sportsman Passes Away —Funeral Tomorrow

Thomas William Edwards, who had been a resident of Victoria for the past forty-four years and a well-known sportsman, died Monday at the family residence, 2820 Inlet Drive, at the age of seventy-five years and ten months.

Mr. Edwards was born in Brantford, Ontario, and came to Victoria in 1880 and was engaged as a watchmaker and jeweler in the business carried on by the late C. E. Redfern, a former mayor of this city. Mr. Edwards assisted in placing the clock in the City Hall tower. After his retirement as a watchmaker, Mr. Edwards was engaged with his two sons in a garage business on Broughton Street.

Mr. Edwards was highly respected by the many friends whom he attracted by his active interest in the life of the community, and his love of the simple pleasures of home and family.

INTERESTED IN SPORTS

In years gone by he was actively interested in amateur sport, and at one time was one of Victoria's best bicycle racers. He was also a ball player of tried ability, and to the time of his passing, his interest in the game, and the encouragement given younger players were an inspiration, and his death will be keenly regretted.

In Victoria he is survived by his widow, two sons, George and James, and a daughter, Mrs. G. Peatt. A son, R. P. Edwards, resides in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario. Two sisters also survive, Mrs. Runciman, in North Bay, Ontario, and Mrs. Morris, at Hamilton.

The remains rest at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, where the funeral service will be conducted at 2 o'clock on Thursday. Interment will be made at Royal Oak Burial Park.

FIVE CHARGED WITH STENCH BOMB CRIME

SASKATOON, Oct. 25.—Five men were charged in city police court this morning with conspiring to commit an unlawful act as a result of stench bombs which have been released in a local moving picture theatre since September 24. The case was adjourned to November 2, and four of the accused, who were arrested during the night, were released on bail, the fifth not having been taken into custody. Early this Autumn the theatre was in dispute with its union operators over a wage reduction and members of another union were substituted for the objecting employees.

THRILLING performance, made possible by the new exclusive De Forest Crosley principle, lifts this superb radio into a class by itself . . . a superiority as marked as that of a "grand" over the more humble "upright" piano.

The great sounding board of the "grand" has its counterpart in the new De Forest Crosley bigger "baffle" board. The longer piano wires, adding tonal beauty to the "grand", are paralleled in the radio by correctly placed matched dual speakers. The pedal control and fine action of the "grand" is akin to the Automatic Volume Control and illuminated Multi-colour Tone Control in the radio. Acoustical accuracy in construction is obvious in both. The radio cabinets by Karl Otto duplicate the elegance of the "grand". Ease of operation delights the owner. Every tiniest part, however humble its duty, must be of the finest workmanship and material. Proof of superiority in each case, is in the vibrant, vivid, living beauty of performance.

Your living room is the one place where this principle can be convincingly proven. The new De Forest Crosley was engineered, designed and built in a living room — for a living room. Have a new model sent to your home today. Live with it — enjoy it — satisfy yourself that it out-dates any radio you ever heard. Consult one of the dealers listed below.

BRITISH NAVAL REDUCTIONS

Figures have been compiled showing the reductions which Britain has effected in her Navy and other armed forces, and comparisons are possible as between her accomplishments in this respect and those of other nations. Between 1914 and 1929 Britain reduced the tonnage of her Navy by 958,396 tons. The personnel of her regular forces in 1913-1914 was 331,600 men and in 1931-1932, 274,450. This was a decrease of 57,150 men, although the latest figures include the personnel of an Air Force which did not exist in 1913-1914.

In 1925 the military forces of Great Britain cost £36,250,000 and in 1929, £32,500,000. The French military forces cost £34,000,000 in 1925 and £58,000,000 in 1929. The military forces in the United States cost £51,000,000 in 1925 and £59,000,000 in 1929. In Germany, as between the two dates mentioned, the cost had risen from £20,000,000 to £25,000,000 and in Russia (Navy, Army and Air Force combined) the cost had risen from £44,000,000 to £84,000,000.

The combined Navies of the British Empire had a personnel of 152,000 men in 1914. In 1931 the combined strength was 101,780. In the United States the personnel has grown from 67,258 to 109,350; in Japan from 50,645 to 79,567, and in Italy from 40,023 to 46,430. The tonnage of the British Navy was 2,160,326 tons in 1914 and 1,252,898 tons in 1931. In that period the United States increased her tonnage by 323,110 and Japan increased hers by 285,030 tons.

In commenting on the foregoing figures, Mr. John L. Green, writing in The London Times, says: "If we take into account the area of territory, the length of coast line, the length of communications, our external trade and our seaborne traffic—in fact, all the 'factors'—Great Britain's need is greater than the other four Naval Powers combined. This is clearly shown from the French official figures which were laid before the Five-Power Naval Conference in December, 1929. These figures indicated that while all the factors in the case of the British Empire amounted to no less than 12.9, the factors in the case of the United States only amounted to 4.9, France 3.0, Japan 1.8 and Italy 1.0.

COALITIONS UNPOPULAR IN WEST

Judging from what has happened in the Western Provinces proposals affecting coalitions of political parties have not proved popular. They have aroused hardly an atom of enthusiasm anywhere. In Manitoba, Premier Bracken's proposal in the matter of a coalition Government was refused by the Conservatives. The Liberals were willing enough, and in fact they were given Cabinet representation. To the extent that they coalesced with the Progressives there was a partial carrying out of Premier Bracken's proposals. That coalition however was not approved at the polls. Premier Bracken's Government was returned to power, but the Liberal ministers in his Cabinet went down to defeat. Coalition in any form does not now prevail in Manitoba.

Dr. J. T. M. Anderson, the Premier of Saskatchewan, recently gave his blessing to a proposal for coalition in that province. It was rejected by the leaders of both Opposition groups. Premier Anderson has now abandoned the idea, though he has invited members of other groups, especially Liberals, to support the Government under present conditions. That they will do so is wholly unlikely. We have had our own experience in British Columbia of the efforts of Dr. S. F. Tolmie to form a Union Government. In this province the only official group which could make such a coalition possible is the Liberals. Mr. T. D. Pattullo opposes the proposal. He does not believe in Union Government unless he is himself the leader of such a coalition. Union Government, therefore, has been knocked on the head, for there can be no union of parties for the purposes of administration unless there is coalition between the Government in office and the official opposition.

In commenting on efforts in the direction of Union Government that have been made in Western Provinces, The Montreal Gazette says: "Party Governments continue in all these provinces and it is perhaps as well it should be so. The formation of a Union Government at Ottawa during the war period was by no means an unqualified success, and the public do not look back upon it with any marked degree of satisfaction or pride."

POLITICAL SPEECHES

One argument advanced why Mr. Franklin Roosevelt should be elected to the presidency of the United States is that he writes his own speeches. If this is true, he differs in this respect from many politicians. Some doubt has been cast on the claim made on his behalf because it has been noted that a speech Mr. Roosevelt delivered a few months ago contained passages almost identical with those in a speech made by Mr. Alfred E. Smith. Obviously, however, one did not plagiarise the other, for it has been discovered that the sentiments were lifted bodily from the writings of a professor of Columbia University. In other words, Mr. Roosevelt, as well as Mr. Smith, does not hesitate to assimilate and use the sentiments of others couched in the language of their authors.

Mr. Will Irwin is reputed to write some of President Hoover's speeches. It is an old habit for politicians to employ a pen more skilful than their own in the preparation of their speeches. It is not altogether a happy practice, because it has been found again and again that such politicians experience considerable difficulty in getting their tongues around phraseology with which their education has made them unacquainted. It is not so difficult when it is a matter of reading their speeches as is almost the invariable practice since the radio became an aid to political propaganda. It is, however, different altogether when such speeches have to be memorized. The language then is repeated in a parrot-like fashion without emotional appeal and without conviction. It was notorious that during the campaign of Mr. Warren Harding in 1920 his speeches were written by Colonel Harvey and Mr. Richard Washburn Child. Then again Mr. Theodore Roosevelt was in the habit of appropriating chunks of department reports and incorporating them in his speeches. Mr. Coolidge probably writes his own speeches. In this respect he is the exception among modern day politicians in the United States. It seems a pity that leaders of public thought should have to appropriate the ideas of others in enunciating the policies to which they purport to give adherence.

AGRICULTURE IN RUSSIA

Russia as a menace to other countries in the production and marketing of wheat to be sold at low prices is a dwindling factor. A decree just signed by Messrs. Stalin and Molotoff orders the reduction of the area to be sown in 1933 and the cessation of all efforts to increase the land under cultivation. This is due to lack of available tractive power to deal with larger areas, unless the risk is taken of poorer yields. The acreage for next Spring has been set at 97,500,000 hectares instead of 102,000,000 as in the past Spring.

In effect there will be decreased production of flax, cotton and beetroot as well as of grains in Russia. The illustration affording by the latest decision of the Soviet authorities is that machinery is regarded as the chief factor of production. There is no fear in Russia that increased mechanization will create an unemployment problem. On the contrary, mechanization is fostered in every possible way. The workers are treated as mechanical units in the Five-Year Plan.

For the six weeks which ended on September 9 there was a total of 1,361,713 bushels of wheat exported through the port of Churchill on Hudson Bay. A portion of that cargo was lost when the Ss. Bright Fan struck an iceberg. It is unfair to judge of the possibilities of the Hudson Straits route from the first year's operations. What can be said definitely is that it will be many years before the interest and sinking fund on the capital investment can be found from traffic.

Mr. Henri Bourassa (Labelle) speaking in Parliament on the Imperial Trade Treaties and commenting on the attitude of Mr. Mackenzie King and his followers said: "I have had close connections with the Liberal party for many years past and the conclusion is forced upon me that the only fiscal policy to which that party has adhered during the last forty years is to advocate free trade when in opposition and to practise protection when in power."

An inspector of the Toronto Police Department has been forced to resign because he addressed a service club. Probably the punishment was due to what he said more than because of the fact that he accepted an invitation to please such an organization. Discipline affecting those in public service must be maintained.

SCIENCE

The following verses were sung as a hymn, called "Science," at the funeral recently of Sir Ronald Ross, the discoverer of the cause and cure of malaria:

Before Thy feet I fall,
Lord, who made high my fate;
For in the mighty small
Thou show'st the mighty great.
Henceforth I will resound
But praises unto Thee;
Though I was beat and bound,
Thou gavest me victory.

He is the Lord of Light,
He is the Thing that is;
He sends the seeing sight,
And the right mind is His.
Lo! while we ask the stars
To learn the will of God,
His answer unawares
Strikes sudden from the sod.

It is not he who knows most, nor he who hears most, nor yet he who talks most, but he who exercises grace most, who has most communion with God.—Thomas Brooks.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Censure is the tax a man pays to the public for being eminent.—Swift.

Who sees with equal eye, as God of all,
A hero perish, or a sparrow fall,
Atoms or systems into ruin hurled,
And now a bubble burst, and now a world.
—Pope.

Have you read the latest theatrical news from London? The plays written by the eminent George Bernard Shaw are more popular than the plays written by the immortal William Shakespeare. Mr. Shaw, who has never been noted for entertaining too mean an opinion of his gifts, will now be justified in pointing with pride to the fact that he always has claimed that he is a greater genius than Shakespeare. And we expect he is almost as proud as Queen Victoria, according to the judgment of a Scotsman, should have been on the day her daughter became the bride of the heir to the chieftainship of a Highland Clan.

* * *

Nevertheless, it is not always safe to jump to hasty conclusions. William Shakespeare was a great playwright, but he was considerably more than that. He was a great poet and something of a philosopher. Mr. Shaw may be a popular playwright according to the modern conception of popularity, but will he be a popular playwright three or four hundred years hence? Has he achieved popularity, not to mention immortality, as a poet? Mr. Shaw undoubtedly is a philosopher of a sort and is endowed with great qualities as a wit. Of the keenness of his intellect there is no doubt, but is there no doubt whatever as to the depth of his heartfelt emotions, notwithstanding his own publication of his emotional relations with the late Ellen Terry? Possibly a critic of Mr. Shaw might be considered as merciless as Mr. Shaw himself if he were to say Mr. Shaw is all intellect and has very little heart worth speaking of.

* * *

Be these random and perhaps worthless speculations what they may, there can be no gainsaying the fact that Mr. George Bernard Shaw is endowed with the rare gift of peering into the heart of things, although we sometimes think he does not always speak and write frankly and candidly of the things he sees when he peers into the heart of them. When he went to Russia and was shown what was being done in that modern Utopia, he first proclaimed his conviction that Bolshevism was destined to overwhelm all other social, political and industrial systems and produce the apparently unattainable, a state of perfect human bliss; but he afterwards revised that statement and declared that no man who valued his personal dignity and independence possibly could live in Russia.

* * *

On the way to Russia Mr. Shaw stopped for a time at the headquarters of the League of Nations and listened to the debates in that modern Parliament of Man. He compared the discussions he heard there to the fabled Tower of Babel, where the debaters spoke in a multitude of tongues, and where resolutions were passed which only the movers and seconders understood thoroughly the purport of.

* * *

Events have justified the judgment of Mr. Shaw upon that international farce which calls itself the League of Nations. With his clear and critical eye, Mr. Shaw saw the cumbrous and complicated machinery in motion, and at once declared his conviction that it was producing nothing of real value and never would produce anything of real value to the nations of the world. He said that the revolutions of the wheels produced in his mind nothing but a sense of futility and boredom.

* * *

Of course there are idealists and dreamers who still have the faith characteristic of little children in the efficacy of the League as an instrument for the salvation of the nations of the world from the consequences of their inordinate ambitions. Those idealists will say that the League has averted many little wars which might have developed into big wars and another general conflagration. But other people as clear-sighted as Mr. Shaw may say that the League has done nothing but establish costly machinery which will crush the people of the nations with loads of taxation too grievous to be borne. The critics may point out that the League is building costly and imposing headquarters for the accommodation of its ponderous machinery and for the equally ponderous speeches of the operators of the machinery, which in the course of a short time may become something for the scornful to point their fingers at just as scornful fingers are being pointed at the Temple of Peace erected by the late Andrew Carnegie.

* * *

The League of Nations has merely given the world which already is overburdened with governments another government, with all the departments characteristic of governments and the hangers-on who attach themselves like barnacles to all governments. Then the nations which in the first enthusiasm became members of the League are refusing to pay their dues, while the nation which made the motion for the creation of the League has absolutely and wisely refused to become a member at all. Thus the principal part of the cost of this new and unnecessary government has fallen upon Great Britain, which has a habit of honoring all her obligations. There is an ancient saying that what's everybody's business is nobody's business, which may be interpreted as meaning that too much meddling creates nothing but confusion and trouble. The nation which attends strictly to its own business is like the individual who attends strictly to his own business: Within the limits of its sphere it maintains peaceful relations with its neighbors.

WHAT WOMEN LOVE

Women love such trivial things;
Sheen of silk, glint of rings,
Dainty china on a tray,
Roses budding day by day;
Through such little things they gain
Rest from care and ease from pain.

Yet, so strangely are they made,
Women never are afraid
To relinquish luxuries,
All things made to soothe and please,
Shining silks and jewels bright,
All things fashioned for delight.

For they love such mighty things!
Through their souls such courage rings!
Fearless they of want or cold,
Heedless they of gems or gold;
In their love for truth and trust,
All things holy, all things just!

Small Wage Earners Trek Where Taxes Are Less Onerous

By FEE SIMPLE

A movement, significant of the times and continent-wide in its extent is now under way—a trek from the cities to the suburbs or country. The press is commenting on it; the magazines are featuring articles on it. This movement is not from choice but by pressure of necessity. For twenty years or more, successful business men and those of moderately high salaries have been moving out to the suburbs of our cities. Now, however, it is the small wage earners and those on small salaries or incomes who are leaving the cities for the suburbs or country.

All these people have had their incomes seriously reduced during the past three years, and the inability to make their diminished incomes cover rent or the taxes is the main reason for the present movement. They also look forward to growing enough vegetables and fruit for home consumption and perhaps raising a few chickens. Those who go to the country probably will raise other animals as well.

In this part of the world the evidence of the movement is most prominent on Four Mile Hill on the Island Highway, at the Gorge, on both sides of North Quadra Street, in the Shelburne Street Valley, at Lake Hill and out Burnside Road. New little four and five-room bungalows are springing up; older ones are being painted, renovated and remodeled. Land is being cultivated, fencing put up, stumps or trees cleared away and gardens made.

These people face great changes in their mode of living. Gone are the gas ranges, the sidewalks, the brightly-lighted residential streets and ease of getting to the movies. Old friends are left behind. The children must be sent to new schools. Septic tanks take the place of sewers. The furniture is too big for the smaller homes. Many other sacrifices and adjustments must be made, but somehow or other expenses must be cut to meet wages, salaries or income, and peace of mind secured, in place of constant anxiety and worry about obligations which cannot be met.

MY CASTLE

I fear not loss of fortune,
For my castle stands supreme,
Built to endure throughout the years.
Growing stateller with the passing time,
Acting as a bulwark 'gainst my fears.

I heed not the loss of fortune
For my fortress lies in dreams,
That will not fade or disappear,
But dearer grow like thoughts of yesterday
Bathed with the subdued sadness of a tear.
—Theo L. J. Greenslade.

DESTRUCTION OF CHAPEL RELATED

Rev. H. N. Konkle Addresses Local Auxiliary of Mission to Lepers —Describes Work

Stirring stories of the destruction wrought by invading Japanese in the area surrounding Chapel were related by Rev. H. N. Konkle, secretary of the Mission to Lepers, during an address before the local auxiliary at the Y.W.C.A. yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Konkle have just returned from the Orient, where they spent the past two years visiting leper stations.

"No one will ever know how great the slaughter was," Mr. Konkle stated, adding that it was generally agreed that Japan had gone farther than she should have done in invading the Chapel territory. The whole of the Chapel district was filled with Communists, according to Mr. Konkle, and it is felt that this was one reason for Japan's wholesale destruction of this section.

LIVES ENDANGERED

The danger surrounding the lives of the wealthy people residing in China was described by the speaker, who told how high walls with cut glass on top were built around the homes and an armed bodyguard always accompanied the wealthy man when he left the house.

Speaking of the work among the lepers, Mr. Konkle dealt chiefly with the activities in Northern China at the station of Tung-shen. There are 142 inmates at this home, including 115 men and twenty-seven women. Ninety-seven of these inmates are members of the church, while nearly all are Christians. Mr. Konkle described the happy disposition of these lepers, and spoke of the work they do, which includes gardening and weaving.

WORK UNSATISFACTORY

For a long period, he said, the medical work in the Tung-shen district had been unsatisfactory, he continued, as the Chinese doctors were not taking sufficient interest in treating lepers. This, however, had been remedied and arrangements were now being made to have the work carried out more thoroughly.

Thomas Humphries presided and expressed the thanks of the auxiliary to Mr. Konkle. Several bundles of clothes and other gifts for lepers were donated by the members at the meeting.

MOVIE ASPIRANTS

Sir,—I have been asked to write to you as secretary of the Professional Photographers' Association, and hope you will publish my letter, as it is in the interests of the general public. We feel that those wishing to join the movies here should be told to go direct to Mr. Drummond Hay, the Commonwealth Productions, Ltd., Sayward Building, bringing a photograph taken by any Victoria photographer they choose, and that there is no need to pay a subscription to a radio paper, or private agency, and be sent to one photographer only for a special photograph if they have one already.

MULTIPLICATION OF PARTIES

Sir,—The People's Movement of Vancouver Island is not a party. It is not sectarian nor is it governed by one man. It is a movement of forward-thinking men and women in the Province of British Columbia, with the sole motive of welding together the best ideas for the betterment and benefit of all the people.

By breaking up the insidious party machine, it is believed and hoped that graft, patronage and usury may be abolished, and that in their place, justice, equity and economy may obtain.

Every man and woman who believes in fair play and justice for the poor, as well as for the rich, is cordially invited to consider himself or herself a member of this vast organization of the people—the common people, if you like. The only obligation incumbent on members is an honest desire to help their fellowmen in this desperate struggle against the damnable oppression which the worshippers of Mammon and the cohorts of capitalism are forcing on the people, have forced, and will continue to force, until and when the people rise in their might and majesty, and force them into the paths of equity and justice.

Societies, parties and groups are constantly springing up in our midst for the rectification of our social and economic inequalities and evils, and the result would appear to be inevitable—chaos. But one great People's Movement, irrespective of religion, creed or sect, in a united and consolidated effort, is bound to smash the wicked and monstrous party machine, and give the common man an opportunity of realizing that which is his birthright—a decent and comfortable living.

The headquarters of the People's Movement are 312 Pemberton Building, Victoria. Inquiries are earnestly invited. Look out for meetings, and attend them.

IMPERIAL TREATIES DEBATE

Sir,—In two recent issues of your paper you have editorially commented on the seeming contradiction between the views expressed by Mr. Mackenzie King and his followers at the House in Ottawa, who claim that the tariffs have been increased, and those expressed by Sir John Simon and other British delegates who, at the Imperial Parliament, declared that the tariffs have been decreased.

It seems to me that both views are correct, depending upon the interests they are serving.

When Sir John Simon, the British delegates, and Mr. Bennett stated that the tariffs have been reduced, they were referring to the Canadian tariff under "British Preference" column, where the rates have been indisputably reduced.

Of course, those who serve the big American manufacturing interests, from whom probably substantial campaign funds might be expected to fight the next election, ignore the "Imperial Preference" column in our tariffs, but only study "General Tariff," which governs our imports from the United States. It cannot be denied that many items under "General Tariff" have been increased, and rightly increased.

The United States has, on three occasions, shown that it did not appreciate Canada's trade and, notwithstanding that the balances have been greatly in her favor, has deliberately brought in new tariffs which were admittedly designed to check her imports from us. The Fordney tariffs cut off more than $100,000,000 of our exports to the United States, and the Hawley-Smoot tariffs took off more than $150,000,000, while the recent increases in her tariffs on lumber and copper, etc., cut off another $50,000,000 to $75,000,000.

Mr. Bennett's policy, in view of the attitude of the United States, has been designed on the principle of "buying from those who buy from us."

By the way, at the general election in 1930, the Liberals had big full-page advertisements in The Vancouver Sun advocating the policy of "buying from those who buy from us." Their present attitude to the Imperial treaties is therefore very marked and strange and would show them up as being inaincere in 1930. It is only when we accept the surmise that the Federal Liberal party is serving the interests of the United States that its present opposition to the Imperial treaties can be explained.

DISTRESS AMONG FARMERS

Sir,—Different opinions as to the position of farmers during the present economic depression have recently been offered by several correspondents to your paper. To some, the farmers are in a condition of distress and despair, while others refuse to believe in such statements and brand them as humbug, but the truth, as usual, seems to lie between the two extremes.

No doubt anyone can point to cases of distress and failure, but it should be remembered that many now occupied in farming are not fitted by nature for such occupation. Farming can hardly be compared to manufacturing or trades and professions. It is in a class by itself. It offers advantages and opportunities not met with in other walks of life.

But, as Mr. John Spear recently in an able manner pointed out, farmers collectively often produce more than the market can absorb and then wonder at the consequent fall in prices and loss of profit. Under our present system of producing for profit it is absolutely essential that production be adjusted to demand. In times such as the present, where lack of buying power among the consumers has abnormally minimized demand, the problem becomes acute. It is no use talking about raising the price of produce without first effecting increased buying power and control of production.

Under the present state of human progress, production for use instead of for profit is not feasible, as greed and personal gain is still too prominent in human nature, and, coming to the psychological side of farming, a producer should first of all bear in mind that he is in business to provide his fellowman, the nonproducer, with a sufficiency of food products at prices adjustable to such nonproducers' ability to buy, and that a sudden or artificial raise in the price level of farm products would, under present conditions, render thousands of consumers unable to purchase and thus only aggravate affairs in general.

We all have to take things philosophically these days, precisely to teach us which the world suffers financial depression; but if our motive is, as it should be, that of rendering a service, though monitary returns be small or vanishing, the farmer at least does not come under the curse of unemployment, and can, if he makes up his mind to do so, maintain a certain standard of comfort, freedom and contentment, which after all is a blessing and much to be thankful for.

ALFRED FLEISCHER.

WILL HOLD REUNION IN NEW WESTMINSTER

Arrangements are being made for the members of the 47th Battalion, C.E.F., to hold a reunion in New Westminster on November 26. The Royal City has been chosen as the gathering place as it was in that city that both the 47th and its reinforcing battalion, the 131st were mobilized and trained. The 47th was mobilized under Colonel W. N. Winsby, now of Victoria, while Colonel J. D. Taylor, of New Westminster, recruited and took overseas the 131st Battalion, which sent nearly 90 per cent of its personnel to reinforce the 47th after the Somme incident in the Fall of 1916.

Captain T. S. Annandale, paymaster of the 47th, with Captain C. E. Bailey, Captain K. Macgowan, Lieutenant R. A. Payne and other members of the two battalions have taken the initial steps in arranging for the reunion, while E. H. Sands, of New Westminster, is acting as secretary of the reunion committee.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of October 26, 1882)

Council Meeting—At a meeting of the City Council last evening, much time was spent in discussion of the proposed increase in the number of that body. The matter was finally tabled for further consideration after a report had been read by Councillor Baker, stating that the city solicitors were of the opinion that it would be dangerous to give up the present letters of patent and it would be better to get a special act from the Legislature, increasing the number of the council to nine.

Lost at Sea—More than twenty persons are believed to have drowned as the result of a wreck upon the west coast of the Island. The ill-fated vessel was an American boat, the Mallevile, and was returning to her home port when the mishap occurred. It is believed that, besides the members of the crew, there were several women and children aboard at the time of the tragedy.

Committed for Trial—Officers Speed and Walsh caught a Chinese at 4 o'clock yesterday morning trying to set fire to the new Chinese Theatre. The culprit was captured red-handed and Mr. Pemberton committed him for trial.

"Sundown Sea"—It has been suggested that "Sundown Sea," recently painted by R. C. White, be used in the East to advertise this province.

Co-ordination of Agriculture Forms Conference Aims

Important Gathering of Technical Experts of Dominion, Province and University Holding Two-Day Assembly to Further National Policy

APPOINTMENT of a provincial advisory committee on agriculture; co-ordination of Federal, Provincial and university agricultural services; and definite steps under a nation-wide programme to place the advances won by science, experimentation, and experience in agriculture more fully before the farmers were important objectives before the Victoria conference of Western and Federal agricultural officials, opening yesterday at the Legislative Buildings.

Thirty-four delegates attended the meeting, representative of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, the Provincial Department of Agriculture, and the University of British Columbia. Hon. William Atkinson opened proceedings at 10 o'clock, and after a cordial welcome had been extended by Premier Tolmie and himself, the convention settled down to business, dividing into subcommittees which kept steadily at work all day.

VISITORS WELCOMED

Federal delegates were entertained at the home of Premier and Mrs. S. F. Tolmie at luncheon yesterday, and a dinner was given last evening at the Empress Hotel for visiting representatives of the services concerned.

The chief purpose of the two-day sessions, it was explained, is to carry into practical effect in this province the result of policies introduced at the national meeting called by Hon. Robert Weir, Federal Minister of Agriculture, recently at Toronto.

PREMIER SPEAKS

Premier Tolmie congratulated the Dominion Government on its far-sighted policy, and praised the present effort to bring all agricultural services in the country into a co-ordinated plan to get the best possible results out of these services from a practical standpoint. He recalled his former connection with the Federal Health of Animals Branch, and also as livestock commissioner and, later, Federal minister in charge of the department.

The Premier paid tribute to excellent work done by Dr. Griesdale, Dr. J. G. Rutherford and J. A. Wright in laying the foundation of important Dominion policies in regard to export and domestic problems in agriculture.

"There never was a time in Canadian history when it was so necessary to get value for every dollar expended," the Premier commented. "We have much to pride ourselves on in Canada in regard to agriculture, and much yet remains to be done. Canada's experimental farm system is without superiority anywhere; and the same can be said of the health of our livestock, for we have the cleanest and healthiest herds in the world," he continued.

EFFICIENT SERVICES

The Premier commended the work done by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, and said the University of British Columbia also had rendered an excellent service within its sphere.

The chief difficulty of the farmer today was to dispose of his products, and there had been a vast change from the days when those on the land grew first for their own immediate requirements, and sold any surplus remaining. Research was needed along all lines, and particularly in regard to marketing, the Premier continued.

PROSPECT PANAMA ROUTE

Trial might reveal, for instance, whether or not it would be possible to build up British Columbia bacon exports to the United Kingdom via the Panama Canal in refrigerator services. Any claims to the United Kingdom market, he added, could only be supported by supplying the exact needs of the importer, with a quality and volume that appealed, and with a guarantee of continued service on the same plane.

In the domestic field, continued the Premier, British Columbia is still importing food to the extent of hundreds of thousands of animals yearly. Last year 24,000 beef cattle, 67,000 sheep, and 180,000 hogs were brought into the province for food purposes. He did not wish to take the biased view and say that imports from other Canadian provinces should not be made, but that the heavy volume pointed to some lack in production at home.

A balance between agriculture and industry made for stability, and recovery of industries could not only reabsorb men into employment, but would provide a diversified home market for the farmers, the Premier concluded.

RETURNS ARE SLIGHT

Hon. William Atkinson spoke briefly. He said that agriculture had to be put on a different basis if it were to continue to attract the efforts of men on the land. People would not remain interested in agriculture for long under conditions when there was a lack of visible return for their hard work. The Toronto conference, he said, had been a wise move in making services rendered by the State of more vital importance to the people; and much good would result from carrying forward that policy in the nine Canadian provinces.

J. B. Munro, deputy minister of agriculture, was voted into the chair, and outlined the provincial service in agriculture. He was followed by President L. S. Klinck, of the University of British Columbia, who set out the work of the faculty of agriculture. The conference then broke off into subcommittees for consideration of departmental affairs concerning all three services, under Dominion, Provincial and University control. The sessions will conclude this morning.

H. J. BERRYMAN LAID AT REST

Large Number of Friends Pay Last Respects to Memory of Well-Known Citizen

The funeral of Harry J. Berryman, who died very suddenly on Saturday at Tofino, where he was manager of the salmon cannery, was very largely attended yesterday afternoon. A member of a well-known family in New Brunswick, many of his relatives and friends are now resident in this city. Most of his life was spent in Victoria, where he made many firm friends, his popularity continuing after he entered into the cannery business, which he had followed on the Skeena River and later on the West Coast of Vancouver Island.

The last rites were conducted by Rev. Canon Stocken. Hymns sung during the service were "Rock of Ages" and "Abide With Me." The pallbearers were Alex Monteith, Herbert Bissell, David Tait, David Critchley, W. Thomason and P. R. Fleming. Interment was made at the Royal Oak Burial Park.

Many beautiful floral tributes attested to the high regard in which the deceased was held by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

JACK-O'-LANTERN IS CAUSE OF FATALITY

CENTRALIA, Oct. 25.—Burns received when her night clothes were ignited while she was playing with a jack-o'-lantern Sunday night, caused the death today of Janice Bruno, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Bruno, of Centralia. Hospital attendants said the child's entire body, except for her feet, was burned.

FUNERAL TODAY

At 12:15 o'clock this afternoon, the funeral cortege for Mrs. Matilda Gordon will leave 840 Courtney Street, and proceed to Sooke, where the funeral service will be conducted at 2 o'clock at Holy Trinity Church, by Rev. H. M. Bolton. Interment will be made in the adjoining churchyard.

FUNERAL SERVICE

This afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, the funeral service will be conducted by Rev. Canon Hinchliffe, for Mrs. Elizabeth Day. Interment will be made at Royal Oak Burial Park.

FORESEES YEAR OF DEVELOPMENT

Canadian Marconi Company Manager Anticipates Successful Period for His Firm

In an interview with The Colonist yesterday L. S. Hawkins, district manager of the Canadian Marconi Company, said that he expected 1932 to be an excellent year for his company. "I attribute this mainly to some remarkable new developments created by Marconi engineers," said Mr. Hawkins, "but of course the marvelous background provided by our company's record extending back to the days when Guglielmo Marconi first transmitted messages across the Atlantic, also plays a big part.

"Our work ranges from equipping and operating the gigantic and spectacular beam wireless stations at Drummondville and Yamachiche down to producing large and small, sometimes almost insignificant parts for other radio manufacturers. Of course we make wireless apparatus for all kinds of sea and lake boats and conduct schools for training the necessary operators who generally remain on the Marconi payroll as most of this type of equipment is installed on a rental basis which includes an operator. Recently in co-operation with the Bell Telephone Company of Canada and the British Post Office, we opened an all-Imperial, transatlantic telephone service between Canada and the British Isles; the wireless part of this remarkable achievement is handled by Marconi.

IMPORTANCE SHOWN

"The importance of this Empire service was fully demonstrated during the recent Imperial Economic Conference when delegates were able to keep in constant touch with London and Dublin by telephone. In connection with around-the-world beam wireless services, it is interesting to know that the new Marconi all-wave single dial control radio receivers being shown today for the first time, were made possible through the employment of the Double Conversion Principle first developed by Marconi engineers for Beam Wireless operation. This is a striking instance of the value of our world-wide experience in helping us develop receivers for home reception and helps explain why Marconi radios have so far outdistanced competitive machines particularly with regard to short-wave reception. In this latter field Marconi has long reigned supreme.

"The waterways of the world have been made safe and easy for navigators by Marconi safety devices. The St. Lawrence from its gulf to Quebec city is charted by Marconi beam stations and all ships equipped with Marconi direction finders can steam safely up or down the river in the most impenetrable fog or the inky blackness of night. The Great Lakes and British Columbia coastal waters have been similarly equipped and Marconi service stations are in operation at all main ports to see that equipment is maintained in perfect operating condition. Just as waterways are Marconi-protected, so are skyways, for in our large factory at Mount Royal City we make beacons for aeroplane guidance as well as one way telephone transmitters and receivers so that a pilot can at all times keep in conversation with his airport.

MARCONI-MADE

"Long ago we recognized that if Marconi standards were to prevail in all our products, we must manufacture all parts under direct supervision of our production officials. In 1929 we completed the factory at Mount Royal City with the result that today all Marconi radio equipment is not only Made-in-Canada, but Marconi-made, for we buy practically nothing but raw materials such as steel, bakelite, wire, rubber, and other raw materials. It may astonish some people but it will also indicate the lengths to which we go in order to get precision that 25 per cent or one man out of every four employed is engaged in testing or inspection work."

LAST RITES TODAY

The funeral service will be conducted by Rev. Canon Stocken this afternoon, at 2 o'clock, for Albert Sampson Lloyd. Interment will be made at Royal Oak Burial Park.

WATER COLLECTED FROM AIR

By a new method drinking water is collected from the air in Southern France. A large, round pillar with a thick outer casing of cement is erected. The water is produced by the difference between day and night temperature forcing the air down pipes in the pillar, where it condenses and falls into a reservoir.

SETTLEMENT PLAN MOVES

B.C. Government Prepares Municipal Agreement Basis

Separate agreement will be signed by the British Columbia Government with any municipality wishing to take part in the Dominion-provincial land settlement scheme, for the placing of selected needy families on the land for a two-year trial of their ability to succeed at that calling, it was learned yesterday at the Legislative Buildings.

After conference with Mayor Louis D. Taylor and other Vancouver civic officials, Hon. N. S. Lougheed returned to the provincial capital yesterday to take up with Dr. W. H. Gaddes, Newman Taylor and other land and settlement officials, the working out of the scheme. Special agreement forms are now being prepared covering any pact that may be entered into between the Government and British Columbia municipal centres.

Vancouver, Mayor Taylor told Mr. Lougheed, is much interested in the plan, and is studying the question from all angles.

It is expected the committee of colonization, board of trade and other representatives which considered the plan originally will be summoned shortly by the Government to prepare the basis of a permanent structure on which the scheme can be carried out. This will involve local committees to supervise results.

BLIND FARMER'S WORK ENDED

Adam Graham, known far and wide as "the Blind Farmer of Westfalls," has died on his farm near Weardale, England, aged sixty-two. In his youth he was blinded in a lead mine explosion and never recovered his sight. Despite his handicap, he worked as a shepherd, milked cows, drove a horse and cart, and became recognized as a good judge of stock.

Synod of Toronto Diocese Adjourns After Three Inconclusive Ballots

TORONTO, Oct. 25 (CP).—Fifth Anglican Bishop of Toronto still unchosen after three inconclusive ballots, the specially assembled Synod of the Diocese of Toronto adjourned tonight to reconvene tomorrow for the fourth ballot. Five candidates were left in the running out of the thirty-one who received votes in the first ballot.

Leading the remaining candidates on the third ballot was Canon R. A. Armstrong, rector of the Church of Redeemer, of Toronto, with eighty clerical and fifty-six lay votes. He was closely followed by Bishop Derwin T. Owen, of Niagara, who showed increasing strength in each ballot to total seventy-eight clerical and forty-two lay votes on the third. Rev. H. F. D. Woodcock, Toronto, was third with twenty-one clerical and fourteen lay votes.

The other candidates in the field were Dr. T. S. Boyle, Cobourg, with eight clerical and five lay votes, and Canon F. J. Sawers, Toronto, with three clerical and three lay votes.

The total number of clerical votes cast on the last ballot was 190, of which ninety-six were required to give any candidate the necessary majority. Lay votes totaled 120 and sixty-one were required for a majority.

Rev. J. M. Dumphreys, of Camberwell, England, has married 735 couples and baptised 1,679 children.

ELECTION IS WARMING UP

First Meeting Will Be Held Tonight—Dr. J. D. Hunter May Be Candidate

The city's election campaign officially will get under way tonight when a nominating convention will be held in the Trades and Labor Council Hall, Courtney Street, at 8 o'clock. The Victoria Ratepayers' Association meeting will take place in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

At tonight's meeting delegates from the various trades unions will decide upon their candidates for civic office. Charles Chivers and among the nominees. It is under-Joseph Casey are expected to be stood, however, that a determined effort will be made to narrow the selection to one so that the labor vote will not be divided.

E. B. Andros, candidate for mayor, will announce his platform at the meeting of the Victoria Ratepayers' Association on Tuesday. Mr. Andros is a member of the association and will likely be endorsed by the membership. Arthur Hinder, another member of the association, is running for alderman, and probably will seek endorsement at the meeting.

Yesterday it was learned that Dr. J. D. Hunter had been approached to seek aldermanic honors again. Last year he ran sixth out of a large field of candidates, and only missed a seat on the council by sixty votes.

Unique Account Shows Value of Preacher's Work

The editor of the Church of England newspaper vouches for the following story related to him by a friend, who on a recent Sunday had preached in a certain Welsh church, and to whom was handed an envelope which contained the following "statement of account" made out on a tradesman's invoice form:

To Goods—	s.	d.
Reading Scripture -------	10	0
Prayer -------------------	15	0
Sermon -------------------	5	0
	£1	10 0

The editor's comment was that it was "a singular method of computing the value of a minister's services, and in this case an unflattering one.

EMPIRE'S BIGGEST BELL

Apropos of the observance of the tercentenary of the birth on October 20, 1632, of Sir Christopher Wren, the illustrious architect of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, is the reminder that "Great Paul" is the largest bell in the British Empire and weighs 16 tons 14 cwt. 2 qrs. 19 lbs. It cost in 1882 the large sum of £3,000 and it has (in Latin) the inscription "Woe is me if I preach not the Gospel." The procession of "Great Paul" through London from its foundry to the Cathedral excited the greatest interest and crowds accompanied it as it was drawn through the streets of London by a traction engine. Church bells along the route pealed forth as it passed by the churches.

City & District

Son Seeks Father—The Victoria Police Department is in receipt of a request from Toronto to assist in locating Ellis Ford Hill, who is believed to have operated a hotel in Victoria some years ago. Mr. Hill's son is anxious for news.

Declines Invitation—Sir Harry Lauder, in a telegram to John Cochrane, chairman of the speakers' committee of the Canadian Club, yesterday stated he would be unable to speak here on November 9 as his engagements were too pressing.

Voters' List—With registration of voters still continuing to be made at the City Hall, M. F. Hunter, city clerk, yesterday warned the public that but five days remain in which to get on the voters' list. To date, 1,455 names have been added to the roster.

Annual Meeting — The annual meeting of the Victoria Liberal Association will be held in the Liberal rooms, corner of Government and Broughton Streets, at 8 p.m., November 4, it was announced yesterday. T. D. Pattullo, leader of the Opposition, will address the gathering.

Visitors Attend Luncheon — A party of sixteen members of the Port Angeles Kiwanis Club, headed by Past President Judge R. B. Ritchie, were guests of the Victoria club at luncheon at the Empress Hotel yesterday. They were given a cordial welcome, and in the afternoon were taken for a tour of the city and district by automobile.

To Discuss Assessments—A special meeting of the Saanich Council will be held at Royal Oak tonight at 8 o'clock to discuss reassessment of land in the municipality in accordance with the judgment handed down by Judge P. S. Lampman in the County Court last year in the case of the Hudson's Bay Company's appeal against the assessment of its lands.

Hearings End—The last sitting of the city's Court of Revision on Assessments was held yesterday, when all outstanding appeals were considered. In all, sixty-seven appeals were heard against approximately 200 pieces of property. Reductions amounting to $20,000 were made. Yesterday the court reconsidered the assessment on St. Louis College after investigating the building costs, and reduced the assesament on improvements by $6,000.

Opposing Extradition—Hearing of evidence in connection with the application of the American authorities for the return of Ralph Walters, former financial broker of Auburn, Wash., to the United States, will be resumed before Judge Peter S. Lampman, in County Court here, at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Mr. Walters is wanted in the United States to stand trial on a charge of grand larceny. Charles E. Walters, his father, was ordered extradited last week.

Nominate Officers—The nominating committee appointed a week ago by the Kiwanis Club to present a slate of officers for election for the ensuing year, made an interim report to the club at the luncheon meeting yesterday, and a final report will likely be presented at the meeting next Tuesday. Names so far in nomination are as follows: For president, W. Ellis Brown; vice-president, Hugh Leigh; treasurer, Victor King; directors, E. D. La Lacheur, R. McKenzie, Arthur Dowell, J. McDowell, Dr. McDonald, H. Davis, Harry Currie, Dr. Grey, George Hart and A. Gibbs.

MOVEMENT HAS BRIGHT FUTURE

Dean Quainton Describes Work of New Oxford Group to Clubmen

Firm belief that the new Oxford Group Movement possesses potentialities which, if given a chance, will go far in revising human life, was expressed by Very Rev. C. S. Quainton, Dean of Columbia, during an address on his impressions of the movement as gained through his recent visit to the Old Country, given to members of the Round Table Club last night.

Dean Quainton explained that during his stay in England he had made an extensive study of the new group's work, which, he felt, would bring about a much needed spiritual renewal in the world.

The speaker explained how the founder, Frank Bookman, an American Lutheran minister, had found the inspiration for the new movement while listening to a woman preacher in a small English church. His primary activities had been directed in colleges and universities, and the first meeting of the new group was held in Cambridge University. The movement, the Dean explained, contains the essentials of the old religion with a modern trend. Its followers do not believe in publicity, advertising, making appeals for money, or indulging in religious controversy. They believe their job is to give people a new attitude in life and a new way of living.

NO DISTINCTIONS

Straightforward talking with no set orations is a feature of their meetings, many of which he attended. All social and racial distinction disappears and the movement is only for those who are prepared to realize their shortcomings and lay themselves at the feet of Christ.

Referring to the effect the movement had made upon himself, the Dean said it gave one more peace of mind, less fear of men and more sympathy for the modern mind. "It turned me inside out," he said, "with its unforced hilarity, its great freedom and lack of conventionalities, and its great spirit of fellowship."

When the founder had decided to start the movement, he spent years in preparing himself and making plans for presenting it, Dean Quainton said.

LITTLE OPPOSITION

In answer to questions from the clubmen, he explained that the movement had met with no denouncement from religious bodies in the Old Country and in many cases had been blessed by leading church men.

Thirty-three members of the group are now in Canada, the Dean stated, and he had invited them to Victoria, where, he hoped, they would be given a favorable hearing. Their principles would be criticized by all types of people, he continued, but added that they were entitled to a fair hearing.

EUGENE POTTER DIES

There passed away at the Jubilee Hospital on Monday, Eugene Martin Potter, in his seventy-third year. The deceased was born in St. Paul, and came to Victoria twenty-five years ago. There survive one nephew, J. W. Potter, of Vancouver, and one sister in Eastern Canada. The funeral will take place under the auspices of the I.O.O.F. lodge of this city, from the Sands Mortuary, Ltd., on Thursday, at 2 o'clock, with Rev. Daniel Walker officiating. The remains will be laid at rest in Ross Bay Cemetery.

CALLED BY DEATH

There passed away at the Jubilee Hospital, Maurice Chevalier, in his seventy-fifth year. The deceased was born in Quebec, and came to this city a number of years ago, residing at Esquimalt. Announcements of the funeral service will be made later.

MUST STAND TRIAL FOR FALSE PRETENCES

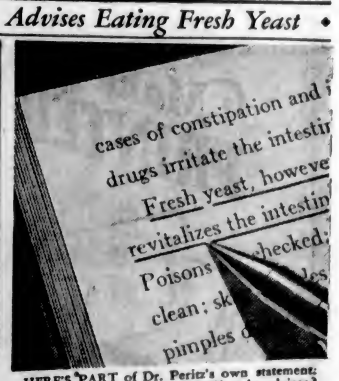

VANCOUVER, Oct. 25.—Edwin B Skinner was committed by Police Magistrate W. M. McKay to stand trial on a charge of obtaining $1,000 from Mary Esaken, East Georgia Street, by false pretences. The woman swore the false representations had been made by Skinner in inducing her to invest $1,000 in an expedition to rediscover a lost mine.

HERE'S PART of Dr. Peritz's own statement: Why not try fresh yeast yourself, as he advises?

Buy Made-in-Canada Goods

Read what this DOCTOR says!

He's telling you how to treat an extremely unpleasant evil—INTESTINAL FATIGUE!

ONE of the best-known physicians in Europe is speaking . . . Prof. Dr. Georg Peritz, for 17 years physician-in-chief of the most celebrated clinic in Berlin:—

"To relieve constipation and aid digestion, drugs are often used. But they irritate the intestines. The system soon becomes so used to them that they lose all effect.

"With yeast it is entirely different. Fresh yeast revitalizes the muscles of the intestines. Easy movements result . . . The tongue becomes clean; the head clears . . . skin troubles, such as pimples and furunculosis (boils) disappear."

If you really want to get rid of constipation, try eating Fleischmann's Yeast!

Just give it a thorough trial—for several weeks at least. Then check up. See if you haven't greater energy, a better appetite and digestion, a fresher, clearer skin.

All grocers have Fleischmann's Yeast—also restaurants, drug stores and soda fountains, and every cake is rich in health-giving vitamins B, G and D. Just eat 3 cakes a day, regularly, as directed on the label.

AUXILIARY WILL DONATE CHURCH

Local Leper Mission Body to Finance New Building in Japan

The Victoria Auxiliary of the Mission to Lepers yesterday afternoon decided to undertake the construction of a church at Fukuoko, Japan, in connection with the leper mission at that place, following an address by Rev. H. N. Konkle, secretary of the mission.

During his address, Mr. Konkle spoke of this Japanese mission, where Rev. Bishop Lee is in charge, and where it is necessary to hold religious services in the open. He referred to the rapid spread of Christianity among the lepers of the Orient, and made a plea for assistance to provide those at Fukuoko with a church.

At the conclusion of Mr. Konkle's address, it was decided that the local auxiliary should undertake the raising of sufficient finances for the erection of the church. Mr. Konkle previously pointed out that about one-half of the amount necessary had been raised, but work could not proceed until the full funds were on hand.

Any interested in this work and desirous of making a donation to assist are asked to communicate with Mrs. E. C. Wilderspin, secretary, at 92 Wellington Avenue, or Thomas Humphries, president, at Room 307, Jones Building.

Members of Malaspina Chapter, I.O.D.E., Nanaimo, were hostesses recently in the Nanaimo Golf and Country Club to a large number of guests at their annual Hallowe'en party. The room looked pretty with its Hallowe'en colors and orange balloons, while black cats, witches, illuminated pumpkins, etc., added greatly to the general decorative scheme. General conveners were Misses Dorothy Devlin, Martha Chambers, Dolly Schivardi, Regina Brown and Agnes Stephenson.

Hot Sweet Omelet Is Salsburg Specialty

This Luscious Dessert a Favorite in Austria . . . Delicious Food in Restaurants—Three New Recipes Given

By EDITH M. BARBER

Austria, perhaps even more than Bavaria, is the land of rich and luscious desserts. Many of them are served with whipped cream and many of them served hot. In Salzburg a specialty which is served everywhere is a hot sweet omelet. It must be eaten as soon as it comes from the fire, so you must give your order in plenty of time.

It seems to be impossible for it to be made in small quantities, and apparently whether you order for one or five you get the same enormous portion, which looks exactly like a fluffy omelet. Personally, I think it could be improved by flavoring, and I suggest the addition of orange juice and rind or of some cordial, to give it more character.

Another, less spectacular, but better-liked dessert, in my opinion, is a baked pudding which is a cross between a souffle and a cottage pudding. I think I can work out a recipe for it when I get home to my kitchen. It is quite brown and crisp, sprinkled with powdered sugar and toasted. But inside it is soft. With it were served tiny wild strawberries and sliced pears. There is another hot dessert for which I will have to work out a recipe. It tastes like a French pancake with raisins, but is in tiny bits, as if it had been scrambled.

SERVED IN MUNICH

The most delicious and wonderful dessert is a specialty at Walterspiel Restaurant, one of the finest in Munich. It is a form of crepe French pancake, but it has sugar, ground almonds and cordial mixed with the batter before it is fried. No sauce—and it is not needed—is served with this.

Of course, Austria has always been noted for pastry, and I am glad to report that none of my illusions about this matter have been shattered. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon the coffee houses, with their gardens, are full of people drinking coffee or chocolate and eating rolls and little pastries. The latter are passed on huge trays and you select what you wish or what you cannot resist. There is cream cake, a sponge cake with fresh whipped cream between the layers, with white frosting on top; another with a kind of mocha frosting and a layer of sliced hazel nuts on the sides. There are tiny eclairs, like pastries frosted and decorated; fruit tarts and almond cake—any many others.

Many people also eat pastry in the evening when they go to a cafe to drink coffee and to listen to the very good music. A few drink wine, more drink beer, but most seem to take coffee, often with hot milk and whipped cream. As I said before, the latter is often served with after-dinner coffee—don't say you could not bear that—for I said the same, and I'm finding a dash of it very good indeed.

A SPECIAL MENU

At the Walterspiel, after-dinner coffee was made at the table in a tiny glass percolator, which makes just two small cups. I think I must tell you about the rest of that delicious meal at this restaurant, one of the best in Europe, where I asked the maitre d' hotel to choose a meal which should contain special dishes. The restaurant itself is small and very quiet and original. There is a distant sound of soft music from the cafe of the hotel with which it is connected. For a first course he gave us tender crawfish, which looks like lobster, but which is more tender. This was served with sour cream sauce, for which I can give you the recipe. Next came broiled partridge breasts on toast, with a ring of sauted onions as a garnish. With this came friend apples and a mashed potato souffle with browned crumbs. The dessert I have already told you about.

The cuisine at this restaurant is French—the chef, in fact, is a pupil of Escoffier—but it has a delightful local Bavarian touch, as the use of the onion in this way, the fried apple and the mashed potato shows. I think I mentioned that potatoes are usually served in two forms at a meal, but I am going to devote an article to the subject of potatoes in Europe.

SOME EUROPEAN DISHES

Cucumbers With Sour Cream

One cup sour cream, salt, paprika, vinegar, two sups sliced cucumbers or shredded cabbage and one pimento.

Whip the cream, season to taste, fold in the cucumbers or cabbage. Cut the pimento in thin strips and use as a garnish. Sweet cream may be used if extra vinegar is added.

Cream Sponge Cake

Three eggs, one cup sugar, one cup flour, one teaspoon baking powder, salt and quarter-cup cold water.

Bake the sponge cake in an oblong pan, and when cool slice with a long sharp knife. Put layers together with the flavored whipped cream. Frost top and sides with a thin coating of frosting. Press nuts around sides and garnish tops.

Whipped Cream Filling

One cup cream, quarter-cup powdered sugar, half-teaspoon vanilla flavoring, quarter-teaspoon lemon flavoring and half-cup sliced nuts (hazelnuts or almonds).

Break the eggs into a bowl, add the sugar and beat together ten minutes. Add dry ingredients which have been sifted together, and the cold water. Stir and bake in a moderately hot oven forty to fifty minutes.

Verses Appear in Magazine

THANKFUL FOR WHAT?

Not for the mighty world, Oh, Lord, tonight,
Nations and kingdoms in their fearful might,
Let me be glad the kettle gently sings,
Let me be thankful, just for little things.

Thankful for simple food and supper spread,
Thankful for shelter and a warm clean bed,
For little joyful feet that gladly run
To welcome me, when all my work is done;

Thankful for friends who share my woe and mirth,
Glad for the warm sweet fragrance of the earth,
For golden pools of sunshine on the floor,
For love that sheds its peace about my door.

For little friendly days that slip away,
With only meals and bed, and work and play,
A rocking chair and kindly firelight,
For little things, let us be glad tonight.

What One Girl Wore

By BETTY BROWNLEE

One of the most interesting features of the first fashion shows is the tendency to reunite sports and town modes which for some time past have been definitely separated. This is evident in the many stunning models that I had the opportunity of observing in the last few weeks. Materials are rough, and hairy, but supple. They are rich in their color schemes and in their easy-to-wear character and they are ideal for all kinds of use.

EXQUISITE SUITS

There are exquisite suits for dress wear that may be worn well into the Winter. One model in particular that impressed me was fashioned of a rich green wool. Its coat was three-quarter length and the skirt flared slightly. A large and luxurious collar of grey Persian lamb topped the coat and there was a matching fur muff to carry when the winds grow really strong. The coat was marked at the waistline with a grey and green leather belt. And with this costume came a cunning small hat of green felt banded with grey Persian lamb. No one could ask for a smarter costume.

POPULAR MODE

The tweed suit consisting of four units is smart, too. It is especially popular with the college girl for campus wear. It consists of a three-quarter tweed coat, a matching skirt, a sweater blouse, and a cunning tweed beret.

Worn with a simple silk blouse, it is appropriate for wear in town.

Today's sketch shows a novel suit cut on extremely slim lines. The tan woolen skirt is worn with a brown and tan checked jacket that buttons across the waistline. The sleeves are long and tight-fitting. A bright orange and brown scarf is the finishing touch.

Wedding of Victorian Celebrated in Japan

Miss Ena Marshall Becomes Bride of Mr. Horace V. Bleackley at Yokohama—To Make Their Home in Tokio

Of interest to many Victoria friends of the bride is the following account, from The Japan Advertiser, of the wedding which took place on October 12 in Yokohama, Japan, of Ena Frances Alice, youngest daughter of Mrs. I. G. Marshall, of 1206 Fairfield Road, Victoria, to Mr. Horace Vivian Bleackley:

"A beautiful wedding of particular interest to both the Tokio and Yokohama foreign communities took place in Yokohama yesterday afternoon, when Miss Ena Marshall was married to Mr. H. V. Bleackley at Christ Church on the Bluff at 2:30 o'clock.

"The ceremony was held before a large number of friends of the bride and groom, including the British Ambassador and Lady Lindley, who came down from Tokio for the occasion.

"Bishop S. Heaslett united the couple, while Mr. S. R. Kerr gave the bride away. Miss Muriel Fardel was bridesmaid and Mr. George Wevill was best man. The ushers were Messrs A. R. Thatcher, commander, R.N., R. R. Sawbridge, J. E. H. Rawlins and Hon. H. J. Waldron. Rev. C. E. Payne was at the organ. The church was beautifully decorated with Fall flowers and palms and a perfect Autumn day added an auspicious touch to the occasion.

RECEPTION HELD

"Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. S. R. Kerr, at 866 Juniten, Honmoku. Many of the guests gathered there to drink a toast to the happy newlyweds and to see them off on their honeymoon. The bride and groom left for Miyanoshita about 4:30 o'clock to spend two weeks, after which they will return to Tokio and be 'at home' at No. 13-b Reinanzaka, near the American Embassy.

"The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. C. W. Marshall, of Shanghai, and Mrs. I. G. Marshall, of Victoria, British Columbia, and a niece of Mrs. E. J. Fardel, of Yokohama. She is a cousin of Mrs. S. R. Kerr, of Yokohama. She came to Japan about one year ago from Victoria and has resided in Yokohama since then at the home of Mrs. Fardel.

"Mr. Bleackley is the son of the late Mr. Horace W. Bleackley, of Manchester, and Mrs. Bleackley, who is now in London. He came to Japan three years ago for the importing and exporting firm of Sale & Company, with whom he is now connected in Tokio.

TO LIVE IN TOKIO

"Both Mr. and Mrs. Bleackley are well-known members of the younger set in Tokio and Yokohama, and their permanent residence in Tokio will be welcomed by their many friends here. Mr. Bleackley is a popular sportsman at the Y.C. and A.C. and a member of the club's cricket team, and friends of the couple will no doubt still see them frequently in the port.

"The bride at the wedding ceremony wore a white satin gown made with long flowing lines, with small circular top sleeves and long lace ones beneath. Her veil was of embroidered net, caught at the back with orange blossoms.

"She carried a bouquet of pale lavender orchids and wore a double string of pearls. The bridesmaid's dress was of deep coral satin made with elbow-length puffed sleeves. Her sandals were of the same color and the little cap was of ecru lace banded with tiny flowers of the same color as the frock. She carried African daisies of a deep saffron and rusty shade which blended perfectly with her frock."

Anniversary Is Celebrated by Order of Moose

A most successful whist drive and dance was held on Monday evening in the K. of C. Hall, by the lodges of the Loyal Order of Moose in celebration of Mooseheart Day, October 27.

Mr. T. Spouse gave a short speech on Mooseheart, and explained that the anniversary was commemorated by the lodges in all parts of the world. He told of the progress made since the reorganization of the community of the Loyal Order of Moose in Illinois in 1913, and of the humanitarian enterprises of Mooseheart, the home for the aged in Florida, and of the work done among children of members.

The music for the dance was excellent, and Mrs. A. Hatcher was convener of the card games, the winners being: Ladies' first, Mrs. Hopkin; consolation, Mr. P. Humbert; gentlemen's first, Mrs. J. Reed; consolation, Mrs. Crabtree. Refreshments were served by Mrs. A. Hatcher, Mrs. M. Pearce, Mrs. K. Herring, Mrs. B. Brown, Mrs. R. Panting and Mr. J. Johnstone. Mr. T. Spouse was convener of the evening.

TO HOLD CARD PARTY

The Saanich Welfare Association will hold a bridge party in the Lake Hill Community Hall tomorrow night, at 8 o'clock. Proceeds from the affair will be donated to welfare work in the municipality.

Entertains Bride-Elect

Mrs. F. C. Kilsby entertained last evening at her home on Chester Street, with a "home-made jam and pickle shower," given in honor of Miss Marion Adam, whose marriage to Mr. Richard G. Shank will take place on Saturday. The cartons were tied with mauve and pink crepe paper and were concealed behind a screen also decorated with mauve and pink paper. A color scheme of mauve and pink was carried out in the decoration of the drawing and dining-rooms, which were arranged with vases of chrysanthemums. At midnight a buffet supper was served from a table centred with a bowl of chrysanthemums, lighted by tall tapers. The guests included: Mesdames McAllister, W. McIntosh, J. Christian, W. Lynn, J. Winter, A. Winter, R. Stinson, H. G. Allan, G. Cruickshank, G. D. Boughton, R. Shanks, F. Shanks, J. Adam, W. C. Morsby, T. Palmer, Miss H. Rogers, Miss V. Kilsby and Miss Grace Adam.

Daughters Of Pity Do Fine Work

Miss Maude Worthington was re-elected president of the Daughters of Pity at the annual meeting held last evening at the Nurses' Home, Jubilee Hospital, eighteen members attending. Other officers were elected as follows: Vice-president (re-elected), Miss Tait; treasurer, Miss Evelyn Tait; secretary, Miss Marion Stevenson.

Miss Lovell read a report of the past history of the society, and the secretary and treasurer read detailed reports of the year's work. Gifts had been made to the Jubilee Hospital fund; a bazaar and tea and bridge party had been held, and the society's interests had centred round the children's ward, for which flannelette, towels, vests, pillowslips, wash cloths, bedspreads and other necessities had been purchased, as well as candy, flowers and toys at Christmas and Easter.

It was decided that future meetings be held at the Nurses' Home. Miss Gray and Miss Hoyt were appointed to visit the children's ward during November.

Artists in Canada Do 'Sane Work'

VANCOUVER, Oct. 25 (CP).—"Nowhere in the world today is there a school of landscape painting to be compared with that in Canada. It is so dynamic, so virile, and so related to background and environment," declared Mme. Johanne Bietry-Salinger, of Toronto, well-known Canadian art critic, in an adress before the Women's Canadian Club here today. She also believed that the "Group of Seven" gave the most significant expression to the spiritual outlook of the Dominion.

"It is a sane art in Canada," asserted Mme. Bietry-Salinger, in opening a series of lectures throughout the Dominion on Canadian art. There was no cubism nor futurism in art in this country, she said, but everything depicted by Canadian artists was related to environment and engendered by the creator's love of his country.

BRITISH TRADITION

Distinctly Canadian art was found only among the English-speaking people of Canada, she declared, and explained that other races in the Dominion had come to Canada with preconceived ideas and traditions, whereas those of the English tongue were practical first, and when leisure was gained turned to various schools for inspiration. But the result was a type expressive of Canada. Just now there was a pause in creative art in Canada, she stated, artists not feeling the inspiration strong enough within them to drive them to expression. In the meantime they wait for this force to arise again.

The younger people, Mme. Bietry-Salinger said, were beginning to make their influence felt, mentioning the school arising in Montreal in which women were taking a very prominent part.

Cricketers Will Arrange Dance At Shrine Hall

One of the first important social events of the Winter season will take place tomorrow evening when a dance and frolic, under the auspices of the Victoria cricketers, will be held at the Shrine auditorium.

Dancing will start at 9 o'clock, continuing until 2 o'clock, and several original variety turns have been arranged and will be interspersed with the dance numbers. One of the best of the local orchestras has been engaged and no pains have been spared by the committee to make the affair a success.

Funds raised by the dance are to be applied to the cost of preparing and conditioning th new Macdonald field.

Tickets for the dance are obtainable from any Victoria cricketer, and from members of the committee, who are as follows: Messrs. Frank Allwood, Hubert Lethaby, P. C. Payne, Percy Shrimpton and Douglas Fletcher.

Mount View High Organize Rugby And Cage Squads

Preliminary details were completed by the various sports committees at the Mount View High School, Saanich, at a recent meeting for the season. The boys have organized basketball and Rugby teams and the girls have started plans for the forming of a grass hockey squad and have badminton in view as soon as arrangements can be made.

Rugby practice will be held each Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, and the team will start league competition by facing Mount Douglas High School fifteen tomorrow at Reynold's Field. In the basketball division, the boys have formed four quintettes, Cubs, Giants, Cougars and Tigers, and will play at Lake Hill Hall each Wednesday afternoon.

Change in Plans for Junior W.A. Dance

MRS. K. R. F. DENNISTON

president of the Jubilee Hospital Junior W.A., under whose auspices a Hallowe'en dance will be held next Monday evening. Owing to the demand for tickets, it has been found necessary to hold the dance at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club instead of at the Plantation-by-the-Sea.

Weddings

CROWTHER—ROBINSON

A pretty wedding was solemnized on October 22 at the home of the bride's parents, when Dorothy Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Robinson, Eldon Place, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Henry Crowther, son of the late Mr. G. T. Crowther and Mrs. Crowther, Boleskine Road. Rev. J. S. Patterson officiated. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a lovely gown of white georgette with lace panels, and wore her mother's lace veil and orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of white carnations. Miss Jean Betts, of Oakland, was the bridesmaid, wearing a gown of reseda green silk crepe and carried a bouquet of pale pink carnations. A buffet supper was served to the guests, and the young couple received many good wishes. They will make their home on Jasmine Avenue, Marigold.

Velvet Favorite for Autumn Fashions

All Paris Designers Show Wide Use of This Soft and Adaptable Material—Furs Used Extensively as Trimming

This Autumn velvet is used widely in dress, says a Paris correspondent in The Times (London). It is preferably not very fine, but is of a dull woolen surface, such as rain does not spoil. Ribbed or plain, dark or bright, it is made into dresses, coats, skirts and long coats. Close or transparent silk velvets are for afternoon and evening dresses, wraps, trimmings and millinery.

Worth makes formal afternoon and evening coats of Lyons velvet with detachable fur scarfs, collars and capes. With woolen coats he puts velvet scarfs, ruches, collars and cuffs. Velvet ruches are also worn with evening dresses of crepe georgette, romain and marocain; they slip on like necklaces, or lie about the shoulders and tie at the side or back. Some are made with looped ribbon velvet; others with loosely puckered piece velvet. Small Directoire capes of velvet go with woolen coats, or indeed with any suitable dress or coat.

VELVET FOR HATS

There are woolen or cotton velvet hats of every kind; some are treated to be as resistive as felt. Jean Patou, who makes boater hats, trims them with a touch of fur or a metal buckle; the color depends on the dress and coat. The tricorne, whether of velvet or felt, is trimmed lightly with a velvet edging or bow. For formal afternoons there are silk velvet turbans. Round plain crowns rolled and twisted brims curve. With a plain felt crown the brim may be a wide rope of velvet. Plain velvet crowns have brims of flat feathers. A felt crown may have a section of incrusted velvet. A velvet crown may have sections of two colors or two shades of one color.

Theatre turbans of the finest velvet are trimmed with jeweled clasps and feathers. White velvet bows trim many black velvet hats. There are velvet muffs long and flat with floppy sides or small and barrel-shaped. Chenille hats have close-fitting chenille necklaces.

AS TRIMMING

There are sets of velvet trimmings in different colors. A blue, white, brown or black velvet scarf, muff and hat may suit several dresses. A high and draped velvet collar is fastened by long ribbon ends. A velvet waist belt, ruche and turban may be worn on a dark or bright dress, to which they make a contrast.

Schiaparelli is using skunk fur. With a hyacinth blue silk dress reversible and figured with small squares, she puts a coat of ribbed woolen beige cioth, adding a skunk scarf to be tied at the shoulder with long ends of crinkled blue ribbon known as fremito. A skunk muff has a band of this ribbon running across it. The woolen hat has a high crown of beige and hyacinth blue. Schiaparelli's hyacinth colors are mixed with beige, grey, brown, black and white. For the evening her lacy woolens and clinging jerseys mold the figure and pleat at the back and waist, from which fall long, slender draperies. A light hyacinth blue jersey dress goes with a white ermine bolero with bands instead of sleeves across the upper arm. This bolero may also be made of fremito.

MODEST JEWELRY

Dress jewelry is restrained. Metal chains, clips, buttons and belts are for morning frocks. Mainbocher has a silver ring necklace to go with black, brown, dark blue or grey. Chanel puts decorative metal belts on woolen jumpers. Max puts silver and paste belts on evening fur coats. Vera Borea has some clips and belts on her woolen frocks.

Chanel, Callot and Martial et Armand suggest plain velvet evening slippers with gloves to match, or they may be ribbed or trimmed with silver or gilt kid. Jean Patore advises satin evening slippers and bronze kid slippers for the afternoon. Light or dark gloves of the pull-over kind are fashionable; very decorative gloves are for the evening.

CHRISTIANIZE CANADA PLEA OF MINISTER

Rev. Dr. R. B. Cochrane Makes Appeal for Workers on Frontiers

DYNAMIC FORCE OF LOVE WORLD'S NEED

"If we cannot make Canada Christian, we have no religion worth exporting," said Rev. R. B. Cochrane, D.D., of Toronto, head of the mission work of the United Church throughout the Dominion, in addressing a public meting in the Metropolitan Church last evening. The divisions between home and foreign missions, in the opinion of the speaker, were purely artificial. The work was one and the same, whether conducted in Canada or foreign lands.

The moral sickness of the world today, he said, was the great opportunity of the church at this hour. What the world was pining for was the dynamic force of love such as was taught by the Master.

WORLD IDEA WIDENED

The world was a much greater one today than it had been in the past centuries. When Christ demanded His disciples to go out and preach the Gospel to all the world, that world was a small portion of the globe about the Mediterranean. Modern inventions and means of transport had altered all this. Oceans no longer separated the world; they united it.

"The world is at our door," declared the speaker. "Mentally, morally, financially and economically, the world is one today."

The world, said Dr. Cochrane, was a sick one today. A moral and spiritual revolution was what it stood in need of. Hate and greed had done their worst.

Canada was not yet Christian, he continued. It was not so economically, socially or ecclesiastically. In support of this, he alluded to Canada having 750,000 persons who wanted work and could not get it.

"We call ourselves Christian, but we have not the mind nor the spirit that was in Jesus."

CHALENGE OF ATHEISM

Dr. Cochrane alluded to the sentiment that existed in parts of Canada which was not only not Christian, but which was atheistic. This offered a challenge to Christianity. The United Church, he argued, must take a very large share in the making of Canada Christian.

Referring to the formation of the United Church, the speaker said that the churches in Canada had come to the conclusion that if they were to make Canada Christian, they must stop quarreling among themselves. The United Church was not invading any territory where any other church filled the field, he stated. Its business was to avoid overlapping.

At some little length Dr. Cochrane told of the experiences he had with young missionaries and their wives in offering their services in the outlying sections of the Dominion in the effort to carry the Gospel to pioneers and to foreign peoples. In this connection he said "no one could go unchallenged by him who criticized the youth of Canada today."

DUTY TO FOREIGNERS

Dr. Cochrane also appealed on behalf of the settlers who were found in this country who had come from foreign lands. The variety of nationalities offered its problems. These had to be faced. The peoples so represented were invited to come to this country and there was a duty cast upon Canadians to make them good citizens. The call was made to the church to look after these people. If this call were answered, the next generation that came from these homes would be good Canadians.

In this connection the head of the mission work told of the experience he had had in visiting a settlement of Hungarians in the territory served by the Hudson Bay Railway. Never had he enjoyed a religious service like the one he attended there, where a United Church missionary was carrying on a splendid work. Other instances somewhat similar were recalled by the speaker.

"The United Church is not forgetting its duty to the new Canadians," he said.

WORKERS ON FRONTIERS

The missionaries who were located on the frontiers of the country, far from the advantages of older settlements and who were putting up with all kinds of privations, received the greatest praise from Dr. Cochrane. He never heard a single complaint from these men and their self-sacrificing wives. These men and women were laying the foundations of a righteousness on the frontiers of the Dominion. They were the real founders of Canada.

He said that he was touring the Dominion making an appeal for money for missions. The men on the various fields had been cut to the very lowest possible. They could not be cut again.

The meeting was presided over by Rev. W. P. Blunt, of Nanaimo, the convener of the mission committee of the Presbytery. Rev. Dr. E. A. Henry, who had known Dr. Cochrane for many years, introduced the speaker. Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson assisted in the preliminary devotional exercises. Rev. J. H. A. Warr, assistant pastor of the Metropolitan Church, rendered a solo.

On the conclusion of the address, Rev. E. F. Church paid a compliment to the inspiration which Dr. Cochrane had given them all.

STARTS PUBLIC SPEAKING GROUP

FRANK PAULDING

The initial organization meeting of the Public Speaking Class at the local Y.M.C.A. was held last night under the leadership of Frank Paulding, general secretary of the association.

Mr. Paulding, who is an accomplished lecturer himself, acquired a reputation as a teacher of public speaking through his classes in New Westminster. The course used is the standard Y.M.C.A. series being taught at present in more than 150 cities in the British Empire.

Mr. Paulding stated last night that although he had set a definite limit upon the number of students he was willing to accommodate, he still had three or four vacancies.

The next meeting of the class will be held on Tuesday evening, November 1, at 8 o'clock.

TO BE BURIED TODAY

Funeral services will be held this morning, at 11 o'clock, for Mrs. Mary Alice Wall, at her late residence, 745 Herald Street. Rev. James Hood will officiate, and the remains will be forwarded to Vancouver for cremation. Sands Mortuary, Ltd., is in charge of arrangements, and it is requested by the family that friends omit flowers.

URGE RACING COMMISSION

B.C. Thoroughbred Horsebreeders' Ass'n Protest Against "Doping"

Formation of a racing commission for the purpose of "cleaning up" alleged irregularities in the sport in this province will be urged upon the Government in a petition that is to be circulated by the British Columbia Thoroughbred Horsebreeders' Association.

Drafting of a petition was decided upon at the annual meeting of the association, held last night. It also was decided to ask the co-operation of the Hunt Club and the S.P.C.A. The meeting had a full discussion on the question of doping horses, and it was contended by many that the practice was still being carried out.

In view of the complaints received at the meeting, it was decided to ask the Government to see that the law prohibiting this practice is enforced to the fullest extent.

W. Hastie Cochrane was elected president of the association. Other officers chosen were: First vice-president, Mrs. Hugh Niven; second vice-president, Mrs. J. Mackenzie; directors, R. Stralendorff, W. Curtis and D. C. Hunter; secretary-treasurer, David Evans, and auditor, John Baxter.

Funeral Tomorrow

The funeral of Rev. Frances Charles Mortimer, who passed away at the Jubilee Hospital on Monday, will be held tomorrow afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, with Rev. Canon A. E. de L. Nunns officiating, assisted by Rev. Canon H. W. G. Stocken and Ven. E. P. Laycock, Archdeacon of Columbia. Interment will be made at Royal Oak Burial Park. The remains are reposing at McCall Bros.' Funeral Parlors.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL ON ROBBERY CHARGE

VANCOUVER, Oct. 25.—Charged in the police court as one of three men who held up Dominion Specialty Co., Burrard Street, and escaped with $406, on September 10, Mickey Dubin was today committed for trial.

Mildred Dunmore, cashier of the company, swore at the preliminary hearing that Dubin was one of the men who compelled her at the point of a revolver to disclose where the company's money was kept.

NOTICED CHANGES IN OLD COUNTRY

Miss J. A. Cann Tells College Literary Group of Modern English Developments

"Some Modern Trends in the Culture and Customs of England" formed the topic of an address by Miss J. A. Cann to members of the Literary Society of the Victoria College at a meeting last night. Miss Cann dealt with conditions in England as she found them during a visit in the Summer.

At the outset, the speaker stated she did not expect to like the changes which she anticipated had come over England since her last visit six years ago. On arriving in the Old Land, however, she discovered that England had become even dearer to her inasmuch as the changes had made it resemble Canada more than formerly.

One of the most impressive changes Miss Cann noticed was that of air travel. She took a trip from London to Paris in one of the luxurious thirty-two-passenger planes, which she declared offered greater comfort than steamship travel at only a slightly higher cost.

OTHER CHANGES

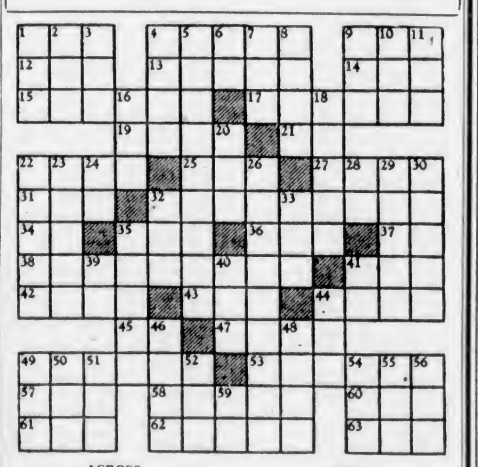

Other changes noticed by the speaker were in designing of silverware, furniture, and in the theatres. Silverware, she said, was designed more for complicity and utility now, while modern furniture had a similar thought predominating.

Numerous changes were noticed in theatre decorations, where beautiful scenery was used extensively. In one theatre Miss Cann recalled seeing for the first time a revolving stage in use.

Humphrey Toms, president, announced that future meetings of the society would all have a modern trend, with speakers dealing with present-day conditions in various arts.

OXYCEN KILLS COFFEE FLAVOUR

So We Removed All Oxygen

Here's what happens:

If there is air inside the tin or package or if air is allowed to get in—

Coffee loses flavour, deteriorates.

Exclusive Vita-Fresh Process Removes all Oxygen

Maxwell House Coffee is now packed so that all oxygen is completely taken out and kept out from the sealed tin. This new Vita-Fresh packing method is absolutely exclusive to Maxwell House Coffee.

So you can not only count on the famous quality of Dixie's far-famed blend. You can now be sure that this quality is protected so as to guarantee richer flavour and smoothness always.

Today, tell your grocer to send a sealed and locked tin with the words "Vita-Fresh" marked on it.

Air Inside the Package Kills Coffee Flavour

Loose or bag coffee loses 65 per cent. of its flavour in 9 days after roasting.

Coffee in old-fashioned tins or cardboard cartons loses 45 per cent. of its flavour in 9 days after roasting.

DEBT ADJUSTMENT BASIS EXPECTED AS CONFERENCE RESULT

REGINA, Sask., Oct. 25.—From an interprovincial conference in Regina at the end of this week is expected to come some suggestion about the basis for a debt adjustment for the three Prairie Provinces.

While members of the Saskatchewan Government have refused to comment on what form the proposals will take, it is understood the matter of interest and mortgages, the compounding of unpaid interest at high rates during a period, when farmers have found it impossible to meet the payments, will be considered at length.

The premiers of Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Alberta, will attend, and financial experts and ministers of the three provinces will be heard in respect to interest payments, it is stated.

Brown and Smith were out shooting on the moors, when a small animal darted across their path and disappeared in the undergrowth.

"That looked like a stoat," remarked Brown.

"I should say it was a weasel," said Smith.

"But a stoat is so weasily distinguished," persisted Brown.

"Quite so, but a weasel is stoatally different," pointed out Smith.

Hostilities Cost Areas of Greater Shanghai Millions

Figures Recently Released Show Total Damages $36,400,000—Amount Donated to 19th Route Army Almost $11,000,000

Buildings of various descriptions, covering a total area of 740,000 square metres in the six districts of Chapei, Woosung, Chenju, Penpu, Yinghsiang and Kiangwan, were completely razed during the Sino-Japanese difficulties last Spring, according to passengers reaching Victoria aboard the Ss. Empress of Russia on Monday. The statistics were compiled by the Bureau of Public Works of the city government of Greater Shanghai, and were released shortly before the liner reached that port from Hongkong on her way to Japan.

Other structures which were more or less seriously damaged during the local warfare' are estimated to cover 10,000 square metres in these six districts, according to the bureau statistics. The total loss for the completely and partially damaged buildings in the city is estimated at $36,400,000.

To encourage reconstruction in the war-devastated zone, and to relieve the stricken residents, the bureau ordered exemption of building permit application fees for three months as from May last. At the end of the three-month period, a total of 583 permits had been issued free. These permits are for construction of buildings to cover an area of 79,000 square metres and estimated to cost $1,920,000.

SMALL PART

The area on which the new buildings are to be erected represents but one-tenth of the total area which was razed and destroyed. In addition to the building permits, 283 licences for repairing, 170 for miscellaneous purposes and fifty-nine for demolition of damaged buildings also were issued for the devastated areas.

Another item of interest to reach Victoria by the same ship related to the contributions which had been received by the 19th Route Army, during and following its historical armed resistance against the Japanese invasion of the Shanghai areas early in the year. These contributions were recently acknowledged in a report made public by Generals Chiang Kwang-nai and Tsai Tink-kai, the commanders of the crack Cantonese unit, now basking in the sunshine of popular acclaim in China.

The report discloses that contributions received at the 19th Route Army headquarters during the months between February 1 to July 31 amounted to $10,680,373.20, $46,725 (gold), £56 10s and $50 in subsidiary coins. Of the total, the 19th Route Army commanders spent $10,220,496.70 for its operations against the Japanese forces and for the assistance lent the allied units which participated in the defence works. The balance of $459,875.50, $46,725 (gold), £56 10s and the $50 in subsidiary coins was shown on the credit side of the army books at the end of June, the commandants announced.

FROM ABROAD

Besides the cash, there were large donations of articles such as uniforms, food, and many other things to improve or help the soldiers fighting for their country. Of the total amount contributed, donations from abroad amounted to almost $5,000,000.

The main items on the expenditures side of the balance sheet are those for salaries and wages for the privates and officers, and a sum of $1,200,000 for the purchasing of firearms to replace those damaged or lost during the fighting, while the sum of $1,700,000 was disbursed for the payment of back wages of the army unit for the months from June to November, 1931.

Stranded Vessel Floated Without Getting Damaged

SEATTLE, Oct. 25 (AP).—The United States Bureau of Fisheries here received a wireless message from the fisheries boat Elder, which grounded on Green Island in Hegate Strait, near Prince Rupert, today, saying she had floated off a reef and was proceeding under her own power to Ketchikan, without taking any water. Earlier messages indicated the boat, with a crew of seven aboard, was badly wrecked.

Captain S. L. West is master of the Elder. Other officers are Mate J. R. Crawford and Engineer Fulk, the Bureau of Fisheries said. The bureau said she was the former Government vessel Idaho. The boat is eighty feet long and powered with Diesel engines.

Crew of Lost British Vessel Bright Fan

LIGHTLY clad for October weather in Manitoba, the crew of the 2,357-ton steel-built ship Bright Fan, which struck an iceberg thirteen miles northeast of Wales Island in Hudson Strait with a cargo of 250,000 bushels of grain bound for England, reached Winnipeg recently. The above photograph shows Captain Oliver with his twenty-eight seamen as they arrived from the North en route to Ottawa for an official inquiry regarding the first shipping accident since the official opening of the Port of Churchill last year.

BLAME BRIGHT FAN OFFICERS

Master and First Mate Held to Be in Default in Loss of Freighter

OTTAWA, Oct. 25 (CP).—The master and chief officer of the British freighter Bright Fan were held to be in default, contributing to the loss of their vessel on an iceberg in Hudson Strait, in the judgment of the court of inquiry handed down this morning. The court held that a proper lookout had not been maintained.

No disciplinary action was taken by the court, in accordance with instructions of the Acting Minister of Marine, who desired only that responsibility for the disaster be fixed.

The Bright Fan, grain laden from Churchill and bound for England, struck an iceberg in Hudson Strait, north of Wales Island, and sank three hours later. The crew was picked up by the Canadian Government icebreaker N. B. McLean and eventually returned to Churchill. Captain R. E. Oliver, Chief Officer E. E. Maber and a large number of the crew appeared before the court to give evidence.

Mr. Justice Humphrey Mellish, of the Nova Scotia Supreme Court, sat as a special commissioner to conduct the inquiry.

LOOKOUT LACKING

"A good and proper lookout was not maintained on the Bright Fan, and this was especially so for some time before the iceberg was seen," the judgment stated. "The court is of the opinion that if such a lookout had been kept, the collision would probably not have taken place.

"The court cannot too strongly intimate that a lookout should be maintained under all circumstances by some person or persons whose sole duty for the time being is to keep a look-out. It appears that such was not the practice on this ship.

"Under the circumstances disclosed, the court regrets that it is unable to exonerate the master and first officer of the Bright Fan from default contributing to the loss of the ship, in failing to see that such a lookout was maintained."

ABANDONED BOAT DRIFTED ASHORE

Prohibition Officials Believe Adanesne Was Rum Runner—Striving to Solve Mystery

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25 (AP).—Federal officials sought today to solve the mystery of the suspected rum craft, Adanesne, which drifted ashore on the San Mateo County coast, twenty-six miles south of here, yesterday, without a crew. The boat is forty feet long, with motors capable of driving it at a speed of thirty knots. Agents sent aboard by George Seaver, assistant prohibition administrator, found no liquor, and the only traces of the crew were articles of clothing and a half-eaten meal on the galley table.

Federal officials pointed out the boat's name was Ensenada, spelled backwards, and that waters off the Mexican port of that name were the rendezvous for mother ships in the rum-running trade.

Department of Justice operatives reported the captain of the craft was D. Backun, indicted for liquor smuggling last April 27, as an alleged associate of the late Quito Maggiore, reputed king of Pacific Coast rum smugglers.

ARE WITHDRAWING FROM CONFERENCE

The French Line and the Canadian Pacific Steamships have given notice of withdrawal from the Transatlantic Passenger Conference, according to information received yesterday. Under the rules of the conference, withdrawal does not take place until six weeks after notice is given. Dissatisfaction over the rate situation is understood to have been the reason for the two lines giving notice.

PAYS SEA CORPS INFORMAL VISIT

Senior Naval Officer at Esquimalt Inspect Work of Local Cadets in Their Drill Hall

Paying an informal visit to the Rainbow Sea Cadets in their drill hall last evening, Commander V. G. Brodeur, senior naval officer at Esquimalt, expressed great pleasure over the proficiency attained by the boys in the different phases of seamanship and drill taught by their several instructors. It was Commander Brodeur's first visit to the corps, and was appreciated by all ratings.

During the evening the boys demonstrated their knowledge of making knots, rigging sheer legs, navigating vessels in foggy weather, as well as numerous other things a good sailor has to acquire aboard ship.

Commander Brodeur, who was accompanied by Mrs. Brodeur, Lieut.-Commander H. R. and Mrs. Tingley, was welcomed by the president of the Victoria and Island Branch of the Navy League of Canada, Commodore F. A. Lindsay, and Mrs. Lindsay. An interested guest was P. F. Curtis, a former president of the Island branch of the league.

SCHEDULE OF LINER KEEPS CREW AFLOAT

When his ship left Quebec recently on her twelfth Atlantic crossing in eleven weeks, and bade farewell to Wolfe's Cove for the season, Captain R. G. Latta, master of the Empress of Britain, said:

"I'm sorry we shall not see Quebec again until next May, but all of us will be glad of a short holiday. This is the twelfth consecutive Saturday on which we have set out for a crossing of the Atlantic. Next Sunday the crew will spend its first Sunday ashore in three months."

GERMAN WAGE CUTS FOUGHT

Further reduction of wages in Germany is being fought and newspapers are taking up the battle. The Berliner Tageblatt declares that wages are too low now, and publishes statistics showing that about 7,000,000 insured persons, which is more than 60 per cent of the total, do not earn more than $6 a week. Of these, about 2,500,000 receive less than $3 weekly. In addition to the 7,000,000, about 2,500,000 are paid up to $9 a week.

CERTIFICATE NOT GRANTED

Application to Build Railroad Turned Down—Maior Development Over

New railway developments in the United States have been so nearly completed that it now appears evident that there is little or no expectation that new rail projects will be brought into existence for many years and perhaps not at all. At least this is the inference derived from advices coming out of Washington, following closely on the announcement that the Interstate Commerce Commission had denied a certificate of public convenience and necessity to the New York, Pittsburgh & Chicago Railway to build a 344-mile line across Pennsylvania.

The commission stated in making the decision that present and future convenience and necessity had not been shown to require the construction and operation of the proposed road.

Recently a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission stated in an interview that all the major railroad development of new lines has been accomplished, and in the future the principal work to be done will consist of betterments of existing lines and improving and changing for the better the methods and equipment used.

EMPLOYMENT OF LABOR

"The millions which have in the past been regularly expended each year for new rail development," he stated, "was reflected in the employment of much labor and the purchases of large quantities of materials, all of which represented the employment of labor. Huge tonnages of steel rail, ties, machinery and other equipment no longer needed or essential, has a direct connection with labor. Fewer men being employed for the purposes enumerated in turn adversely affects other industries. Rarely will any new roads be required.

"The biggest development in transportation will hereafter be confined to the highways and air routes. In a few rare instances, it is possible that there may be short lines in the Far West, but these will be limited in number."

Remembrance Day Last Chance for Week-End Holiday

Remembrance Day, November 11, plans for the celebration of which indicate the anniversary of the end of the Great War, will become more than ever a national holiday in Canada, falls on a Friday this year and provides the last long holiday week-end before Christmas. Consequently, Canadian transportation companies are offering special low fares and other inducements to travelers in all parts of the Dominion.

In line with this policy, the Canadian Pacific Railway's B.C. Coast Steamship Service plans to extend its low week-end fares in effect between Victoria, Vancouver, Seattle and Nanaimo, to include Thursday, November 10, for the benefit of those who wish to travel during the long week-end.

Thus special return week-end tickets will be good for Thursday to Monday, instead of from Friday to Monday.

LARGE OIL TANKER FOR BIG CANADIAN COMPANY LAUNCHED

LONDON, Oct. 25 (CP).—Named in honor of the head of one of the largest Canadian oil companies, the Victor Ross was successfully launched today at Vegesack, Germany. Mrs. Victor Ross acted as sponsor. The 18,000-ton tanker, one of the largest oil carriers afloat, has a capacity of 140,000 barrels.

Mrs. Ross was accompanied by her son, Forbes Ross, and in the official party attending the launching were a number of Government officials and executives of European financial corporations.

Hydrographers Cover Large Area of Water In Making Soundings

Importance of Having Approaches to Coasts and Harbors Made Safe for Shipping Realized by United States Government

In line with the work which the Hydrographic Survey of Canada is carrying out in British Columbia waters, the Coast and Geodetic Survey of the United States Department of Commerce is making the waters adjacent to the coast of America and United States territories in the Pacific as safe as possible for the mariner and the traveler.

During the past year, the field engineers made a total of 767,322 soundings in the course of their hydrographic work. These soundings were distributed along lines totaling a distance of 72,186 miles. This survey, besides increasing the safety of life at sea, will aid materially in reducing marine hazards.

It was necessary for the Coast and Geodetic Survey to do a tremendous amount of control or triangulation work so that the definite positions of these soundings might be properly placed in the position on the charts, since the sounding is of little or no value to the mariner unless its position is accurately placed on the earth's surface.

CARE ESSENTIAL

In addition to the triangulation control work, a large amount of topographic work was necessary for the delineation of the shore line so that the coast lines of the various harbors and coasts could be shown in their proper relation to hydrographic surveys for the guidance of the navigator. This supplementary work included the survey of 1,959 miles of shore line and 1,050 square miles of hinterland. On the control work the bureau determined 1,523 geographic positions by triangulations of second and third order, covering 3,330 square miles.

It would have been impossible to cover the ground so quickly with the methods in vogue prior to the Great War. In obtaining soundings alone, the fathometer has increased the speed with which this work may be done by more than 100 per cent.

METHODS DIFFERENT

The fathometer is a device by which the depth of the ocean may be determined by measuring the time required for a sound wave produced at the bottom of the ship to travel from the surface and return. At full speed the fathometer registers the depth at the rate of four soundings per second in moderate depths up to several thousand fathoms. By the older methods of deep-sea sounding, the vessel had to be brought to a complete stop. A sounding of 20,000 feet required about an hour, but by use of the fathometer this sounding is now made at full speed in exactly eight and one-third seconds.

Hydrographic work along the Pacific Coast included the charting of San Juan de Fuca Strait and approaches south of the international boundary. This survey party obtained 25,531 soundings along sounding lines totaling 2,996 miles and covering an area of 1,158 square miles.

WORKMEN BUSY ON BIG LINER

SOUTHAMPTON, Oct. 25.—A task hard enough to daunt the most energetic housewife faced Canadian Pacific officials recently when the Ss. Empress of Britain docked at the conclusion of her tenth and final erossing of the Atlantic for the 1932 season.

During the next few weeks, armies of workmen will overhaul the 42,500-ton liner from truck to keelson. While some scrape down her masts and funnels preparatory to freshening them up with gleaming new paint, others will be chipping barnacles and other marine growths from her hull, and still more busy workers will be giving her apartments and public rooms a more thorough "Fall cleaning" than even the most spick-and-span house expects.

Not only in the housekeeping part of the Empress of Britain will this activity be noted. Under the direction of Chief Engineer H. G. Donald, every department of her engineroom system will be given a thorough inspection and overhaul for the 30,000-mile cruise around the world on which she starts in November.

MAINTAINED SCHEDULE

During the past Summer the Empress of Britain has steamed 60,000 miles, doing the last 36,000 in a practically continuous run. Every Saturday in the past twelve weeks has been a sailing day either east or west across the Atlantic and, just as regularly, she has been arriving in Quebec and Southampton each Thursday.

Since her maiden voyage, May, 1931, the Canadian Pacific flagship under command of Commodore R. G. Latta, has steamed 147,000 miles and tied up in thirty-three ports around the world. She will start for New York, December 3, for her second world cruise which will continue for four and a half months carrying passengers from Great Britain, Canada and the United States.

Plans Expected to Minimize Distress Among Unemployed

Government Officials Confident Programme of Assistance will Eliminate Much Hardship During Winter—Many Camps to Be Operated

OTTAWA, Oct. 25 (CP).—With thousands of men being taken from the ranks of the workless and provided for in work camps distributed throughout the Dominion, and with hundreds of families settled on farm lands, Government officials here are confidently anticipating that much of the distress which has characterized the last two Winters of the depression will be eliminated.

Under various departments of the Dominion Government work, food and shelter are being furnished to men in properly established and well-regulated camps, while the Provincial Governments will continue this Winter their programmes of road construction.

WIDE RANGE OF WORK

Subject to modification in regard to certain details, twenty-six camps will be operated under the Department of National Defence, for the purpose of establishing emergency airfields across Canada, and other works. Six provinces will participate in this—Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba and British Columbia. In Nova Scotia, repairs will be made to the Halifax Citadel, and similar work of restoration will be carried out on the Citadel at Quebec.

Eleven airfields will be constructed in Ontario, most of them in Northern Ontario, along the line of the transcontinental railway. There will be three in Manitoba and five in British Columbia.

SMALL WORK CAMPS

The work camps will not be large, the greatest number of men being put to work at Salmon Arm and Princeton, in British Columbia. Generally the personnel of the emergency landing camps runs to between thirty and sixty men, although the one at Nagogami, Ont., has provision for 100.

The men will work clearing away the brush and preparing the area so as to provide for clear and level runways. An allowance of 20c a day will be paid, in addition to keep.

The Dominion Government's contribution to municipalities and provinces for direct relief will continue in the same proportion as formerly—one-third of the expenditures being defrayed by Ottawa. In unorganized territories, the Dominion will go 50-50 with the provinces in this type of relief.

BOARD CAMP IN EAST

In addition to the foregoing all of the provinces from Ontario eastward are operating "board camps," where unemployed men may secure food, clothing and shelter, with a cash allowance which varies from $5 to $7.50 a month.

Farm settlement is progressing, with an expected total of 1,500 families, amounting in all to about 6,000 persons, being placed on farms in all the provinces, with the exception of Prince Edward Island.

When Your Cough Hangs On, Mix This at Home

Saves $2. So Easy! No Cooking!

The best cough remedy that money could buy can easily be mixed at home. It costs very little, yet it's the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 oz. bottle, and add granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. To make syrup, use 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble at all, and saves two-thirds of the money a family usually spends on cough medicine. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the germ-laden phlegm, soothes and heals the inflamed membranes, clears the air passages, and thus ends a severe cough in a hurry.

Pinex is a compound of Norway Pine, in concentrated form, the most reliable healing agent for severe coughs. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

ADVISORY FARM BOARD FORMED

Dominion, Provincial and University Agricultural Experts on Committee

A Provincial agriculutural advisory board was appointed at last night's meeting of Dominion, Provincial and university agricultural officials, who are in conference here to discuss matters pertaining to the co-ordination of farming matters throughout Canada.

Ten members were selected. Six of them were announced by Hon. William Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture. Appointment of the other four awaits confirmation from Ottawa.

The advisory board will comprise three Provincial Government representatives, three University of British Columbia representatives and four Federal members. The latter have been selected and their names submitted to the Minister of Agriculture at Ottawa for approval, it was stated.

THOSE APPOINTED

Those already appointed are Professor H. M. King, of the department of animal husbandry at the University of British Columbia; Dr. G. G. Moe, of the department of field husbandry, U.B.C.; Dean F. M. Clement, of the faculty of agriculture; W. H. Robertson, horticulturist for the Provincial Department of Agriculture; Henry Rive, dairy commissioner, and J. B. Munro, deputy minister of agriculture.

The council of agricultural experts engaged in a round table discussion on matters pertaining to bovine tuberculosis, contagious abortion and manufacturing and marketing of dairy products.

It was agreed that recommendations from the various project committees should be placed before the advisory board after its entire personnel is announced at this morning's session.

GERMANS ACTIVE IN CANARIES

Germans are pushing business in the Canary Islands more than ever before. The English-built mole at Santa Cruz is being extended by a German firm, and harbor improvements at Las Palmas also are in the hands of Germans. Germany has secured the contract for flour for Teneriffe, and nearly all the new building done on the islands is in German hands.

"I want to know," said the grim-faced woman, "how much money my husband drew out of the bank last week."

"I cannot give you that information, madam," answered the man in the cage.

"You're the paying teller, aren't you?"

"Yes, but I'm not the telling teller."

STORE THIEVES UTILIZE TRUCK

Brentwood Merchant Robbed of Nearly $200 Worth of Provisions

Thieves operating a truck, forced entry into the West Saanich Merchantile Company's store at Brentwood either late Monday night or early yesterday morning and stole nearly $200 worth of provisions.

Discovery of the robbery was made when clerks opened the store for business yesterday morning. Hams, flour, sugar, butter, canned fruits and vegetables and a quantity of other merchandise were taken.

H. A. Blakey, manager of the store, made the discovery and immediately reported to the Saanich police.

Chief Allan Rankin and Constables John Bull and Kenneth Cummins investigated the case, and followed a trail which led them to Sooke. Up to a late hour last night no arrest had been made.

Entry to the store was gained by breaking a pane of glass in a door transom. One member of the gang was sent in to open the double doors through which the heavy grocery cases were carried. This is the second time the store has been robbed in a similar manner.

"I say," shouted the indignant motorist to the policeman at the busy London crossing, "when is the traffic going to move? I've been here fifteen minutes now."

"No wonder, sir," responded the bobby with a broad smile, "you've drawn up behind a taxi rank."

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

MASTERS OF BRIDGE

Lieutenant Alfred M. Gruenther, of West Point, is known to duplicate contract players, particularly in the East, through his marvelous skill in directing tournaments. It is not as generally known that he is also a very strong bridge player, with a marvelous flare for psychology.

Recently Lieutenant Gruenther, with his family, spent a vacation in his home city of Omaha, Neb. The home town had heard of Lieutenant Gruenther, and a match game between two teams of four was arranged. Lieutenant Gruenther had as his partner Mrs. Gruenther, and the other members of their team were Messrs. Cyrus P. Mason and Richard Losch. They were pitted against a team representing the Athletic Club: Messrs. Manning Handler, Charles Martin, Harry Perlmutter and Morris Ferer.

The margin of their victory was accounted for on the following board, in which Lieutenant Gruenther introduced the psychic third hand non-vulnerable bid to the metropolis of Nebraska.

North—Dealer.
East and West vulnerable.

	♠ 10 6 3 ♡ Q 7 5 ◇ K 8 5 ♣ J 9 4 2
♠ A K Q 9 5 4 ♡ A K ◇ 7 ♣ A 10 7 6	N W E S	♠ J 3 2 ♡ 9 6 2 ◇ A 9 6 ♣ K Q 8 5
	♠ 7 ♡ J 10 8 4 2 ◇ Q J 10 4 3 2 ♣ 3

The Bidding:

(Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

South	West	North	East
		Pass	Pass
2NT(1)	Dbl.(2)	Pass	Pass
3♠(3)	Dbl.(4)	Pass	Pass
4♣(5)	4NT(6)	Pass	Pass(7)
Pass

1. A very daring, but, as it happens, extremely sound bid. South's object, of course, is to play the hand cheaply at diamonds or to prevent his opponents from bidding a slam, which, from his holding, may be easily makable.
2. Probably West's best bid.
3. Continuing the policy of deceptive surprise.
4. Showing a hand of mammoth proportions, considering the fact that East and West are vulnerable.
5. Continuing the deceptive tactics one step further.
6. West, of course, is fully aware of what South is doing.
7. Unfortunately, East is unable to decode the message.

The result, due to the fact that North decided to open a club, was that West made his contract and three overtricks as well. With any other opening, of course, only twelve tricks could have been made.

At the other table, where Lieutenant Gruenther's team-mates held the East and West cards, a small slam in spades was bid and made.

In view of the originality displayed by Lieutenant Gruenther in finding bids with his trickless hand, I am seriously considering sending a very strong decommendation to the War Department that he be appointed as Chief of the General Staff. Certainly, if he applies the same strategy to war as to bridge, the element of surprise is going to be hard for his opponents to overcome.

TOMORROW'S HAND

The bidding and play of the hand printed below will be discussed tomorrow:

South—Dealer.
East and West vulnerable.

	♠ A 6 ♡ 7 6 4 ◇ 6 5 2 ♣ A Q J 10 9
♠ 10 5 4 ♡ 10 9 3 5 ◇ 9 2 ♣ 6 5 4 2	N W E S	♠ K J 7 8 ♡ A J 3 ◇ Q J 2 7 ♣ K 3
	♠ Q 9 2 2 ♡ K Q 2 ◇ A K 10 4 ♣ 8 7

Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it, and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

Plane for Flight Across Antarctic

DECLARED GUILTY OF WIFE MURDER

Life Sentence Verdict Delivered Against Unfrocked Presbyterian Minister

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 25 (AP).—Rev. S. A. Berrie, fifty-two-year-old unfrocked Cumberland Presbyterian minister, late today was convicted by a jury of the poison murder of his first wife, Mrs. Fannie Berrie.

The verdict, which carried a life prison sentence, momentarily broke the composure of the preacher. He appeared calm when he was returned to his cell. Sentence will be passed formally next Monday.

His comely nineteen-year-old second wife, the former Ida Bess Bright, and a Sunday school teacher in his church, apparently was unmoved by the jury decision.

During the lengthy trial, Mrs. Berrie, named by the prosecution as the motive for the poisoning, appeared by the side of her husband and asserted her belief in his innocence. He is the writer of numerous hymns, including "In Beulah Land."

As the convicted pastor was returned to jail, his attorneys indicated they would present a motion for a new trial and if this is denied an appeal probably will be taken.

Mrs. Fannie Berrie, in ill health for months, collapsed and died in convulsions last March 21 after taking a capsule at a church service.

The minister married Ida Bess on May 17. She was exonerated by authorities of any connection with the poisoning.

FINED AT NANAIMO

NANAIMO, Oct. 25.—Magistrate Beevor-Potts today fined Fung Wung $5 and $2 costs or in default two months in jail for being in possession of smoking paraphernalia, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police prosecuted.

The novelist's small boy had just been brought to judgment for telling a lie. His sobs having died away, he sat for a long time in thought.

"Dad," he said at last, "how long will it be before I stop gettin' licked for tellin' lies and begin to get paid for 'em, like you do?"

BUSY AGENDA IS PROVIDED

Eleven Subcommittees Are at Work in B.C. Agricultural Conference

Eleven subcommittees were named at the British Columbia Agricultural Conference yesterday, and at once swung into action on definite phases of the work, which includes a wide range of subjects of interest in regard to soil products, livestock and related matters. The committees were announced by Hon. William Atkinson, as follows:

Pasture and forage crops—L. H. Newman, Dominion cerealist; P. Z. Caverhill, chief forester and grazing official in British Columbia; Professor E. M. Straight, of the Dominion Experimental Farm, Saanichton.

Cereals, weeds and seeds—Professor G. G. Moe, of the University of British Columbia; G. M. Stewart, Dominion district seed inspector, Calgary, and Cecil Tice, field crops commissioner for British Columbia.

Horticultural services—W. H. Robertson, provincial horticulturist; Dr. A. F. Barss, University of British Columbia; R. C. Palmer, Summerland Experimental Farm; W. H. Lyne, plant quarantine officer, Vancouver; H. R. McLarty, plant pathologist, Summerland, and J. W. Eastham, of the provincial service, Vancouver.

MARKETING UNDER REVIEW

Economics, marketing, etc.—Dean F. M. Clement, University of British Columbia; R. G. L. Clark, Dominion fruit branch, Vancouver, and J. A. Grant, British Columbia markets official.

Extension and publicity—Dr. William Newton, plant pathologist, Saanichton Experimental Farm; Professor H. M. King, University of British Columbia, and Ben Hoy, provincial service, Kelowna.

Bacon production—R. G. Newton, Windermere Experimental Farm; Arthur Morton, Dominion livestock branch, Vancouver, and W. H. Hicks, Agassiz Experimental Farm.

Beef production—Professor H. M. King, University of British Columbia; E. R. Buckell, Dominion entomologist, Vernon, and Dr. W. R. Gunn, British Columbia livestock commissioner.

FLOCK IMPROVEMENT

Poultry flock improvement—Professor E. M. Straight, Saanichton Experimental Farm; Professor E. A. Lloyd, University of British Columbia, and J. R. Terry, provincial poultry commissioner.

Dairy herd improvement—Henry Rive, provincial dairy commissioner; W. H. Hicks, Agassiz Experimental Farm, and Professor W. Sadler, University of British Columbia.

Spreads in processing and marketing—Professor W. Sadler; Henry Rive, W. H. Hicks.

Health of animals—Dr. A. E. Bruce, Saanichton Experimental Farm; Dr. W. R. Gunn, Dr. C. Maconachie, Dominion health of animals branch, Vancouver.

The six last-named committees will report today to the conference for a general discussion, those preceding them bringing in reports yesterday. At the conclusion of the whole conference, it is expected, a complete synopsis will be issued of the discussions in so far as they affect the public.

For National Advantage—For Individual Benefit

Plan Now to Buy

DOMINION OF CANADA BONDS 1932

On Monday, October 31st, Canadians will have an opportunity to invest in a New Issue of $80,000,000 Dominion of Canada Bonds. By buying these Bonds you will accomplish two things:

1. You will obtain the soundest investment available to Canadians, secured by the resources and integrity of the Dominion.
2. You will assist in further strengthening Canada's financial position, with favorable effect upon general business.

NOTWITHSTANDING the trying conditions which have prevailed during the past three years, Canada has established an enviable record of financing. For example, among other accomplishments, the Dominion has refinanced—before maturity and at a reduced interest rate—$640,000,000 of its public obligations, due in 1931, 1932, 1933 and 1934.

The new Dominion of Canada bonds, which will bear 4% coupons, will be offered at a sufficient discount to provide an income yield in line with current interest rates. Within the last few months Great Britain and other countries have arranged important financial operations. In each case, these have met with marked success, investors having quickly recognized the trend towards lower interest rates.

The success of the new Canadian loan is important. It will further demonstrate the confidence of Canadians in their own country. This confidence will be reflected in the money markets of the world.

For the national advantage—and for your individual benefit—plan now to buy Dominion of Canada 4% Bonds, 1932, when they are offered next Monday

ROGERS HORNSBY SIGNS WITH CARDS AGAIN

Meralomas to Meet V.A.C. Grid Squad In Important Game

Big Four First and Second-Place Teams Will Clash Tonight at Vancouver—Win or Draw Will Give Kitsilano Crew Big Four Rugby Title

VANCOUVER, Oct. 25 (CP).—The decks are being cleared for the Western Canada playdown series between the winners of the "Big Four" Football League and the unbeaten Calgary Altomah Tigers, Alberta champs. Meralomas, who have virtually won the British Columbia championship by coming through the season thus far undefeated, are not chiefly interested in nursing their team along so that they will be at full strength against the pretenders from the cow town.

To facilitate the orange and black club from Kitsilano in their search for Western Canada and, perhaps, Dominion honors, "Big Four" officials last night decided that if they beat V.A.C. Wednesday night that the game with Varsity, Saturday, will be struck from the schedule. This will give Meralomas a full week's rest before they tangle with the Prairie team.

TWO-GAME SERIES

It was definitely decided that the series with Calgary be two games with total points to count. The first game will be played under floodlights at Athletic Park on Wednesday night, November 2, with the second fixture Saturday afternoon, November 5.

Organization has been completed with committees named to look after advance ticket sales, publicity and entertainment.

The officials named by the "Big Four" are Del Finlay, Harry Johnston and Harold Straight. It only remains now for Calgary to approve the playing of a night game in the series and put the stamp of approval on the officials.

RIBBONS WILL TACKLE C.P.S. THIS EVENING

Senior "A" Cage Squads to Clash in Feature Game at High School Gym

Blue Ribbons, undefeated leaders, and C.P.S. will hook up in the feature fixture on the cage card to be presented to the fans this evening at the Victoria High School gymnasium by the Victoria and District Basketball League in the men's senior "A" division. In the opener, which will commence at 7:30 o'clock, West Road, senior "B" title-holders of last season, will face First United, while Standard Steam Laundry will take on Harmony in the second game in the women's senior "B" division. Tommy Macedo will be in charge of the whistle during the evening.

With three victories already to their credit, the Ribbons will be out to take the lumbermen into camp for their fourth successive decision in as many starts. C.P.S. have lost two tough verdicts in both their assignments, losing to the Beavers, 32-30, and then falling before the 5th Regiment, 23-18. Classed as the veteran quintette in the league, the lumbermen are full of fight and never give up until the final whistle is sounded. Both squads will take the court with the same line-ups as previous engagements and the fans should witness a close tussle with plenty of action.

West Road will be favorites over First United, while Harmony will be odds-on favorite to come through against the Laundry fair sex. The four teams will be strong and some fast basketball is expected during both games.

SWIM SQUAD SETS PLANS FOR SEASON

Crystal Garden Team Elects Officers for Year—Ernie Peden Head

With several important swimming galas on the schedule to be staged here this Winter, the Crystal Garden Swimming Team, under Coach Colin McFayden, commenced plans for the future at a well-attended meeting of the club held recently at the home of Miss Verna Foubister, secretary-treasurer.

Coach McFayden is pleased with the showing of his swimmers in the gala staged at the Crystal Garden Monday evening and is confident of sending his aquatic talent to the front in the forthcoming meets. Ernie Peden, former University of British Columbia Rugby and swimming star, has been added to the Crystal Garden Team and will serve to strengthen the club in future meets in the men's sprint events and diving competitions.

Following business, election of officers took place. Bill "Torchy" Peden, Victoria's great six-day bicycle rider, who recently won the Montreal event with Fielding, of Toronto, as his partner, was chosen as honorary president. Ernest Peden was named president and Miss H. Hinder was the choice for the vice-presidency. Miss Verna Foubister was appointed secretary-treasurer and Colin McFayden was selected as coach. Miss Eleanor Peden and Bob Shade were named assistant coaches. Bernice Peden and Beth Stewart were placed on the social committee and Lillian Stokes was appointed as women's captain.

THISTLES TO WORK OUT

A workout of the Saanich Thistles first and second division clubs will be held this evening at the Veterans of France at 7:30 o'clock. Players on both clubs are asked to attend.

Saskatchewan Grid Champs To Get Rest

SASKATOON, Oct. 25.—University of Saskatchewan's Rugby team will travel to Regina to meet the Roughriders for the senior S.R.F.U. title on Saturday. The local Quakers have agreed to default to the Varsity their game scheduled for Saturday in the S.R.F.U. series.

This action by the Quakers places Varsity in a tie with the Riders, and allows the tie to be played off this Saturday, so the provincial winners will have a full week's rest before meeting Winnipeg St. John's in the Western Canada semi-final November 5.

NANAIMO XI HEADS COAST LOOP SOCCER

Up-Islanders Hold Point Margin Over St. Andrew's —Royals in Cellar

With three victories, one defeat and a draw, Nanaimo City, 1931-32 champions of the Pacific Coast Football Association, are setting the pace in the race for the honors this year, holding a one-point lead over St. Andrew's, second-place occupants. Although the Up-Island eleven lost some of their stalwarts of last year at the beginning of the season they have already served notice that they will be the aggregation to beat.

St. Andrew's hold down second berth with two victories, one setback and two draws, while St. Saviour's are third with two victories and a like number of losses, while the New Westminster Royals, four times holders of the Canadian championship, are the mystery squad this season. The Royal City footballers have appeared in six fixtures to date and have yet to score a win, having three defeats and three draws opposite their name. Several times the Royals have had victory in their grasp, but it slipped away as their opponents rallied to come from behind to gain a draw or win out by the odd goal.

LEAGUE STANDING

Standings of teams follows:

	P.	W.	L.	D.	P.
Nanaimo City	5	3	1	1	7
St. Andrew's	5	2	1	2	6
St. Saviour's	4	2	2	0	4
New Westminster	6	0	3	3	3

UPLANDS WIN GOLF FIXTURE

Downs Macauley Point Club in Women's Interclub Match by 7-2 Score

Chalking up seven victories out of nine, Uplands team of women golfers scored a 7-2 win over a first string squad from the Macauley Point Golf Club at the Uplands course in an interclub fixture yesterday afternoon. Miss Phyllis Hodgson, Macauley titleholder, won the feature match from Mrs. A. M. Boyd, while Mrs. B. Waude accounted for Macauley's only other win by downing Mrs. J. A. Cameron.

Results, with the Macauley players first mentioned, follow:

Miss P. Hodgson 1, Mrs. A. M. Boyd 0.

Miss R. Bethel 0, Mrs. C. Eve 1.

Mrs. A. Geddes 0, Mrs. A. Watson 1.

Mrs. W. E. McIntyre 0, Mrs. R. L. Pocock 1.

Miss Johnston 0, Mrs. E. F. Nickson 1.

Mrs. E. Ware 0, Mrs. D. A. Macdonald 1.

Mrs. B. Waude 1, Mrs. J. A. Cameron 0.

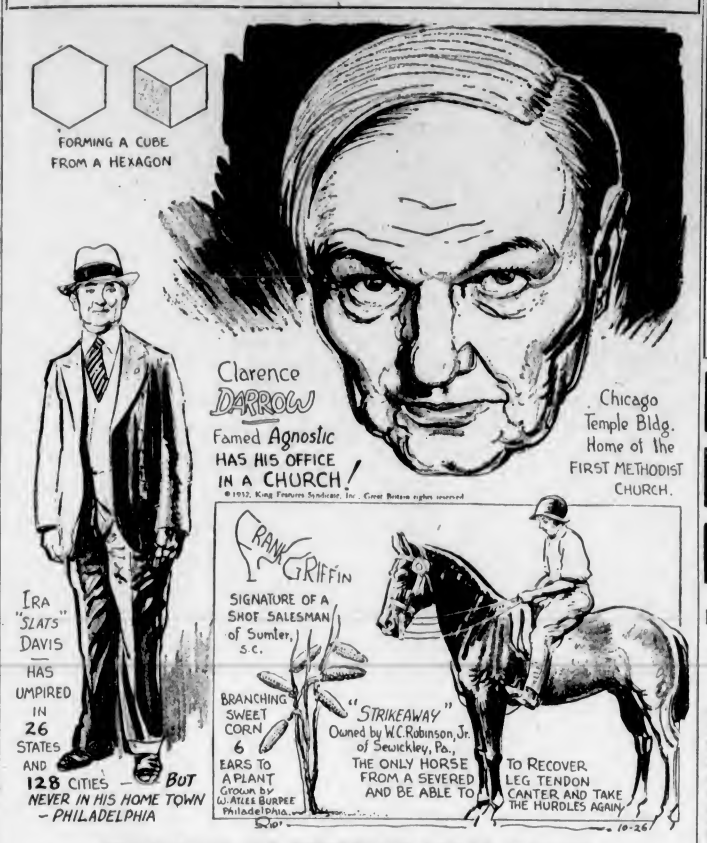

Mrs. C. S. Brown 0, Miss D. M. Locke 1.

Mrs. A. Johnston 0, Mrs. A. Thomson 1.

Cowichan Trophy Knockout Series Will Be Renewed

All Island Clubs Will Be Eligible to Enter, Rugby Union Decides—Rules Drawn Up—Body Sends $500 Towards Cost of Macdonald Park

Renewal of competition for the Cowichan Trophy, under new rules, will start this season, it was definitely decided at a meeting of the Rugby Union executive last night. The meeting accepted the trophy under the new regulations drawn up by the trustees, and decided that play would start after the finish of the league schedule on January 28. All clubs on Vancouver Island are eligible to compete and the holder will be decided by a knockout competition.

A letter from the parks board was read stating that the Macdonald field had been set aside for Rugby and cricket only. This, however, was subject to the proviso that the two sports would co-operate with other sports, where necessary, should other grounds be under repair. The treasurer was requested to forward a cheque to the board for $500, in payment of the Rugby Union's contribution to the cost of preparing the new ground.

November 26 was set aside by the union as the date when the city will be given the whole "gate" at the Royal Athletic Park. This is a contribution towards the cost of improvements to the park carried out during the year.

TO FIX UP WILLOWS

Letters were also read from the naval and military authorities expressing willingness to co-operate with the Rugby Union regarding allowing the use of their grounds. It was stated that the B.C. Agricultural Association will also do all possible to aid the local union and willing to put the Willows ground in shape for play this year.

The rules governing play for the Cowichan Trophy follow:

The trophy shall be a challenge trophy open to all Rugby teams on Vancouver Island.

The first holder of the trophy shall be determined by a knockout series, all entries to be received by the Victoria Rugby Union on or before January 1, 1933, and the winner of the series shall hold the trophy until the following season.

Any team may challenge the holder of the trophy once at any time during a season, provided that no challenge shall be made after February 1. A team may challenge by notice to the Victoria Rugby Union.

The challenge game shall be played within one month from the date of such challenge if possible.

CHALLENGERS TO PLAY OFF

In the event of the holder receiving two or more challenges, then such challengers shall play off and the winner shall play the holder of the trophy.

In the event of the holder losing the trophy then the new holder shall become open for challenge by any team other than the immediate defeated holder of the trophy.

A challenger having played the holder to a drawn game in any Rugby season shall not be entitled to challenge such holder again during the season.

Should one team appear on the playing field at the time and place arranged and the opposing team fail to appear, the game shall be forfeited to the team appearing.

The final holder of the trophy for any season shall be entitled to have its name engraved on the trophy at the expense of the holder.

UNION GIVEN POWER

The Victoria Rugby Union shall have power to fix the date on which any game shall be played or to alter the date of the game, or to extend the time within which the game shall be played in order that it shall not interfere with the schedule of the Victoria Rugby Union or in the event of the holder of the trophy being weakened by the absence of more than five of its regular players at the date a challenge is received.

BADMINTON WILL RESUME TONIGHT

Second Half of Mixed Handicap Meet Will Be Held at Willows Club

The first half of the mixed American handicap tournament, now in progress at the Willows Badminton Club, was played off on Monday night, when some close matches were seen. After some strenuous play the following teams won: First, H. Webb and Miss V. Sharland; second, H. B. Witter and Miss P. Radford.

The following players are requested to be present tonight, when the second half of the tournament will be run off: Mrs. Mangin, Mrs. Stern, Mrs. Hope, Mrs. Knox, Mrs. Belyea, Mrs. Pritchard, Mrs. Unsworth, Mrs. Barr, Mrs. Wainwright, Mrs. Hodgins, Misses Duke, M. Campbell, M. Philipsen, M. French, L. Robbins, J. Bagley, M. Barber-Starkey, E. Everall, M. Beedham, Lawson, M. Ryall, M. Harris, V. Errington, A. George, A. Ames, M. Hambly and J. Henslowe; Messrs. P. C. Logan, G. Phillips, D. Davis, O. M. Prentice, M. S. Trueman, L. R. Phillips, M. Gordon, P. Colclough, T. Simmons, G. B. Hope, W. Dunbar, E. Wainwright, G. Barber, S. W. Bellyea, W. E. Corfield, J. P. Phillips, Logan Mayhew, G. W. Hamilton, E. L. Harrison and Dr. Mitchell, and Captain Everall.

Play will commence at 8 o'clock, and all contestants are requested to be on hand at that time.

Th finals will be played Friday evening, when the first and second teams from each preceding evening will fight it out for the first four places.

TIN KIT TO MEET BURNS IN FEATURE

Clever Chinese Matched With Boston Middleweight on Main Go Saturday

Leong Tin Kit, Chinese grappler, will make his return before Victorians on Saturday when he steps into the ring to exchange holds with Cyclone Burns, of Boston, in the eight 10-minute-round main event on Promoter Fred Richardson's card at the Tillicum gymnasium. In the five-round semi-wind-up, Bobby Byland, Minneapolis, will face Frank Draper, Vancouver, while a local preliminary will open the card at 8:45 o'clock.

The Chinaman is about the finest middleweight ever to appear here, and has proven it by his easy victories over all opposition to date. Little is known about his opponent, Cyclone Burns, except that he appeared here some time ago and made a good showing, despite the fact that he met defeat.

Byland is another fast middleweight and has shown here on several occasions during the past year. His opponent, Frank Draper, will be making his initial appearance, but he is well known on the Island, having refereed several bouts.

ALBIE DAVIES TO MEET LEWIS

Local Boy to Tackle Seattle Fighter in Special Event at Sound City Tonight

Albie Davies makes another appearance in a Seattle ring this evening, when he engages Al Lewis, Seattle's latest flatic sensation, in the four-round special event of Nate Druxman's all-star boxing show at the Crystal Pool.

Lewis, by virtue of his knockout victory over Johnnie Hawkes in last week's Crystal Pool boxing show, is considered as one of the best lightweights to be produced in the Northwest in recent years. The other feature bouts include the six-round main event between Freddie Steele, of Tacoma, and Tommy Herman, of Chicago, who decisioned Steele recently at Los Angeles. Henry Woods, of Yakima, and Joe Noto, of San Francisco, meet in the semi-final. Noto was beaten decisively by Albie Davies, at San Jose, a year ago.

MRS. HADLEY AND MISS IRVING WIN PAR COMPETITIONS

Finishing three down, Mrs. Hadley won the annual par competition played yesterday at the Victoria Golf Club. Miss Irving won the Class "B" award, finishing one down.

Phil Taylor's prize for the tombstone competition for women scoring at the recent caddies' tournament, was won by Mrs. Musgrave at the nineteenth hole.

Team, Referee and Ball Disappear in Football Fixture

SKIBBEREEN, Ireland, Oct 25.—Ugly scenes were witnessed recently at Drimoleague in the West Cork Gaelic junior football match between Bantry and Dunmanway.

A short time before the end of the match, with Bantry leading by one point, a dispute arose between the players. The excitement spread to the spectators, who swarmed over the pitch, and several free fights were soon in progress.

When eventually order was somewhat restored, the Bantry team lined out to continue the game, but there was no trace of the opposing team, the referee or the ball.

BAYS TO FACE HOTEL XI IN MIDWEEK LOOP

Hudson's Bay XI Will Meet Empress Hotel Today—Hearts Tackle Saanich

With a chance to supplant Navy as leaders of the Hayward Cup series in the Wednesday Football League, Hudson's Bay and Saanich United, joint holders of second position, a point behind the sailors, will be out at full strength after victories when they take the field against Empress Hotel and Hearts, respectively. The departmentals will clash with the hotelmen at the Heywood Avenue pitch at 2:45 o'clock, with Johnson in charge of the whistle, while the Hearts will face the suburban eleven on the lower Beacon Hill grounds at the same hour, with Alcock as referee.

Hudson's Bay will find stubborn opposition in the Empress Hotel aggregation, who, in their first appearance last week, held the Navy to a scoreless draw. The Bays hit a snag during the same afternoon when they bumped into a fighting Saanich United machine and lost out by a 3-1 score. Although going down to a 4-0 setback in their initial match, the Hearts have strengthened and will be out to lower the colors of Saanich.

Line-ups follow:

Saanich United—Rowe, T. O'Connell, Wyatt, Stonier, Moir, Burns, Chapman, Price, Ward, Kelman and Duncan; reserve, Love.

Hearts—McMillan, Bryant, Champion, M. McBride, Hickman, Bantly, Browne, Preston, Speller, A. McBride, Newall.

Hudson's Bay will line up as follows: Shrimpton, McKenzie, Clarke, Cull, Woodley, Oakman, Fish, Purdy, King, Bentley, Collier, Nicolls and Coates.

TILDEN MAY PLAY IN B.C.

Professional Tennis Troupe May Appear in Exhibitions at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Oct. 25.—"Big Bill" Tilden, former world's champion amateur and professional tennis champion, may bring his pro troup to Vancouver in March, according to a communication just received by E. J. H. Cardinall, well-known Vancouver tennis authority and secretary of the Pacific Northwest Tennis Association. Tilden's playing mates include Hans Nuesslein, the sensational young German professional, and Bruce Barnes and Emmett Pare, the American stars.

Just where Tilden would perform is indefinite, but a proposal is on foot to establish indoor courts in the Horse Show Building at Hastings Park and these may be utilized.

BLUE BOY WINS IMPORTANT RACE

Gerald Deane's Horse Captures Criterion Stakes From Scarlet Tiger

NEWMARKET, England, Oct. 25 (CP).—An upset was scored in the renewal of the important Criterion Stakes for two-year-olds this afternoon, when Gerald Deane's The Blue Boy won by a length over the odds-on favorite, Lord Durham's Scarlet Tiger. The Aga Khan's Mool Begum was third, another four lengths back.

Eight of the best two-year-olds on the English turf ran the six furlongs of the Criterion Stakes, one of the greatest of the fixtures for juveniles, first run in 1829.

STORMY PETREL OF MAJOR LEAGUES TO REJOIN OLD TEAM

"Firebrand" of Baseball Will Try Comeback Trail With Squad He Played With for Ten Years —Will Try for Regular Berth at Second Base With Cardinals

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 25.—Rogers Hornsby, deposed last Summer as manager of the Chicago Cubs, will take the "comeback trail" with St. Louis Cardinals next year.

Announcement was made today that the "firebrand" of major baseball had signed a one-year contract as a player with the club which he piloted to a pennant and world championship in 1926.

"The Rajah," it was announced, will go to the Cardinal training camp next Spring as a candidate for a regular job as second baseman, the position where he starred in his heyday.

Salary terms of the contract were not announced. It was made known, however, that under its terms Hornsby will receive his unconditional release at the end of the 1933 season, subject to the rules and regulations of the National League.

STORMY PETREL

For many years Hornsby has been the stormy petrel of the majors. He ran into trouble with practically all the clubs he was connected with, especially with the owners. Hornsby found it difficult to get along with his teammates and that is the chief reason for his shifting from one club to another since 1925.

After playing regularly at second base for the Cardinals for ten successive seasons, Hornsby was appointed manager of the club on June 1, 1925. At the close of that season, the "Rajah" went to work to build up his team for the 1926 campaign and his efforts were rewarded when the Cardinals captured the National League flag in 1926. Not only that, the Red Birds went on to win the world's championship by defeating the New York Yankees.

The tumult and shouting of the world series had hardly died away when Hornsby was traded to the New York Giants for Frank Frisch and Jimmy Ring. This move completely shocked the entire baseball world as well as the "Rajah" himself. Hornsby stayed with the Giants until January 10, 1928, when he was traded to the Boston Braves for Jimmy Welsh and Frank Hogan. While with the Giants, Hornsby managed the club at intervals during the schedule, while John McGraw was away in Europe. On May 23 of the same year, the great batsman of baseball was named manager of the Braves, and on November 7 he figured in one of the greatest deals known in the big leagues. He was sold to Chicago Cubs for a reported price of $200,000, and players Maguire, Jones, Cunningham, Leggatt and Siebold.

VOTED MOST VALUABLE

Hornsby had a great year with the Cubs in 1929 and at the end of the season was honored by being voted the most valuable player in the National League. It marked the second time that this honor was bestowed upon the "Rajah," having been given it in 1925. Hornsby stayed with the Cubs through 1930, 1931 and up to August of last season when he was suddenly deposed as manager of the club and replaced by Charlie Grimm. In making the move, the management stated it was for the betterment of the club.

Hornsby has been rated as the greatest hitter the National League has ever seen. He holds the all-time major league batting record of .424, which he established while with the Cardinals in 1924. The following year, Hornsby also batted his way to the top of the league, finishing with .403. His lifetime batting average to date is .363, which is only a few points behind the greatest of them all, Ty Cobb, of American League fame.

Canadiens Sell Nick Wasnie to N.Y. Americans

MONTREAL, Oct. 25 (CP).—Nick Wasnie, right winger of the Canadiens of the National Hockey League, has been sold to the New York Americans, Leo Dandurand, joint owner of the Canadien Hockey Club, told the Canadian Press here, today.

Wasnie will be exchanged for another player, and there is a possibility that a triple deal will be negotiated in the next few days, the Detroit Falcons being the third club to figure in the deal, Dandurand stated. Wasnie will leave tonight or tomorrow to join the Amerks at Oshawa.

CUE LEAGUE WILL START PLAY SOON

Five Teams to Compete in "A" Division of City Billiards League

Draw for the first week's play, beginning October 29, was released in the Victoria Amateur Billiard League, after a meeting of delegates yesterday. Five teams are entered in the "A," five in the "B" and six in the "C." One home and one away match will be played in the first half and the same in the second, winners to play off. The complete schedule is being drawn up and will be released later in the week. W. Crother, president of the league, presided at the meeting.

Draw for opening matches follows, with the home team named first:

"A" LEAGUE

Tillicums vs. Veterans of France.
Pro Patria vs. Island Club.
Elks, bye.

"B" LEAGUE

Elks vs. Pro Patria.
Veterans of France vs. Tillicums.
Naval Veterans, bye.

"C" LEAGUE

Tillicums vs. Britannia.
Garrison Sergeants vs. Veterans of France.
Pro Patria vs. Elks.

Betty Robinson Recovered From Serious Injury

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 25.—Betty Robinson, women's Olympic 100-metre champion in 1928, who nearly lost her life in an airplane accident sixteen months ago, planned to start her second come-back attempt today.

After lying for months in a hospital following the air crash, Betty recovered enough to return to classes in the school of physical education at Northwestern University.

M'LAUGHLIN TO APPEAR AT STADIUM

Vancouver Grappler Will Meet Floyd Wolfgang on Friday Night

Jack McLaughlin, clever Vancouver middleweight, and Floyd Wolfgang, Scandinavian grappler from across the line, will meet in the semi-wind-up on Friday night at the Pacific Stadium.

The lighter boys will precede the main clash between Bob Kruse, Portland terror, and Hardy Kruskamp, Denver heavy. These two grapplers met a couple of weeks ago in Vancouver, the bout going five rounds when Kruskamp knocked himself out in attempting a flying tackle. The Denver man had a fall on Kruse at the time.

McLaughlin wrestled here last week on the Pacific Stadium card and took a fairly easy win from Jack Slater, Chicago. Wolfgang, although long and lanky, is a tough man to beat and the bout should be fast and even.

Lloyd Fenlon and Reg Hopkins will open the card with a four-round preliminary.

DUNCAN WALLOPS NORTH WARD, 5-0

Up-Islanders Defeat Victoria and District League Team Easily—Randie Shines

DUNCAN, Oct. 25.—Duncan Native Sons strengthened their hold on first place in the Victoria District Senior Football League, when they defeated the North Ward team, of Victoria, here Sunday, 5-0. It was only the sensational work of Randie in goal for the visitors which kept the home team's score from running into double figures. Randie is a new man and a "find," and his net guarding was the best that has been seen here in years. In the first half only one score was made, although the Sons kept up a continuous attack, Dick Thorne bulging the hemp with a fine shot just before the interval. Bob Walton headed one through for Duncan in the second half and proceeded to drive three more through with his boot before time was called.

DEGLANE WINNER OVER MALCEWICZ

MONTREAL, Oct. 25.—His ninth straight victory here, this season, was scored last night by Henri Deglane, who rose from a baker's boy in Paris to claimant of the world's heavyweight wrestling title.

Deglane overcame shoeless Joe Malcewicz, of Utica, N.Y., two falls to one. He took the first fall, dropped the second, and took the third after leveling Malcewicz with a resounding smack on the jaw in return for a battering smash Malcewicz had given him earlier.

CAMBRIDGESHIRE STAKES WILL BE RUN TODAY

Thirty Expected To Face Starter In Famous Event

G. Lambton's Dorigen Favorite to Take Historic Stakes at Newmarket Course Over Mile and Furlong—Totaig Second Choice —Jockeys Announced

NEWMARKET, Eng., Oct. 25 (CP).—G. Lambton's Dorigen tonight remained favorite in the final callover of betting odds for tomorrow's running of the Cambridgeshire Stakes at a mile and a furlong over the Newmarket course.

The horse, a newcomer to first-class racing, was quoted at 11 to 2 against, with V. Emanuel's three-year-old brown colt Totaig at 100 to 14, and the Duke of Marlborough's bay colt Andrea, of the same age, at 13 to 1.

Thirty horses of three years and upwards were listed as probable starters in the race, which is worth about $5,000 to the winner.

HUAT LOSES TO SANSTOL

New Yorker Easily Defeats French Boy in Ten-Round Bout

MONTREAL, Oct. 25 (CP).—A brilliant boxer tonight outpointed a determined slugger in the main bout here, Pete Sanstol, of New York, earning a clear-cut decision over Eugene Huat, Paris, over the ten-round route. The men, bantamweights, fought before a crowd of 6,000.

Sanstol, although knocked down once, obtained such an edge by his superior speed and footwork that decision of the judges was unanimous in his favor.

Back With St. Louis Club

ROGERS Hornsby, "Firebrand" of major league baseball, who has signed a one-year contract with the St. Louis Cardinals, of the National League. Hornsby was deposed as manager of the Chicago Cubs last August, after he had the club in and around first place all season, in favor of Charley Grimm. Cubs won the National League pennant, but, although Hornsby made application for a cut in the series' melon, it was not awarded. Hornsby played with the Cards for ten years and piloted them to one world pennant.

HOCKEY JOTTINGS

(Canadian Press)

New talent hunting and signing stubborn holdouts are coupled with "Bullet" Joe Simpson's task of conditioning New York Americans of the National Hockey League at Oshawa. "Red" Dutton and the youthful Vernon Ayres are assured of the first-string defence positions, but the other places in the team are still to be settled.

Manager Jack Adams has his Detroit Falcons hustling. Eddie Wiseman, leading sharpshooter of the American Association, flanked by Jack Riley and Tony Prelesnik, former Chicago Shamrock teammates, are working in nicely as a relief for Ebbie Goodfellow, Larry Aurie and Herb Lewis, starting line of the Falcons.

Ralph Taylor, former Chicago Black Hawk, and Walter Buswell, from the American Association, are teaming with the veterans, Reg Noble and Doug Young, should give the much-needed reserve strength to the Falcon rearguard.

Chicago Black Hawks have twenty-one players going through their paces at Duluth. Burr Williams, drafted from the St. Louis club of the American Association, is expected to fill the gap left in the Hawk defence when Mervin Wentworth was sold to the Montreal Maroons.

Babe Siebert still remains in Montreal. Sold to New York Rangers by Montreal Maroons, Siebert has failed to come to terms with the Rangers. Other players still unsigned by their clubs are Dave Trottier and Hooley Smith, absent from the Maroon squad now training at Ottawa.

With two National Hockey League teams taking turns in slashing up the ice, the Ottawa auditorium was the centre of interest for a big crowd of fans today. Both the Ottawa Senators and Montreal Maroons showed improved form at the workouts.

Manager "Cy" Denneny, of the Senators, lost little time in signing up Gus Forslund, Fort William boy, who played with Duluth in the American League last year, after he had seen him work out.

Hack Simpson, brilliant Winnipeg amateur, is finding his way about among the pros. Trainer Bill O'Brien says the lanky Winnipegger is hampered by skates that do not suit him, and predicts a big improvement when the difficulty is corrected.

The Maroons have another brilliant amateur recruit in Hughie Plaxton, of the famous Varsity Grads of 1928. Already Plaxton is established as one of the hardest shots on the team and the style that made him a star in the Olympic outfit is again in evidence.

British Sport Shots

By WILLIS ENTWISTLE

Birmingham football club hasn't done very much since it appeared in the final for the cup in April, 1931. On that occasion near neighbors to West Bromwich Albion defeated "Brummagen." Since then Birmingham has been team building and here are some of the young fellows who were more or less reserves when the club reached the cup final. Booton has got his chance at fullback because Liddell, the schoolmaster, has had a temporary lapse of form, while Firth, Fillingham and Morrall are doing regular work in the halfback line, at least that is excepting Firth, who has to wait his turn until one of the others gets lame. Stoker is the other regular halfback and this fellow was picked for the English league against the Irish League recently. The layout shows from left to right: Morrall, Fillingham, Firth and Booton.

Canada is cutting quite a swath in Old Land football circles these days, and the latest of importance concerns a former Montreal goalkeeper in Kennaway. This chap left the Dominion about two years ago and very little was thought of his chances with Glasgow Celtic because the club had Thomson, an international, between the posts.

• • •

But everyone knows what happened to poor Thomson just over a year ago, when he was fatally injured in a game with Rangers, being accidentally kicked on the head by Sam English, Rangers' centre.

• • •

Kennaway stepped into the breach on Willie Maley's team, but there was no ballyhoo for this quiet, unassuming young chap.

• • •

His first real reward came the other day, when he played for Scotland's Interleague team against Ireland's League select. Scotland won, 4 to 1, and Kennaway was a success. Carry on, boy!

• • •

Manchester United have a new outside winger named James Brown. Not that that means anything in particular, unless one chronicles the story of how Brown got to Manchester and where he hails from.

• • •

Jimmy Brown had been playing in the United States, and some time ago Scott Duncan, Manchester United, was advised to give this footballing Glasgow Yankee a chance. The credentials were such that he cabled the boy an offer of a month's trial and his expenses from the United States. Brown cabled back that he would give Scott Duncan first call on his services.

• • •

Partick Thistle had also heard of him and they went to see the boy's mother at Troon. She advised them her boy had sailed on the boat Caledonia. Don Turner, Partick official, wirelessed the boat, telling Brown he intended meeting the boat at Moville in order to make him an offer.

• • •

Hearts of Midlothian took a hand in the chase at this juncture. Manager Willie McCartney of Hearts had also heard of Jimmy Brown, and he reached Glasgow on the Saturday. His intention was to go to Greenock to get the lad off the liner at the Tail of the Bank on the Monday.

• • •

Meantime, Don Turner walked on to the Londonderry boat at the Broomielaw Saturday night. The first man he met on board was Scot Duncan. Despite whatever suspicions may have been in their minds, neither gratified the other's curiosity.

• • •

The boat sailed through the night and dawn brought them to Londonderry. Then a transfer to the tender and off they sailed again up Lough Royle to Moville.

• • •

Both managers boarded the Caledonia together, but the Thistle man was the first to get the player alone. The Thistle manager explained his mission and his offer was similar to Scot Duncan's. The player appreciated the offer but explained he had promised Manchester.

• • •

Mr. Turner saw the lad had made up his mind and courteously withdrew. Thus did Thistle drop out. Scot Duncan went into the cabin next and the result was a signed form.

Then the Caledonia got up steam again and made for the Clyde. The club officials had got their business over and settled down to enjoy the trip.

• • •

Imagine their surprise when the boat reached Greenock and they saw Willie McCartney coming out to the boat on the tender. But their surprise was nothing to McCartney's when he found out he was a day late at least.

• • •

And all this occurred in August. Now Brown is in Manchester's first team and playing a grand game. He goes either outside right or left, or even centre forward. He is twenty-three, about six feet tall, strongly built and carries a hard shot.

• • •

Here's another little bit from Auld Scotia. The wage bill for the Armadale Second Division club players against Arbroath was only $12. Five men played for the cost of their traveling expenses.

• • •

There is a player in his fifth season with a minor club, after having had a transfer fee on his head by his last league club throughout that time. He is Edwin Earle, outside left, placed on Burnley's transfer list at $3,000 in May, 1928. Burnley still has a fee on his head and he has played with Boston in the Midland League ever since.

Pencil, lie still!

Juvenile League To Open Season With Two Games

Four teams will play in the newly-formed Juvenile Football League on Saturday afternoon. Oak Bay High School will meet Saanich Thistles on the lower Beacon Hill grounds, and Five C's will face Hollywood at Heywood Avenue. Both fixtures will commence at 1:30 o'clock.

At the meeting held at the Y.M.C.A. on Monday evening, Percy Payne was elected president and Tom Briggs was the choice for the vice-presidency. Jimmy Walker was made secretary-treasurer. The managers of the various teams are Fred Bridge, W. Huskins, George Sands and Charles Griffin. They will constitute the executive board.

CHRIS M'ARDLE SCORES VICTORY

Wins Easy Call Over Johnny Rae —Sonny Jones Decisions Young Corbett

VANCOUVER, Oct. 25 (CP).—Chris McArdle, Vancouver, 125, belted Johnny Rae, of Yakima, 123, around the ring for four rounds to win the decision in a six-round main event on the boxing card here tonight. Both boys started slow but in the third McArdle warmed up and belted the Washington lad with left hooks. Rae went down for an eight count in the fifth from a right to the chin. In the semi-wind-up Sonny Jones, North Vancouver, 122 1-2, decisioned Young Corbett, North Vancouver, 126, in four rounds.

Other results: Billy Petrie, Vancouver, 133, decisioned Clint Nicholson, 133 1-2, Britannia Beach, in four rounds; Bobby Luscombe, Vancouver, 135, decisioned George Ainsworth, Vancouver, 134, in four rounds; Kid McKay, Vancouver, 145, and Gil Grippen, Vancouver, 143, went four rounds to a draw; Wally Davies, Vancouver, 126, drew with Bobby Sells, Vancouver, 125, in four rounds, and Bert Boud, Coquitlam, and Mustachio Kennedy, New Westminster, went four rounds to a draw.

HATS FOR HACKNEY DRIVERS

Belfast, Ireland, is enforcing the law that hackney drivers must wear hats between 6 a.m. and 8 p.m. Caps will not do. Several hatless drivers were fined in court recently. Corporation Prosecutor Craig told the judge he thought hats were required for the sake of appearance.

WHEELERS WILL TAKE ON TIGERS

Important Big Four Fixture Carded at Hamilton on Saturday

TORONTO, Oct. 25 (CP).—Montreal's Winged Wheelers and Hal Baysinger are being primed this week for the annual venture, Saturday, into the lair of the Hamilton Tigers, there to attempt flattening the Bengals right in front of about 12,000 loyal citizens. It will be the most important game of the Big Four football schedule this season.

A Montreal win would send the Wheelers right into the Eastern playdowns, strong favorites to go on and win the Canadian championship. Victory for the Bengals would leave the teams tied at the top of the Union standing, with every possibility that a playoff would be necessary to decide the winner.

Students of University of Western Ontario have decided on a method to get the Mustangs back in the intercollegiate race. They will burn an effigy of Old Man Jinx this week to pave the way for a Western win Saturday over University of Toronto.

Mustangs, having won but once and lost one-point decisions to Varsity and McGill, must win all their remaining games while Varsity loses to either McGill or Queens. This would put the two teams in a tie for first place.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

PERFECT CHILDREN — IMPERFECT ADULTS

A recent book tells us that what we are going to be mentally, morally and physically is all determined for us before we are born, so that nothing we can do mentally, morally or physically will make any difference in life.

That children are going to inherit the characteristics of their parents or grandparents must be admitted—color of eyes, shape of body, alertness of mind and other characteristics. In fact if they didn't resemble their parents whom would they resemble?

However, as I want to speak particularly about the physical makeup of human beings, there is one outstanding fact that cannot be ignored, and that is that 80 per cent of all children in North America are born perfect, yet when men were drafted for the army about 80 per cent of America's men were below normal physically.

If 80 per cent of the children are born perfect and only 20 per cent are perfect when they reach manhood, something must be wrong with our civilization, and not with our parents and grandparents.

The outstanding defect found were defects of the feet—flat feet, hammer toes, bunions—small immature chests, rheumatism, heart disease, insufficient and infected teeth, spinal curvature and other conditions. The children were born without these defects and yet before reaching young manhood these defects had developed.

Most of these defects develop in early childhood, many of them before the youngster reaches school age and gets the benefit of the school nurse and physician. Some of these defects occur during the fast-growing period—thirteen and a half to sixteen and a half years of age—when the boy is not disciplined to assume the correct posture or position, standing or sitting.

Much of the heart disease, rheumatism and deafness is due to carelessness or neglect during and following children's ailments, such as measles and scarlet fever.

The mental specialist tells us that if he can guide the youngster during the first seven years of his life, he will become a normal adult. The churchman says the same thing about his moral condition.

Similarly, if we are to get high standards physically in adult manhood, the health of young children must be closely supervised. It means to a great extent simply proper food, plenty of sleep and outdoor play.

PARK TOUR IS SET FOR TODAY

Boulevards, Trees and Playgrounds Will Be Given Inspection

Members of the parks committee of the City Council will make a tour of the city boulevards and smaller parks this afternoon, it was announced yesterday by Alderman John Worthington, chairman of the committee.

The tour will start from the City Hall at 1:30 o'clock. Boulevards where trees have been the cause of complaints will be inspected, particularly that section of Moss Street where it is claimed tree lice are spoiling gardens in the district.

A visit also will be made to the Macdonald Estate Park, and the Hollywood Park property may also be inspected. Alderman Worthington and Mayor David Leeming yesterday inspected the Ross Bay Cemetery to see how the improvements were progressing.

Security Prices Drift Lower at New York Mart

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP).—The stock market spent a quiet day today, waiting for the meeting of U.S. Steel Corporation directors to determine the fate of that company's preferred dividend, an action that was not taken until after the close.

Prices drifted aimlessly for the most part, and at the close most stocks registered fractional losses and a few were down as much as two points.

Trading fell for the second successive day under the 1,000,000-share-a-day level, which is accepted in Wall Street as tiresomely low. The total was 614,860 shares.

Keen interest centred on the common and preferred shares of U.S. Steel, which vacillated throughout the day, occasional rallies being succeeded by faint sinking spells. The common closed off nearly a point and the preferred lost more than that.

The company's decision to maintain the $7 rate, which has never been cut in the corporation's thirty-one years of existence, was not made known until well after the close.

Some special selling centred in a few of the specialties. Drug Incorporated, sank 2 points, apparently because of belief that one of its principal subsidiaries, the Louis K. Liggett Company, might undergo a reorganization.

The copper stocks showed little concern, so far as their price movements indicated, over recent reduction in prices by custom smelters. Anaconda and Kennecott were off scant fractions.

Extreme low money rates again attracted attention. An offer of a substantial sum was reported at 1-2 of 1 per cent for sixty-day loans, a figure that probably set a record low for the New York money market.

A dull and spotty bond market witnessed prices accentuating their recent declining trend.

Sales totaled $7,143,000.

While the secondary railway group and some of the industrials exhibited more than ordinary weakness, losses of 1 to as much as 5 points in the nervous foreign department did much to unsettle the list as a whole.

The Australians were especially heavy, the Commonwealth 4 1-2's and 5's losing 4 3-4 an 5 5-8 points, respectively. Other losers included some bonds of Argentina, Berlin, Finland, Germany, Italy, New South Wales, Norway, Queensland, Austria, Poland and Japan. British 5 1-2's gave up 3-8 of a point in heavy trading. Mild improvement was shown by some loans of Belgium, France and Cuba. Canadian Dominion 4's were active at a loss of 3-8 of a point.

WHEAT DROPS SUDDENLY AT GRAIN MART

Futures Slump More Than Two Cents in Hectic Session

WILD SELLING GIVES TRADERS ROUGH RIDE

WINNIPEG, Oct. 25 (CP).—The bottom fell out of the wheat market in sensational fashion here, today, and futures were quoted more than 2 cents lower at the close after heavy hedging pressure and stop-loss selling had worked its will with futures temporarily abandoned by a strong outside interest which had kept them steady for more than a week.

At the low points a break of almost 3 cents was established. Resistance in the form of resting orders was encountered at this stage, and the market came back to close 2 to 2 3-8 cents lower for the day.

At least two of the futures had tagged along so firmly during the past ten days that traders had come to regard them as "pegged," but when their backing was suddenly withdrawn, they, too, tumbled to new low levels with their companion months, and although the support was believed to have been renewed at the close of the session, only very small recoveries were observed in the final figures.

May and December had held the half-dollar level, or higher, for so long that trader and farmer alike decided it would never be allowed to go lower. Speculators allowed their margins to narrow to the danger point, and the farmer borrowed almost to the market value of his deliveries to elevators.

Today came the crash, when the market went panicky for half an hour as prices tumbled to levels unknown before in the history of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. The theory was at once advanced that this support had been withdrawn to show the technical weakness of the market, for it appeared to have been restored after wheat had suffered losses of nearly 3 cents. But buying was not aggressive, and the board was chalked with losses at the closing bell.

Mr. Manross, who has been with the Canadian company since its inception, has formed a merchandising board which will direct the sales and advertising policy of Kelvinator in the future.

MINING ISSUES TURN DOWNWARD

Premier and Reno Heavily Traded at Vancouver—Others Drop With Selling Wave

VANCOUVER, Oct. 25 (CP).—Following the trend of Eastern markets, where bearish influences were felt, a wave of selling hit the Vancouver Stock Exchange today, and leading issues declined from 2 to 5 points.

Premier and Reno were traded heavily. The former, after opening higher at 54, sold off under pressure to close at 50, down 2. Reno, another firm opener, was also depressed in late trading, easing 3 to 57. Bralorne lost a like amount to 63. Pioneer turned a two-point gain into a three-point loss to close at 4.20. Ventures in the Eastern mines division, slid off 5 to 60.

Oils were lightly traded, but showed a fairly firm tone. C. & E. Corporation and Home Oil, at 40, were both unchanged.

LONDON, Oct. 25 (AP).—Money, 5-8 per cent. Discount rates: Short bills, 11-16 3-4; three-month bills, 13-16 @ 15-16 per cent.

AT NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Call money, steady; high, 1; low, 1; ruling rate, 1; close, 1 per cent. Time loans, easy; 60 days, 1-2; 90-120 days, 3-4; 5-6 months, 1 per cent. Prime commercial paper, 1 3-4. Bankers' acceptances, unchanged.

Leading Stocks at Eastern Exchanges Are Fairly Steady

MONTREAL, Oct. 25 (CP).—The Montreal Stock Exchange prices turned decidedly lower today, with several issues recording declines of a point or more. Interlisted issues, however, were comparatively steady, closing unchanged to fractionally lower.

The Montreal list showed little inclination to follow the course taken by the market in New York.

Volume was about double that of yesterday, although small compared with the average turnover a couple of weeks ago. Sales totaled 7,648 shares.

International Nickel led in volume with a turnover of 1,300 shares and closed unchanged at 8 1-2. Canadian Pacific at 14 3-8 and Shawinigan at 12 1-8, lost 1-8 each. Brazilian was unchanged at 8 1-2.

Canadian Hydro-Electric preferred slumped 8 1-2 points to 40, bringing its net loss in two days to 10 points. Canadian Northern Power lost 4 points at 13. Bank of Montreal was off 2 1-2 at 160. Alberta Grain "A" declined 2 1-4 to 5.

B.C. Power, September earnings of which were down, lost 1 3-4 at 20.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Oct. 25 (CP).—The Toronto Stock Exchange had its dullest session of the present month today with the single exception of October 3, the turnover being only 5,104 shares.

The sluggish tone of the market was blamed chiefly on the apathy in Wall Street.

Most of the usual market leaders, C.P.R., Brazilian, British American Oil and Imperial Oil, held unchanged, but International Nickel and Fort "A" both weakened 3-8, and Consolidated Smelters was off 1 1-2 to 66 1-2. Of the rest of the oils list, McColl-Frontenac was off 1-2 and International Pete up 1-8.

Sales were scattered in the utilities group. Bell Telephone turned over at 98 1-2, down 1-2; Consumers Gas surrendered a point to 1.72; Montreal Power weakened 1-2, and Power Corporation 1 1-2.

TORONTO MINING MARKET

TORONTO, Oct. 25 (CP).—Traders, apparently weary of holding stocks so long for a turn, did a little unloading today and prices weakened substantially.

Nickel sold down to 8.40, but recovered just before the close to its former price of 8.60. Noranda sold below $19, but at the close was only 25c down. Falconbridge lost 14 to 1.76, Ventures 7 to 61, Sherritt-Gordon 5 to 40, Sudbury Basin 10 to 50, Hudson Bay 20 to 2.95 and Coast Copper 4 to 2.61.

The high-priced gold shares did little better than the base metals, Hollinger and Lakeshore being the only ones to hold their ground. At the close, B.C. Pioneer was off 8 to 4.22; McIntyre, 15 to 18.75; Teck-Hughes, 4 to 3.13, and Wright Hargreaves 6 to 2.70.

Eldorado, leader of the Bear Lake group, had a weak day and the quotation fell back to 1.21, a loss of 4 with a turnover of 2,000 shares. Algoma was quite active and picked up 3-8 to 5 7-8.

C.N.R. Has Gain In Net Revenue

MONTREAL, Oct. 25 (CP).—Net revenue of the Canadian National Railways in September showed an increase of $1,441,752 compared with the corresponding month of 1931, according to an official statement. Gross revenues were down rather more than $1,000,000, but operating expenses showed a large decrease, being $2,492,963 under September last year. Net revenue for the month was $2,828,833 compared with 1,387,-081 in September, 1931.

For the nine-month period, January 1 to September 30, net revenue of the railway totaled $6,220,117 compared with $3,565,770 in the corresponding period of 1931. Operating expenses in the nine months showed a reduction of $27,960,180, more than offsetting the $25,325,834 decrease in gross receipts.

POUND STERLING DECLINES AGAIN

Is Two Cents Lower at New York —Drop Not as Sharp as on Monday

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (CP).—The pound sterling hit another year's low on local foreign exchanges today, but its decline was not as sharp as Monday's. After opening at $3.29 1-4 for cables, the pound closed 1 7-8 cents lower for the day at $3.30 1-8. The Canadian dollar also slackened, closing 3-4 cent weaker at 91 3-4 cents.

Wall Street heard rumors that the Bank of England had again withdrawn its support from sterling, seeking to stabilize it at a lower level. Last week's decline of the pound brought it close to $3.40 level, but no official information was available as to what level the currency would again be bolstered.

MONTREAL, Oct. 25 (CP).—The United States dollar was strong in Montreal today and closed at a premium of 9 5-8 per cent, as compared with 8 1-2 per cent on Monday. The pound sterling closed at $3.6189, a trifle higher.

ORDERS DIVIDEND DESPITE LOSSES

U.S. Steel Preferred to Draw Usual Rate—Upturn in Business Is Indicated

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP). — The directorate of the United States Steel Corporation returned a favorable verdict on the preferred dividend today, ordering the regular quarterly disbursement of $1.75 a share.

Wall Street accepted the announcement of another regular payment as a clear indication that officials of the world's biggest steel producer could see real business improvement ahead.

There was no sign of improvement in the quarterly earnings statement, showing a deficit even a shade worse than reported for the previous three-month period. But a special supplementary report was made, showing gains in production since July, and more impressive gains in the shipments of finished steel.

After all charges, the deficit for the quarter ended September 30 was $20,817,709, the largest ever reported by U.S. Steel. This compared with a deficit of $20,452,173 in the quarterly period ended July 30 last, and $3,973,835 in the September quarter of 1931. In the corresponding period of last year, however, the deficit was wiped out by the crediting of a profit of $7,160,966 arising from the sale of property, which left a net balance for the quarter of $3,187,131.

But despite the unsatisfactory results of the last quarter, the preferred dividend, amounting to $6,304,919, was ordered.

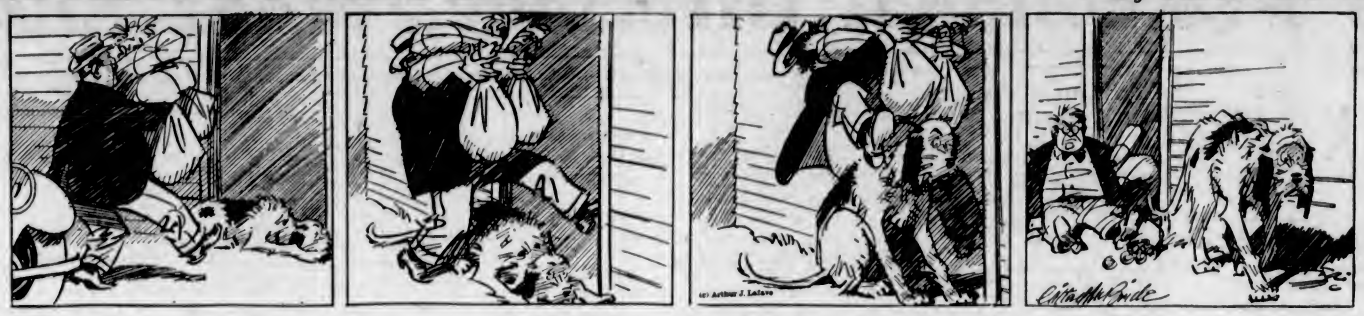

With the disbursement ordered on the preferred shares today the company will have paid out close to $80,000,000 from surplus, in dividends in excess of earnings, during the past two years.

2 DEATHS

BOOTHBY—On October 25, at the Jubilee Hospital, Eva Victoria Boothby, aged nine months, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. W. Boothby, residing at 803 Kinae Road.

The remains are resting at the Sands Mortuary Chapel, from where funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon, October 27, at 3.30 o'clock, and interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery, with Pastor Ward officiating.

POTTER—On October 24, at the Jubilee Hospital, Mr. Eugene Martin Potter, in his seventy-third year. The deceased was born in St. Paul, Minnesota, and came to Victoria twenty-five years ago. Mr. Potter was a member of the I.O.O.F. Lodge, No. 3, in St. Paul. There survive one nephew, Mr. J. W. Potter, of Vancouver, and one sister, in Eastern Canada.

The funeral service will take place under the auspices of the I.O.O.F. Lodge of this city from the Sands Mortuary, Ltd., on Thursday, October 27, at 3 o'clock, with Rev. Daniel Walker officiating. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

WALL—At her residence, 745 Herald Street, on October 25, Mrs. Mary Alice Wall, widow of the late Gilbert Vaughan Wall. Born in Kentville, Kings County, Nova Scotia, she had been a resident of Victoria for many years. She is survived by one son and one daughter.

Private funeral services will be held this morning, October 26, at 11 o'clock, at her residence. The Rev. James Hood will officiate and the remains will be forwarded to Vancouver for cremation. Sands Mortuary, Ltd., is in charge of the arrangements and it is requested by the family that friends omit flowers.

MORTIMER—On Monday, October 24, at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Rev. Francis Charles Mortimer, aged seventy-six years, of 2709 Lydia Street. The late Mr. Mortimer was born in Norwich, England, and had resided here for four and one-half years. He is mourned by his widow, four sons, Hubert, of Montreal, Edward O., Bernard and Gordon, of Lloydminster, Sask.; also a daughter, Mrs. R. V. Robinson, of Glanford Avenue, Saanich; also eight grandchildren. Joan and Lyn Robinson, of Glanford Avenue, and four grandchildren in Saskatchewan and two in Montreal. The remains are resting at McCall Bros.' Funeral Home. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon from St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, at 3.30 o'clock. Rev. Canon A. E. deL. Nunns, assisted by Ven. Archdeacon E. P. Laycock and Rev. Canon H. W. G. Stocken, will conduct the service, after which interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

EDWARDS—At 3820 Inlet Drive, Saanich, in his seventy-sixth year, Thomas William Edwards, on October 24, 1932. The late Mr. Edwards was born in Brantford, Ontario, and came to British Columbia forty-four years ago, where for many years he has been well known and highly respected in the many circles where he was taken by his varied activities, and was withal a great lover of his home life. By profession a watchmaker, he was for many years with Mr. Redfern, jeweler, and assisted in setting up the clock at the City Hall. In years gone by he was actively interested in amateur sport, and at one time was one of Victoria's best bicycle racers. He was also a ball player of fried ability, and his interest and encouragement aived to younger players were an inspiration until his passing. He is survived by his widow, two sons, George and James, and a daughter, Mrs G. P. Peake, in Victoria; a son, H. F. Edwards, in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, and two sisters, Mrs. Runciman, in North Bay, Ontario, and Mrs. Morris, in Hamilton.

The remains rest at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, where the funeral service will be conducted on Thursday, October 27, at 3 o'clock. Interment will be made at Royal Oak Burial Park.

CAPITOL THEATRE Accustomed as Hollywood may be to "high life," some sort of record was broken at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios during the filming of "Skyscraper Souls," now playing at the Capitol Theatre, with Warren William and Maureen O'Sullivan in featured roles. It was during the filming of a party atop of New York's tallest building. All the excitement of the film occurs in and about a 102-story skyscraper. Eddie Quillan is also on the same bill in "The Tip Off."

COLUMBIA THEATRE The principal feminine roles in "The Crowd Roars," now at the Columbia Theatre, are played by Joan Blondell and Ann Dvorak. Other featured players are Eric Linden, Frank McHugh and Guy Kibbee. Howard Hawks, co-author of the story with Seton I. Miller, directed "The Crowd Roars," hailed at its New York premiere as a greater thrill picture that "The Dawn Patrol," also written and directed by Hawks.

DOMINION THEATRE Cecil Holland's file of Continental make-ups was put to a test in the supplying of atmospheric characters as background for scenes in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Grand Hotel," the feature attraction at the Dominion Theatre. Edmund Goulding required that every person on the set must be a distinct type and no two make-ups must be alike. It was up to Holland, make-up expert, to provide the distinction from his photographic files.

EMPIRE THEATRE The Swiss Alps with a mountain holiday resort was, in effect, transported to Paramount studios for the filming of climatic sequences in "Reserved for Ladies," which is now at the Empire Theatre. Leslie Howard, Elizabeth Allan and Benita Hume are featured. The transportation was in fact a transformation, effected by Holmes Paul, art director of Paramount's London studios. The script called for a large Swiss hotel, from the windows of which could be seen magnificent views of the Alps. The effect was obtained by the use of the largest photographic enlargements ever made for any motion picture. One of these huge photographs of actual Swiss scenery measured 20 by 40 feet.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE The fashionable life of New York's "400" inspired the author of RKO Radio Pictures' "Smart Woman" to write the story. Featured in the film are Mary Astor and an all-star cast. "Smart Woman" is now at the Playhouse Theatre.

CLIVE BROOK COMING IN CAPITOL MYSTERY

A typical large-city suburb, in which women exchange juicy morsels of gossip over the back fence, and from which the men commute to work each morning, forms the background of "The Night of June 13," the feature attraction coming to the Capitol Theatre tomorrow.

Clive Brook, Lila Lee, Charlie Ruggles, Gene Raymond, Frances Dee, Mary Boland and Adrianne Allen head the large cast.

Randolph Scott, Sally Blane and J. Farrell MacDonald appear in the movie version of Zane Grey's action romance of the West, "Heritage of the Desert," the second feature on the programme.

JAPANESE OPERA IS UNUSUALLY TUNEFUL

From time to time a musical comedy is written which appears to have the secret of eternal youth and popularity. No list of such plays would be complete without the name of "The Geisha," which has been chosen by the Victoria Operatic Society for its first presentation of this season on Friday and Saturday, October 28 and 29, at the Royal Theatre.

Who does not know "The Amorous Goldfish," the kissing duet "Chon Kina," "Chin-Chin-Chinaman" and "Ching-a-ring-a-ree," to mention only a few of its tuneful numbers? In "The Geisha," the authors have entirely captured the legendary daintiness of the Japanese maidens, the inflated importance of a noble of exalted rank, the craving for excitement of an English girl in a strange land, and the importance of "money, money, money" to a Chinese shopkeeper.

The cast now at work on the play contains several members entirely new to Operatic Society productions, and, judging from rehearsals, there will be no doubt as to their ability to make this performance a delight to Victoria audiences.

BRIGHT FUTURE SEEN FOR ENGLISH FILMS

There's no critic like a member of the family, for sincerity and honesty are the two most important ingredients of his criticism. This was exemplified by Jack Buchanan, star of "Magic Night," the United Artists picture, which comes to the Empire Theatre on Friday, for Jack is the English chap who once charged that British pictures were "shot from the cuff."

Now that he has made "Magic Night," however, Jack has found things considerably changed in England, and he now sees a bright future for English films.

Orchestra Will Play With Neah-Kah-Nie Tuesday

The Neah-Kah-Nie string quartette assisted by the chamber orchestra, an ensemble selected from the various groups of orchestral instrument players in the city, will give a public performance on Tuesday, November 1, at the Empress Hotel ballroom, under the auspices of six patron organizations: The Victoria Chamber Music Society, the Musical Art Society, the Junior Musical Art Society, the Beaux Arts Society, the Junior Symphony Orchestra, and the Lawson-Boak Violin Ensemble.

Intending patrons of the Neah-Kah-Nie quartette's public rehearsal are advised that this has been set for the afternoon of Saturday, October 29, at 3:30 o'clock, at the Shrine Auditorium.

25,000 SHEEP IN WELSH DRIVE

Twenty-five thousand sheep were gathered recently in the highest drive of the Welsh mountains. They came from the entire Migneint Mountain Range of North Wales, combining three counties. The sheep were assembled for the second annual dip of the season. During the day the entire range was alive with dogs, sheep and shepherds.

Striped Chipmunk Hugs Himself

—By THORNTON W. BURGESS—

Where lives the girl or lives the boy
Who have not hugged themselves for joy?
—Old Mother Nature.

Blacky was keeping very quiet as he looked through all the trees

I guess you have done it. Most of us have. It seems to be the best and the most natural way of expressing joy, especially when there is no one about with whom to share it.

Striped Chipmunk usually is filled with joy. I know of no one more truly joyous than this little neighbor with the pretty striped coat. Watching him one gathers the idea that to him life is just one long holiday. Of course it isn't. He has his troubles just as the rest of us do. Of danger he has a larger share than most of us. He has work to do, a lot of it, and he is a splendid worker. But he doesn't allow any of these things to take from him the joy of living. A merry heart has Striped Chipmunk as everyone who watches him knows.

Striped Chipmunk had discovered the nest of Red-eye the Vireo. He had discovered it by careful watching of Red-eye and Mrs. Red-eye. They didn't know that he had discovered it. They didn't know that anyone had. They had taken pains to build it where it was well hidden by leaves. It was their secret, or they thought it was. Striped Chipmunk let them continue to think so. He took care not to give them so much as a hint that he knew where that nest was. He found it just before it was finished while both were away looking for just the right material to line it. By the time they returned he was sitting on his favorite stone in the old wall telling all who would listen how as he thought of that nest he hugged himself for joy. I fear the Red-eyes would have had no joy had they known it.

There were others who came looking for that hidden nest. Striped Chipmunk saw them. One was Sammy Jay. Sammy, usually so noisy, was silent as he flitted from tree to tree in the Old Orchard. He was looking for nests. He knew where several were located. He knew that the Red-eyes had a nest, but even his sharp eyes failed to find it. Sammy was thinking of eggs and tender young birds to vary his bill of fare. I regret to say it. Striped Chipmunk saw and when Sammy failed to find that nest hugged himself for joy.

When he popped out for a look around very early one morning he discovered Blacky the Crow in the Old Orchard and Blacky was keeping very quiet as he looked through all the trees. He, too, was looking for eggs or young birds, and when in disappointment he flew away Striped Chipmunk once more hugged himself.

Later that same day he had a visit from his cousin. Chatterer the Red Squirrel. Chatterer hardly more than passed the time of day and then began a search of all the trees in the Old Orchard. What for? To find nests if he could, for he also has a fondness for eggs and young birds. He found Welcome Robin's nest and instantly there was a great fuss that brought all the birds in the Old Orchard to help Welcome and Mrs. Robin. In the end they drove Chatterer in ignominious flight clear out of the Old Orchard back to the Green Forest, whereat there was great rejoicing among the feathered folk.

Striped Chipmunk couldn't see the fight, but he heard it all and his bright eyes snapped and once more he hugged himself. Chatterer had not found the nest of the Red-eyes and he felt sure that he was the only one that knew their secret. But in this he was mistaken. One other had found it. He didn't know it, but the Red-eyes did and they were greatly troubled.

The next story: "Why the Red-Eyes Were Troubled."

Just Roamin' Around

By TWO ROVERS

There was an interrogation mark in Rover's off eye whilst the other watched a squirrel that eyed the two of us with suspicion from the gnarled branch of a nearby tree.

We were taking a last look at the waters of the upper Gorge. Speculating on some of the problems that harrass some of our very best friends, we sat and smoked several handmade "cigs," and would have puffed longer but we ran out of matches; we never carry a wretched lighter.

Now that we have decided to roam around in "oor ain countrie" for the rest of our natural, and after the New Year, providing we get there, and having a big programme already arranged, which includes a trip to Stockholm, the Tyrol and Italy, where there are old friends and relations expecting us, we got to wondering about the future of some of our talented young friends here.

LIFE'S PROBLEMS

Although there are unlimited opportunities in British Columbia for the development of real talent, up to a point, we realize how little chance there is of finding an outlet for those talents, when developed, and when the possessor of them has passed the "teen" age.

Our schools turn out hundreds of embryonic artists in all lines. Future musicians, painters, writers and dancers. We cannot find employment for them when they grow up. Many fathers and mothers, uncles and aunts, are all worrying over this problem, as we have reason to know.

As life is a short, or long, voyage of self-expression, and one that passes over countless seas of experience (or none), that traverses the shores of the bays of hope, despair, faith, doubt, success or failure, we should not only have sound vessels well fitted for the voyage but also have knowledge of our life-chart, and know whither we are bound.

TALENTS, IN THE BUD

We each possess a possibility of being a probable potentiality, and we all are entitled to an environment in which we may expand. Cramped surroundings are not conducive to development. Every plant, in nature demands all the light it can get, all the sunshine there is, and although rain, or tears, must inevitably be the portion of some of us, they are both necessary to the formation of character and the processes of good growth.

But, having attained to some measure of growth and usefulness, it is incumbent that the plant, or the personality, has an opportunity to be of use to others in this mundane sphere, and that is why we would make a suggestion re the placing of the young and talented in the right mould to reproduce, for the benefit of others, what their home-upbringing, schooling and natural gifts entitle them to.

So, Rover and his grub-provider left the upper Gorge with regret; but we thank it for helping us to find a solution for one of the many worries and difficulties that assail some good fathers and kind mothers we are proud to know.

"When will you tell us what it is?" "Tomorrow," said I.

The Bishop of Chelmsford, Dr. H. A. Wilson, recently visited men stationed on lightships off the coast of England.
